400,000 Enemy Troops Peril Rubbled Seoul

Tokyo, Friday (AP) — Red Chinese attack waves swept to within 11 miles of Seoul today but the Allied field commander said they would be stopped north of the Han river.

The statement came from Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet on a surprise visit to the front.

The Reds have 400,000 men in the west menacing Seoul.

"I do," Van Fleet snapped in answer to a war correspondent's query on whether he believed his Eighth Army could stop the Chinese and hold north of the Han.

The Han flows along the southern fringes of Seoul.

While Van Fleet indicated he hoped to stop the Red rush short of Seoul, the statement did not necessarily mean the ruined old capital would be defended.

Seoul now is without military value. The months of Korean warfare have demonstrated that the city is almost impossible to dedenf.

The Reds in their drive southward fought into the outskirts of Uijongbu, 11 miles north of Seoul. They followed up a continuing, orderly Allied withdrawal toward a line where United Nations forces hope to stand and hold.

The Red advance is being made at a tremendous cost in manpower. Communists killed by ground artillery and air action since Sunday were officially estimated at more than 30,000.

The Allied line in the west stood just north of Uijongbu after the latest fallback on the approaches to Seoul. Chinese cavalry supported a Red infantry attack which was stopped by rearguards of the withdrawing Allied column northeast of Uijongbu.

General Van Fleet said the permanent holding line had not yet been established and that the withdrawals continued in orderly fashion.

Van Fleet dropped in unannounced at a division command post today. After being briefed, he told frontline correspondents:

"We are withdrawing in order. We are keeping units intact. We are taking a tremendous toll of the enemy while enduring minimum ourselves."

Field dispatches said the Allied forces were putting up a strong fight just north of Uijongbu.

On the central front U. N. forces abandoned the Hwachon reservoir and withdrew to the 38th parallel. Red pressure from a force of more than 100,000 was reported decreasing in the center.

On the east-central front Allied forces beat back four night attacks.

The big push was aimed toward Seoul from the north and northeast. The capital city itself, a mass of rubble from previous poundings, was written off by Allied commanders long ago as an item of any military value.

McRae Acquitted Of Slaying Wife

Palatka, Fla., (AP) — J. P. McRae, Jacksonville trucking firm head, was acquitted yesterday of slaying his wife when he found her in bed with another man last November.

He still faces a charge of killing Jacksonville Safety Commissioner Richard D. Sutton, 39, Mrs. McRae's companion in the isolated hunting cottage where the two were killed.

An all-male circuit court jury was out only 45 minutes before acquitting the 34-year-old McCrae of first degree murder in the killing of Mrs. McCrae, 33.

McRae told the jury he actually learned his wife was unfaithful only when he found her in the cottage with Sutton. But he said a nephew tipped him to her infidelity two months previously.

He said that after he found his wife and Sutton locked in a passionate embrace in the little bedroom of the cabin he remembered nothing else.

Meat Shortages Spreading; Blamed On Partway Controls

(By the Associated Press)

Meat shortages are turning up here and there across the country. Packers say they're only mild so far in some places, but worst since World War Two in others.

Mostly the shortages are blamed on "partway" price controls which have disrupted normal meat distribution.

An Associated Press survey of large dealers in 15 cities showed:

Lamb scarce almost everywhere—partly a seasonal condition before spring lambs reach market in volume.

Beef and veal supplies below normal to very tight in New York, Los Angeles, New Orleans, Charlotte, N. C., Chicago, Richmond, Boston, New Haven, Conn., and Baltimore. (The Dominican Republic information office in New York announced plans to fly 450,000 pounds of beef into the New York market in the next month because of the shortage).

Adequate supplies (except lamb) in Detroit, Atlanta, San Francisco, St. Louis, Kansas City, Dallas.

Pork and poultry apparently are in normal supply all over.

Most of the packers questioned blamed the shortages on the fact that livestock prices were allowed to go on up after the general price freeze put ceiling on meat.

They said small processors with higher ceilings were thus able to buy animals away from the big packers. This has taken meat supplies out of normal channels in many areas, forcing retailers to seek out meat from other than customary sources—and usually at higher prices. That's how black markets develop, industry spokesmen point out.

Some slaughterers and packers caught in this squeeze have been forced to reduce or suspend operations. Many are buying only enough meat to keep plants running—often at a loss. Others have sent workers on early vacations.

The situation has curtailed the low-priced meat available to many competitive stores which entered the price-freeze with low retail ceilings.

Duff One Of Ten 'Honest' Politicians

The awards, presented in Vice President Barkley's reception room in the Capitol, went to Senators Duff (R-Pa), Lehman (D-Lib-NY), Morse (R-Ore), Russell (D-Ga) and Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me), and Reps. Case (R-NJ), Jackson (D-Wash), Javits (R-NY), Mitchell (D-Wash) and Patman (D-Tex).

"Believing that government of the people, by the people and for the people flourishes in direct proportion to the integrity of the people's chosen representatives," the scrolls read, "the publishers and editors present this honor scroll in recognition of an outstanding record for honesty, independence and leadership in the 82nd Congress of the United States of America."

In presenting the scrolls, A. Lawrence Holmes, publisher of the magazine, praised the 10 for being "willing to stick their necks out" to fight for principles.

Settle Minor Points

Washington, (AP) — Senate and House conferees settled differences yesterday on a number of minor points in draft-universal military training legislation. But they didn't get around to the big isues: Compulsory military training for nearly all young men in the future, and the question of lowering the draf. age to 18 or 18½ years.

U. S. Policy In Vacuum, Gen. MacArthur Charges

Chicago (AP) — General MacArthur told a cheering crowd in Soldier field last night he will continue to fight for "a positive and realistic policy" in the Far East.

The "old soldier," speaking from a spotlighted platform in the huge lake front amphitheater, raised the question:

"What is our policy for Korea?"

He said "our losses there in ratio to men committed already have reached staggering proportions."

The "tragedy" of this, he declared, is that since the Chinese Reds joined in the fighting our policy has been in a "vacuum."

General MacArthur, ousted from his Far Eastern posts by President Truman, on April 11, made a grim, fighting address at the climax of a civic reception for him in Soldier Field.

Andy Frain, chief of the crew of ushers estimated the crowd at 50,000.

MacArthur termed the current situation "completely unrealistic."

"Although my public life now is closed," the general began, but he was interrupted by the audience.

Cries of "no, no," rolled across the field.

Mrs. MacArthur and their son Arthur shook their heads at this expression from the audience.

"It is closed," MacArthur insisted.

But, he added, he would exercise his responsibilities of citizenship.

"I shall continue," he said, "to advocate a positive and realistic policy for Korea."

He called for a policy unswerved by "political pressure from abroad," and designed to bring the Korean fighting to an honorable end with a minimum loss of American lives. He also pledged he would fight against Communism as long as God gives him strength.

MacArthur said he had tried to "keep the issue on a higher level than partisan politics."

The general's speech introduced a grave note into what had been an evening of merry celebration. Crowds estimated between 3,500,000 and 4,500,000 hailed him during a 23-mile ride through Chicago yesterday afternoon.

The throngs in the vast 100,000-seat stadium cheered him when he reached the stadium in an open car. The car slowly circled a track around the border of the grassy infield. He was showered with confetti. Sparklers glittered as he was greeted by a 17-gun salute. Before he left he was saluted again with a burst of rockets and blaze of fireworks.

There were other light moments. One of them was when the general walked up to the platform, tall and erect and trim in a trenchcoat. Mrs. MacArthur, bundled in a fur coat with a cluster of orchids on the left shoulder, already was on the rostrum. MacArthur strode over and kissed her.

Mayor Martin H. Kennelly presented a book to the general, and five-star brooch to his wife. Their son, Arthur, 13 received a model of his dad's plane, the "Bataan."

The family enjoyed a warm reception from a topcoated crowd that half-filled the stadium in 43-degree chill on the breezy lake front.

From the time MacArthur stepped smartly from his plane at Midway airport at 12:20 p.m. CST until he entered his suite in the Stevens hotel at 3:10, he was the center of the biggest and noisiest demonstration in the history of Chicago and the midwest.

Washington, (AP)—Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, 59, who was assistant chief of staff under Gen. Douglas MacArthur, is to be relieved in May, the Defense department reported last night.

Orders have been issued for General Willoughby to report to Letterman Army hospital in San Francisco, apparently for a routine physical examination.

The date of General Willoughby's departure from Tokyo, where he has been serving as intelligence officer, is to be fixed by MacArthur's successor, Lt. Gen. Matthew Ridgway.

Didn't See Each Other

Key West, Fla., (AP)—A naval board of inquiry was told yesterday that a Cuban airliner and a Navy trainer plane apparently did not see each other until just a moment before the collision which cost 46 lives. The witness was Seaman M. C. Witherington of Goldsboro, N. C.

Taft Charges HST Controls Joint Chiefs

Washington, (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) charged yesterday that the Joint Chiefs of Staff are "absolutely under control of the administration.'"

His statement was promptly challenged by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark), who called it a "dangerous doctrine" to spread.

Taft, Republican policy chief in the Senate, spoke out as the debate over Far Eastern policy and the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur roared on.

He interrupted a formal speech by Fulbright, who had said he was willing to follow the recommendations of the Joint Chiefs on military policy.

Taft said a speech by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, in Chicago last week was a foreign policy speech "written in effect, by the State department."

That, said Taft, "is the thing that has shaken my confidence" in the Joint Chiefs.

In his Chicago address, Bradley backed President Truman and said in effect that MacArthur's policies would lead to World War Three.

In taking issue with Taft, Fulbright said any idea that the Joint Chiefs are "political stooges" for the President "is a very dangerous doctrine to spread across the United States."

Fulbright said he is sure Bradley would not express views to which he did not subscribe. He added Bradley and the State department may be in agreement, and declared there is nothing wrong in that.

Earlier, Senator Wherry (R-Neb), proposed making the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's ouster a full-scale probe of administration foreign policy actions dating back to World War Two.

Symington Gains Initial Approval For RFC Office

Washington, (AP) — W. Stuart Symington, government administrator, convinced the Senate Banking committee yesterday that he's the man to take over the oft-criticized RFC.

The committee questioned him closely for two hours and then voted to approve his nomination as one-man boss of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The giant government lending agency has been under fire in Congress for months because of charges by a Senate investigating committee that it yielded to political influence in making millions of dollars worth of loans.

If the Senate approves his nomination, he will take office as administrator about the end of the month, replacing the present five-man board of directors.

HST Declines Comment On Bomb Issue

Washington (AP)—President Truman warned anew yesterday that "the Communist rulers" may cause the war in Korea to spread. If they do, he said, they must face "the awful responsibility for what may follow."

Mr. Truman said the Communists also can choose to make a peaceful settlement. The United Nations forces, he said, "will strive to limit the conflict if possible."

Seizing on the words "if possible," a reporter asked whether Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, successor to Gen. Douglas MacArthur as U.N. commander in Korea, has been given authority to bomb Red bases in Manchuria if he deems it necessary.

The President's reply: No comment.

At yesterday's news conference Mr. Truman gave Secretary of State Acheson a new vote of confidence. He denied a published report that Paul Hoffman, former Marshall plan administrator, may succeed Acheson. He said he already had a secretary with whom he was very well satisfied.

There was a flurry of questioning about MacArthur, who was fired by the President for publicly advocating stronger measures against the Chinese Reds than the administration has been willing to allow.

Mr. Truman said that MacArthur is free to say and do what he pleases; that the President won't pull any strings on him.

One newsman brought up a statement by Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's spokesman, that the general still doesn't know why he was removed.

Everybody else knows why, Mr. Truman said, thus provoking a roar of laughter.

There was more laughter when he said that while MacArthur, as a five-star general, has a lifetime Army post, and is subject to being called back for further assignments, he hasn't any job in mind for the general at present.

State Wage-Hour Measure Under Study In House

Harrisburg, (AP) — Workers in hundreds of small businesses in Pennsylvania would be affected by a proposed new minimum wage law now before the General Assembly.

The bill would establish a minimum wage level of 75 cents an hour in Pennsylvania, similar to the present Federal law.

The proposed minimum wage level would affect workers in small busineses such as laundries, stores and restaurants, who are now receiving under 75 cents an hour.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. John Mazza (R-Washington), is now under study in the House Ways and Means committee.

In addition to fixing the minimum 75-cent hourly wage scale for all workers over 21, the bill would require time-and-one-half pay for all over 40 hours a week.

The present minimum wage law in Pennsylvania provides no overall minimum wage level.

House Okays Defense Fund

Washington (AP)—The House voted an extra $6,468,206,000 for defense yesterday without questioning a single dollar of it.

The emergency military spending bill was passed by voice vote, and with no amendments, just 24 hours after the appropriations committee sent it to the House floor. It now goes to the Senate.

Most of the new money is to be spent in the next two months for a buildup in military manpower and a speedup in providing war weapons. If the Senate approves the full sum, it will bring the Armed forces' spending for the present fiscal year to around $48,500,000,000.

Man Run Over By Own Auto

Titusville, (AP) — Calvin A Wright, 70, fell out of his car yesterday trying to park it on a one-way street.

The auto ran over both of his legs and kept going in a circle. John S. Haskell, local insurance man, spotted the moving vehicle and brought it to a halt.

Wright was quite happy to learn he was unhurt. Haskell was even happier. His firm covered Wright's insurance.

Eisenhower Accused Of Interfering In Allied Political Problem During World War Two

New York, (AP)—Like General MacArthur at a later date, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was accused of interfering in a political problem—the capture of Berlin during World War Two—Gen. Omar Bradley writes in his forthcoming book.

Eisenhower messaged Prime Minister Stalin, directly, about the plan to halt the Allied armies on the Elbe river.

This message, and especially the decision, drew the wrath of Britain's fiery prime minister, Winston Churchill, Bradley says in the current installment of his book appearing in Life magazine.

"Although Churchill protested Eisenhower's radio to Moscow as an unwarranted intrusion by the military into a political problem, he reserved his angriest vituperation for the plan Eisenhower had proposed.

"The prime minister, according to Eisenhower, was 'greatly disappointed and disturbed' that SHAEF had not reinforced (British Gen. Sir Bernard) Montgomery with American troops and pointed him toward Berlin in a desperate effort to capture that city before the Russians took it," Bradley writes.

The decision to stop at the Elbe, rather than to drive on into Berlin, was taken to avoid casualties, and to minimize the risk of an accidental collision between the Allied armies, moving east, and the Russians, coming across Germany toward the west.

Bradley says Eisenhower asked him what the drive might cost, and that he estimated 100,000 casualties.

"A pretty stiff price to pay for a prestige objective," I said, "especially when we've got to fall back and let the other fellow take over."

Even in the earliest contacts with the Soviet forces, in 1945, the Russians were suspicious and secretive, Bradley reports.

In one instance, he says a Soviet division was opposite an American division. The Soviet commander asked an American general whether "your people are digging in opposite us." In some surprise, the American officer replied that they were not, that they considered the Russians as Allies.

The Red general then ordered his men to stop digging in, too.

Bradley says he personally showed a Russian field marshal the disposition of the American divisions wher the armies finally met. The marshal, he writes, was extremely startled.

The fourth and concluding installment of the book, "A Soldier's Story," recounts the movements during the Battle of the Bulge and the row over the allocation of command of some American forces to Montgomery.

Bradley says that both he and the late Gen. George Patton, were prepared to resign if they were ordered to continue under Montgomery after the bulge fighting ended.

Higher Taxes, 'Fair' Price Ceilings Asked

Washington (AP)—President Truman urged Congress yesterday to "hold the line" in the cost of living battle, to provide "fair ceilings on prices, including the price of farm products, and on rents."

He called too for increased taxes, increased personal savings, tighter controls over credit and materials and leveling off of wages and salaries at "fair" figures.

"This is an anti-inflation program that will work," he said in a message asking Congress to change and extend the defense production act for two years beyond June 30.

He said the need was urgent, that "inflationary pressures, which are serious now, will be critical" next fall and winter when "the economy will be hit by the full impact of military production."

In another note of urgency, he said he hopes the country will be "over the hump" of its defense mobilization in about two years from now if world war is avoided, but:

"The world situation could explode at any time, and we must make every day count."

Mr. Truman's plans for action on farm prices drew instant opposition from Agriculture committeemen in Congress. In brief, he asked that:

One—Parity prices—theoretical farm prices which under the law are declared fair to farmers and consumers—be figured out once a year. Then, for price control purposes, the figures would be frozen for the rest of the year, instead of fluctuating monthly as now.

Two—That the government be permitted to set price ceilings on most farm products at parity. He would retain a provision in present law which says that in the case of a number of products (including beef cattle, veal calves, sheep, lambs, wool and mohair), ceilings must be set above parity. None of these could be frozen below prices prevailing during the month before the Korean war started.

Mr. Truman did not claim that this would cut the housewife's present grocery bill. Instead its purposes is to slow down any future increases.

There was no sign of any intention to order any substantial rollback in those farm prices which are now above parity. Cotton price ceilings, for example, are now set far above parity to encourage production and there was no expectation that they would be cut.

Mr. Truman suggested, in case his plan doesn't work, that Congress consider subsidies to farmers, such as were used in the last war to keep farm income up and consumer prices down.

He emphasized that to combat inflation all the people must pitch in and help.

"It is obvious," he said in discussing wages and prices, "that workers will have to forego substantial increases in wages which would be permissible if the dangers of inflation were not so great — just as businessmen and farmers will have to forego substantial increases in income for the same reason."

"Our simple, central goal must be to bring the rise in prices and the cost of living to a halt—and hold the line," he said, offering a five-point program:

"One—Most important of all, we must increase taxes quickly and adequately. (He said this means, at least, enactment of the $10,000,000,000 new tax bill pending in Congress.)

"Two—We must increase personal savings—dollars saved now are subtracted from the buying power pushing prices upward, and will be available later when more consumer goods will be produced.

"Three—We must reduce borrowing and buying on credit for non-defense purposes — by consumers and business men — since borrowed money adds to the pressure on prices.

"Four—We must have fair ceilings on prices, including the prices of farm products, and on rents, in order to stabilize the cost of living during the defense period, to hold down the cost of the defense program to the taxpayers, and to prevent profiteering.

"Five—We must stabilize wages and salaries at fair levels, to restrain excessive consumer demand and to prevent rising business costs from forcing price increases."

Mr. Truman also proposed that the government be empowered to build defense plants itself, if necessary. He suggested, too, that it be allowed to subsidize high cost producers where needed to get vital production without increasing price ceilings.

He further called for "stronger means to enforce price control regulations" and said "it is obvious that controls over materials will have to become tighter and tighter as more and more of them will be diverted to defense production."

Business News In Monroe Area

A survey conducted among Pocono Mountains resorts indicates that although summer rates for 1951 average slightly higher than last year, figures show that rates increased only three to five per cent. Most operators raised rates to offset correspondingly higher labor and provision prices.

Operators reported their costs have risen 25 to 35 per cent. Linen and laundry services, provisions, and labor have all contributed to this general price rise. Rates this year range from $5.50 a day for singles to $16 a day for single first class accommodations.

Optimistic notes are contained in reports that prospects are good-to-better than 1950 on reservations.

Edward C. Jenkins, president of Vacation Bureau reflects this optimism with a statement that "Summer business in the Poconos should be from 15 to 20 per cent ahead of last year in guest volume and seven to 15 per cent ahead in net profits for the 201 members of vacation bureau."

U. S. Department of Labor reported yesterday union scales of Scranton building trades workers rose 1.7 percent during the first quarter of 1951, as compared to an advance of .08 per cent in the country as a whole. These findings are based on a quarterly survey of seven major building trades in 85 cities. . . .

PP & L Co. said yesterday earnings after all charges accruing to common stock for 12 months ended March 31 were $9,124,740, equivalent to $2.41 per share of common stock outstanding at such date.

Operating revenues for the first three months ending March 31 were $21,643,510, an increase of 11.3 per cent over last year's corresponding period.

Local Chiropodists are expected to attend the Atlantic City, N. J. Scientific Program of region three, National Association of Chiropodists, sponsored by the affiliated State Chiropody Societies of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

Dr. J. E. Arnold and Dr. William C. Kopenhaver are members of the Pennsylvania Society and will attend the sessions May 11, 12 and 13. A record display of 80 technical exhibits, largest in the history of chiropody conventions, will be arranged.

Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, covering Monroe County region, said yesterday department store sales for March continued to show a gain over a year ago. After special allowance for an earlier Easter this year, sales for the Third Reserve District were eight per cent above 1950, but below the previous month.

Preliminary sales figures indicate that activity varied among the major departments. Sales of piece goods and household textiles, and housefurnishings were under a year ago while small wares registered no change. Although apparel and accessories lines showed increases, their response to the earlier date of Easter was not as great as might have been expected.

Department stores continued to carry larger inventories in March, the bank said.

Three hundred and forty employes of Philadelphia Sales Division, Philadelphia Refinery, and the Refinery Technology Laboratory, of the Gulf Oil Corporation have been awarded diamond and ruby service award buttons for periods of service ranging from ten to 35 years.

H. A. Gidney, Gulf executive vice president, paying tribute to employees, said the company had attained its highest evaluation in history with total assets of approximately one and a third billion dollars. That figure represents an investment of $25,600 for each employee.

The average U. S. farm had a net income of about $350 in 1900 and this grew to $2,225 in 1950.

Experts Devise 'Oldish' Effect

Paint authorities have now devised a way to obtain an old and weatherbeaten effect on new knotty pine woodwork.

To secure the effect, paint experts advise, first sponge the surface with a fairly strong solution of ammonia or soda. If a dark finish is preferred, make a stain of raw umber thinned with turpentine and add enough varnish to bind it. Prepared varnish stains are also available for this purpose. A thin coat of reduced shellac or dull varnish may then be applied, followed by a coating of wax.

Lions Book King Circus

The local Lions club has announced the booking for this territory under Lions sponsorship of the King Brothers three ring circus, which will perform afternoon and night on Thursday, June 14. The show will be given at the old Stroud baseball park, East Stroudsburg.

King Brothers show is ranked about third in size among the great circuses of the world at present. A super attraction to be presented here is found in the herd of 15 elephants which will be shown in the animal tent and parade through the streets of the twin boroughs on circus day.

The size of the elephant herd is regarded as a good test of the size of the show. "Old John," one of the largest elephants in captivity, and the star of the King Brothers' herd of pachyderms is said to be 105 years old. The famous equestrians, the Christiani family, now part owners in the King Brothers show, will perform here.

Advance man Paul Forrester of the circus was here last week and conferred with officials of the Lions club, including the board of directors and the extra-curricular activities committee at the office of Jack Kitchen, Stroudsburg tax-collector on Sixth St.

Part of the contract with the local club provides against any gambling game or so-called gaming attraction anywhere on the show grounds.

Adoption Bill Hearings

Monroe County's Children's Aid Society, through Mrs. Frank L. Patterson and its affiliation with the State Society, has taken a stand on bills in the Senate which, if enacted, would revise the child adoption program of the Commonwealth.

Mrs. Patterson, a local society board member, is also a member of the board of directors of the State Society.

Crux of the position adopted welcomes action on the measures, but strongly suggests they be amended to extend and strengthen local agencies in all counties of the Commonwealth not only in connection with adoption, but in the entire Child Welfare field.

Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania directors last Friday voted unanimously to endorse the adoption bills with the following amendments:

That the state shall help localities build up their own adoption programs rather than set up an adoption service on a state-wide basis.

That the provision requiring an agency to place a child in the home designated by the own parent be taken out. In suggesting that this provision be removed, "we in no way wish to detract from parents' rights, but rather to reaffirm our belief in parents' basic rights and responsibilities in caring for and planning for their children," director maintained.

The need for sound legislation on adoption procedures has been widely recognized and acclaimed. Children's Aid Society proposal to localize the adoption service program is sound.

As a result of various pressures, for and against the measure, a sub-committee composed of Senators A. Evans Kephart, Dent and McPherson, was set up to find a common base of agreement and report its findings to the full committee headed by Mr. Kephart.

We maintain this sub-committee must call in groups and individuals interested in and informed about adoptions, so that a more complete backdrop of experience, opinion and knowledge would be available.

It would be a serious mistake to avoid a public hearing. The bills need an airing—to have them bottled up and quietly put to permanent rest without an opportunity for the concerned public to state its views and convictions on them, would not be in the public interest.

Senator A. Evans Kephart may be helped in arriving at such a conclusion if enough of the public informs him of its concern.

It Wouldn't Be Fair, Either

Two members of the House of Representatives at Harrisburg have just introduced a bill to outlaw the sale of artificially-colored butter.

Butter, at some seasons of the year, requires artificial coloring to make it yellow.

The new bill was introduced by two legislators from Delaware County, James N. Robertson and Robert J. Clendening.

This bill will be looked on as ridiculous, inane, asinine, discriminatory and silly by most people. Prohibit the coloring of butter, indeed!

And none will scoff more than people in the butter industry.

Mr. Robertson and Mr. Clendening say frankly they have no hope of getting their bill out of the House Agriculture Committee.

But this is the same committee which has bottled up bills to repeal a law—now actually on the books—which prohibits the artificial coloring of margarine.

Mr. Robertson and Mr. Clendening doubtless had their tongues in their cheeks when they introduced their bill.

Yet this bill is no more ridiculous, inane, asinine, discriminatory and silly than the no-color-margarine law which the House Agriculture Committee refuses to repeal.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Norman Rockwell, backing up his assertion that Vermonters have not lost their skill at horse-trading, tells about the Arlington feed merchant who thought he practically was stealing a roan mare from Squire Busby. Busby pocketed the money with the comment, "Reason I'm selling her is she just dont' look so good." "Looks fine to me," chuckled the feed merchant—but the next morning he was back hollering bloody murder.

"That mare you sold me is practically blind," he charged. "Sure is," agreed the squire. "I TOLD you she didn't look so good."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — Alan Ladd is a tough postal inspector in "Appointment with Danger." The crooks are planning a big mail robbery and, to catch 'em, he pretends to be a robber himself and muscles in on their scheme.

What got him into this mess was the strangulation murder of a fellow mail sleuth. On their trail, he becomes acquainted with a Catholic nun, the only person who can identify the killers. For suspense-heightening effect she's present and in deadly peril at the big climatic battle with fists and bullets.

All these are fairly standard Ladd heroics, more suspenseful than average, perhaps, in scenes showing the planning and execution of the stickup. Events promise a time or two to work up into the jewel-burglary in "The Asphalt Jungle" but never quite make it.

Ladd supposedly undergoes a slight spiritual awakening through his acquaintance with the nun, pleasantly played by Britain's Phyllis Calvert. "I have my guardian angel," she tells him confidently when danger looms. "So have I," he replies, patting the automatic under his belt. His admiration of her spiritual armor doesn't seem sufficient to send him to church next Sunday morning.

Exposing the beautiful Ladd body, usually in a swimming scene, is an apparent must for his pictures. This time it's accomplished on a handball court.

The assorted baddies are played competently by Paul Stewart, Jack Webb, and Henry Morgan, among others. Jan Sterling plays Stewart's moll with indolent airs remindful of "Born Yesterday's" Billie Dawn. After all, she portrayed that blonde keptee on the Chicago stage and followed Judy Holliday into the role on Broadway.

The company spent two weeks on location in Gary, Ind., and around Chicago.

"The Fat Man" introduces that radio detective (J. Scott Smart) to the screen in a rambling murder mystery. Emmett Kelly, long a clown star for Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey, also makes a film debut—as a clown. Slack-mouther Clinton Sundberg plays the sleuth's stooge-assistant. Some of the dialogue is dreary, and the Fat Man has an annoying habit of addressing women he has just met as "Sweetheart."

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Worry About Words

William I. Nichols, editor of "This Week" Magazine wants a new word for "Capitalism". The assumption is that words really matter. Call "Capitalism" or "Communism" or "Socialism" by any other name and nothing has been changed. It is like switching from "new deal" to "fair deal." What real change occurred?

Nichols says in his article that propagandists are able to make a good case against Communism, but, when it comes to capitalism, he quotes a top offial of "Our Overseas Information Program" as saying:

"But it's nowhere near as easy to make the good side of our society plain by using the word capitalism. That's important. We need a word to make people realize that the real source of hope, progress and prosperity rests with us."

According to Nichols, American business leaders say:

"We only muddle our own thinking when we use old words to describe new ideals."

I wonder whether it is true that we are dealing with new ideas or old words. The word "Capitalism" is comparatively new—just a century old, but the idea has been eternal in the human race, namely, that an individual is entitled to the use of his earnings from whatever source, to spend, to invest, to create new wealth, or to give away.

Capitalism functions best when the surplus over the cost of living is invested in the creation of additional wealth. Thus, the savings of millions of human beings have gone into the development of privately owned farms, factories, mills, mines, stores, and into the invention of new devices, commodities, and services.

This is the general nature of Capitalism, the most usual process of economics throughout history. Capitalism, however, must be associated with human freedom. Limitations of human freedom can only be sanctioned and implemented by government. When government abolishes freedom, despotism, autocracy, slavery, serfdom comes into existence. Also the private ownership of wealth disappears.

When the means of production, distribution, and exchange are owned by the government, the freedoms of the individual are limited. If they cease to exist altogether, a socialized state arises in which slavery may be normal.

Socialists dislike the statement that their advocacy of government ownership by democratic prosesses can only lead to government ownership by tyranny. But this has proved to be true in many countries of Europe. No matter how a so-called people's government starts, it becomes in time a Communist government.

Human freedom is a delicate system which requires the most careful balance between rights and responsibilities, between authority and obligation. Once this balance is upset, freedom diminishes and even disappears and in its place appears increasing state control, management and sometimes ownership of the economic process. The reaction to that may be revolution.

Therefore, the problem which Mr. Nichols poses has nothing to do with what word is used to describe capitalism, but what vigilance is employed to protect freedom. For capitalism is only a manifestation of freedom, one of many manifestations of freedom.

The problem then is freedom, that is, the right of the individual to live his own life in liberty as a characteristic of humanity... A characteristic produced by no philosopher or tyrant or ruler, nor even by a constitution or parliament or congress, but by "Nature's God and Nature's law." In a word, freedom derives from natural law, that is, from God's revelation to man.

In the effort that is being made by our State Deparement and the Voice of America and similar activities to "capture" the minds of men, it is not so much that new words need to be used as that old ideas have to be reiterated. Mr. Nichols says:

"...We know what our 'new capitalism' is producing for us and what it can produce anywhere if given a fair chance..."

But there is no new capitalism or old capitalism. There is only a life in which the individual is free to choose his way and form his pattern and there is a life in which the government masters the human being and holds him as a creature who exists for the state alone.

Either that is our story or we have none to tell, for if by the new capitalism is meant such an item as "unemployment has been reduced and controlled and is now a diminishing problem," it actually means nothing, because in Soviet Russia there is no unemployment but there is slavery. We have to deal with fundamentals if we are to make our problems understandable.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — Administration leaders in the House of Representatives recently backed away from handing 2,000,000 tons of wheat to India as a gift. They've never been smarter.

House members were ready to toss the request for free wheat for India right back in the teeth of President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson. That was why Messrs. Truman and Acheson finally decided it might be better to "loan" India the money to buy the wheat. That was what the Indians had asked for originally, but the T-A team, in a typical display of open-handedness with the American taxpayers' money, decided it would be a nicer gesture just to give it to them.

Democratic congressional leaders are hopeful that we'll now forget all the fuss there has been about the proposition heretofore, and also forget just what kind of guys Indian Prime Minister Nehru and his playmates really are.

Secretary Acheson, of course, gave House leaders their marching orders about Nehru in recent testimony before a House committee. He wept on congressional shoulders about the starving Indians and the need for keeping Nehru's friendship.

I don't know about all the starvation, but nobody needs be in doubt about where Nehru stands. He keeps on rubbing the back of a character in China known as Mao Tse-Tung, boss man of the Communists there.

Anyway the issue of free or "loan" wheat for India is academic. India can and is buying huge quantities of American wheat and other grains. I took the trouble to survey west coast shipping ports to find out just how much is being shipped on American and foreign bottoms. It's quite a heap.

The Commodity Credit Corporation is coordinating wheat shipments to India. For March, April, and May the CCC has scheduled ships to carry 900,000 tons of grains to India. Nehru is handing over cash at the rate of $2.37 cents a bushel, including shipping charges. And he hasn't made a beef as yet about the quality, quantity or price.

The Indian government has a lot of fat and wealthy princes cluttering up the area who could be tapped for a load of cash to feed the starving home folks if such is the case.

Actually it was only a short time ago that Nehru was in the U. S. tossing his weight around. He said then:

"We are too proud and confident of our convictions to accept favors from others. We shall make good in spite of everybody."

Those are nice sentiments and I'm for them. But 2,000,000 tons of wheat, free or "loaned," is quite a favor for a man who doesn't want to accept any favors. Maybe he meant to say, "or at least not many."

Naturally we all want India to make good, whatever that means. There is one thing the Orient is in need of, and that is a husky, energetic nation with a capitalistic outlook. If that's how Nehru wants to make good, we can all admire him. But does he?

Over in Communist China, across the border, Nehru has a busy Indian ambassador, named Kavalam Panikka. This character can't keep quiet. During the big hassle when Nehru was trying to sell us on the theory of peace and patience toward the Communists who were killing our troops, (naturally with state department blessing), Panikka was palling around with Mao Tse-Tung. He staged a huge cocktail party in Peiping in honor of the first anniversary of the Republic of India. Mao was his chief guest. When things got convivial, Panikka, according to intelligence reports in U. S. hands, got up and unloaded. Here is what he said about Mao, boss man in the war against us:

Walter Winchell on Broadway

Winchell

Never A Dull Moment Dep't

The following letter is from a big newspaper publisher, who marked it personal, so his identity is omitted: "Dear W. W.: I have just read with interest your INS interview with Frank Costello and his argument in favor of legalized gambling. Having been raised in a Deep South city, I lived with the gambling problem for a long time, and just for the fun of it I want to get my nickel's worth to you.

"I think the best approach to the subject is by way of the analogy of houses of prostitution. It used to be very fashionable for 'advanced thinkers' to argue that prostitution could never be legislated away, that it was hypocritical to argue that it could, and that the 'progressive' course was to openly legalize the houses. Along came a wonderful doctor and public servant named Tom Parran, whom FDR picked to head the Public Health Service. Instead of looking into theoretical arguments, Parran started looking into the facts. He found a small percentage of men are going to find sources of prostitution despite any difficulties.

"I think 'wide open' gambling —whether legalized or just tacitly approved by the community—has almost the same effect. That is, it greatly expands the number of people who will gamble, and thus it greatly increases the two major social harms: (1) gambling losses by people who cannot afford them leading to increased embezzlement, etc., and general family tragedies; (2) increased profits to people in control of gambling and thus providing larger and larger funds for the corruption of Government.

"Finally, to use another analogy, it all seems to be about the same as the problem of running a kitchen. There is no magical single thing that will keep out the cockroaches forever. If you have a well-run kitchen, you keep them down to an endurable minority, and when you get slack in your kitchen work the cockroaches increase. I never heard anyone contend that we ought to legalize cockroaches just because there will always be some, and so with gambling I think we have to realize that there will always be occasions that require cleaning up the joint. Sincerely."

It seems to me the major problem is not gambling but the corruption of public officials. My view is that legalized gambling means regulating it; hence there needn't be a licensed gambling place on every block. A few legalized places would make it even more difficult to place a bet than now. Further, under legal regulation, the use of the telephone would be forbidden.

Actually, however, the placing of an occasional $2 bet is the source of genuine enjoyment for many citizens. I seem to recall, for example, that General Omar Bradley was quoted recently as saying a small bet on a horse gave him far more enjoyment than going to the theatre. I agree. I think this comes under the head of legitimate entertainment.

For a book I'll Prob'ly Never Get Around to Doing for Simon & Schuster, who contracted for it in 1927: From the Cincy Enquirer: "Winchell was irked and probably still is by an editorial in this paper on Jan. 24th, 1948, which we quote in part: "The radio shoutings of Walter Winchell have had us at the verge of war with Russia almost every Sunday night for the last two years. And if war should come, it would be quite possible that his constant poisoning at the well of public opinion would have at least some small part in the precipitation of the conflict" . . . Our editorial questioned his competence in matters of foreign policy."

Don't look now, boss, but in 1951 your incompetence is showing.

From the Press section in the current Time: "W. W. last week needled the Cincinnati Enquirer for disagreeing with him three years ago and warned it against cutting his columns. Snapped managing editor Boyd: 'We'll cut him or drop him any time we want to. We're still running the Enquirer. We've cut Pegler, too, and he got mad at us. But he got over his mad. Winchell didn't.'"

Ah ain't mad at nobody, boss. Ah just enjoys last laffs.

From the Miami Herald April 25: "About 10 days ago Mr. W. called The Herald to say he had a copy of a letter from a Mr. Slaughter, such as the one he quoted in his column. He said he had not seen it in The Herald and hoped the paper wouldn't use it because he intended to blast The Herald for printing only letters agreeing with The Herald's editorial views. The mail was watched carefully, but no such letter could be found. He was invited to let The Herald have a copy and told it would be printed.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

While I am not a drinking man and thoroughly disapprove of drunkenness, I do take an occasional cocktail, a glass of wine or a bit of beer.

I do so on my doctor's orders. He quoted a famous physician whose name I forgot, "Anybody who drinks before he is forty is a fool, and anybody who does not drink in moderation after he is forty is a fool."

However, I can take it or leave it, and some times go for a week or more without a drop of liquor.

(I know that all this is going to make me many enemies, among the dries, but if I can have friends only by being insincere, I don't want them.)

The only time I really crave a drink is when I am in a dry state, such as this where I am writing this piece right now.

It is a beautiful State—unquestionably one of the most beautiful ones in the country—North Carolina.

Right before my eyes are the Blue Ridge Mountains. I can almost touch them.

Last evening I saw a sunset that I shall never forget.

But I was tired last evening, dead tired. Winding around these mountains and their hair-pin turns for a couple of hours, after dodging trucks that come down those curves at fifty miles an hour, you do feel all in.

If I had been in New York State or Connecticut or California, I might have had a couple of glasses of cold water and a shower and felt refreshed.

But North Carolina is a DRY state—and who wants water in a dry state when he is tired?

Oh, I could have had a glass of beer or a glass of wine—but that isn't what you want when you are tired. That isn't what my doctor meant.

One of the things I couldn't quite understand was why I had seen so many drunken people in this dry state—so many more than you see in a wet one.

Another thing that seemed strange was that so many folks carried big brown bags that apparently held bottles.

Still something else that puzzled me was all the broken glass on the roads and all the empty bottles littering the streets and the parks.

So I did a little investigating. I found that they have an awful lot of traffic accidents in North Carolina.

In this northernmost part of the state alone the State Police reported 342 accidents in which six persons were killed and 184 injured.

They arrested 191 persons on drunken driving charges, and who knows how many drunken drivers were not discovered and arrested?

In Asheville Police Court yesterday fourteen persons were tried and fined or sent to jail for drunken driving and more than a half dozen others for other misdemeanors connected with violation of the liquor laws.

Prohibition was a horrible example of what happens when unenforceable laws are being enacted.

It seems to me that we should have learned our lesson.

I doubt that Eve would have eaten that apple if there had not been a law against apple-eating.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

To The Editors and Publishers!

Twelve hundred newspaper editors and publishers from all over the country are winding up a convention in New York. No group of men do more for less. A publisher is a magnet for complaints, a setup for kibitzers and an all-year target for inappreciation. He takes one of the most complicated jobs in the field of public service with nothing guaranteed him except high blood pressure, an early nervous breakdown and a nonstop supply of sleepless nights.

A newspaper publisher is a living refutation of the theory that head helmets, nose guards and shin guards are required only in football. His life journey is a trip through a concrete mixer billed as a pleasure cruise.

There are a thousand businesses and professions offering greater profit for less effort, fewer worries, better hours and a lower proportion of nightmares.

He is a producer, a stage director, a script writer and a backer of the only show on earth produced once every twenty-four hours with no two productions alike. If he hears any applause he is lucky. If he gets an Oscar he is a beneficiary of a rare break. He is a fellow congenitally indifferent to rough going and never so happy as when up against a fresh crisis.

He could get the same bruises playing pro hockey but prefers to get his abrasions on a harder schedule.

An editor is a public benefactor who does it the hard way.

He is a combined crusader, educator, entertainment genius, recorder of events, referee, judge, sleuth, interpreter, showman, guide and information bureau wizard. He is the only death-defying aerial acrobat outside the circus who insists upon working without a net. He is a lifeguard who works under water and likes to prove he can breathe without coming up for air.

An editor is a teacher to whom nobody brings red apples, an information booth director who doesn't take the usual time off for lunch, a bus driver who not only takes fares, issues transfers, drives the vehicle and answers foolish questions, but furnishes laughs and tears, and is always accurate with the weather forecasts.

His job is to provide a three-ring circus, a public forum, a health service and a super educational program, still giving the ball scores and keeping the births, marriages and deaths up to the minute.

He seldom gets a cheer for conducting a great battle in the public interest, but always can count on being denounced if he has the age wrong in an obituary.

Whatever he does today is gone with the wind; what he does tomorrow keeps him tossing all night tonight.

He is a man who thinks he is having a respite if the barrel in which he goes over the falls is halted for 20 seconds by hitting a protruding rock.

An editor is a guy who has to amuse and fascinate pop and mom without boring junior or the hired gal.

He is a man who thinks he is slipping unless he needs sleeping pills every night, and is sure something is wrong with him if he stops feeling tense.

We salute both the publishers and the editors in solemn conclave. We hope they enjoy themselves, look both ways before crossing Manhattan traffic and get good seats to the hit musicals. And we shall always think they are in the only profession where bumpers front and rear should be compulsory equipment. Selah!

Okay, Here!

My home-grown crops don't bother me—
On them I never sup;
A feeble gardener, I praise
The things that don't come up!

We hear that Milton Berle has disowned the racehorse Uncle Miltie declaring, "Why did they have to pick on me? Why didn't they name the skinner after Jessel, Wynn, Godfrey or Cantor?"

Labor Minister Bevan of Britain quit over the proposal to cease government gifts of eyeglasses and dentures to the people. He and Attlee don't see eye to tooth on this matter.

We will reserve the final accolade to General MacArthur as a flawless strategist and leader until we ascertain how long it takes him to find the right elevator at the Waldorf.

"Despite its musical play form, 'A Tree Grows in Brooklyn' is a listless affair except when director Abbott stirs up the whole company."—Otis L. Guernsey, Jr. . . . "It is a darlin' show. The songs are grand."—Brooks Atkinson . . . "There didn't seem to be a truly distinguished new tune or lyric."—John McClain. Why dramatic review readers go mad.

Construction Of Last Link Of Route 90 Project Begins Soon

Detour Will Be In Force During Work

Paradise Valley — A 250-foot section of concrete stretching under the Lackawanna Railroad here, the last link in the 2.83- miles two-lane 22-foot road extending south from Mount Pocono, will come under construction early next week. During the time work is in process, a detour will again be in force.

Section where the work will be prosecuted is part of an underpass extending under the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company's tracks on the south side of the old Smith's Crossing on the old Paradise Valley road to Mount Pocono.

A power shovel assigned to the project was scheduled to be on the project yesterday, but was delayed. It may be here by noon today. Once this equipment arrives, work will be pushed on preparation of the 250-foot section. No traffic will be permitted to negotiate the underpass during period of construction on the twin-strip highway north and south of the underpass.

A "high-early" cement will be used when concrete is poured on the strip. Curing time will be cut from the usual ten days to three or four days, permitting traffic to move over the section from six to seven days sooner than normal.

F. D. Kessler, Northampton, Pa. contractor, has completed all but this short section of the 2.83-mile road. The 22-foot road has ten-foot shoulders along sections where "fills" have been made and eight-foot sections where "cuts" were made to create a right-of-way.

Extensive re-location and the underpass have eleminited a grade crossing across Lackawanna Railroad tracks, eased grades and curves.

One of the interesting features of treatment of curves has been construction of the first spiral curves on a highway in Monroe county.

Actually, the spiral curve is a compound curve. There is a small curve leading into the major curve and a small curve leading out of the major curve. All curves are super-elevated, or "banked" to permit negotiation at higher speeds with higher safety factors.

Guard rails have been installed along practically the entire route. The short sections to be placed are expected to be placed by Monday. Crews installing guard rails are working seven days a week.

Schools Of Two Boroughs Share Top Prizes In Junior, Senior Divisions Of Science Fair

An East Stroudsburg Junior High school student for the second year in succession captured the junior division's grand prize in the Northeastern Pennsylvania Science fair, now under way at the East Stroudsburg American Legion home.

In the senior division, a Stroudsburg High school student won grand prize.

Respective winners in the two divisions, both of whom received a $30 grand prize, were Sylvia Younkin, East Stroudsburg Junior High school, and Paul Dornbos, Stroudsburg High school.

During last year's fair Charles Gross took grand prize honors in the junior division. At that time he was a ninth grade student at the junior High school. His winning exhibit was a working example of the human circulatory system which he had constructed from plastic.

In the departmental competition Miss Younkin also won first place in the junior division of physics with her exhibit called "Tin Can Planetarium."

Paul Dornbos captured first place in the senior chemistry division with his display of how sulphuric acid is manufactured for commercial use.

In the senior division, Stroudsburg High school took two first place honors, three seconds, three thirds and a grand prize for a total of $74 in prize money.

Liberty High school, Bethlehem, took two firsts in the senior division for a total of $20 in prize money.

Pocono Township High school entrants won one second place and one third, for a total of $8 in prize money.

In the junior division, East Stroudsburg Junior High school entrants won three first, two seconds, one third and a grand prize money total of $73.

Barrett Township school took one first in the junior division, two seconds, three thirds for a prize money total of $29.

Prize winners and their exhibits in each of the science divisions were:

Biology, senior division — first, William Bender, honey bees; second, James Ifft and David Pyle, insects of Monroe county, Stroudsburg High school; third, Jane Bowman, poisonous snakes, Pocono Township school.

Biology, junior division — first, Willard Butz, a model to show lung expansion and contraction; second, Sandra Secor, hypone plant culture; third, Suzanne Dimmick, cancer and man, all of East Stroudsburg Junior High school.

Chemistry, senior division—first, Paul Dornbos, contact process for H_2SO_4; second, Renee Johnson, and Zandra Lee, titrating for vitamin C; third, Kathryn Hickey, "Is Milk the Perfect Food?", all of Stroudsburg High school.

Chemistry, junior division—first, Grace Mertens, plastic demonstration, East Stroudsburg Junior High school; second, Edward Heckman, the manufacture of gun cotton, Barrett Township school; third, George B. Nauman, reservoir system, Barrett.

Engineering, senior division — first, Robert Tinsman, Liberty High school, a working model of the electric eye; second, William Schmidt, "My Dream House"; third, Neldon N. Remey, model home, both of Stroudsburg High school.

Engineering, junior division — first, Graham Andoe, model wind tunnel, Barrett; second, Claude Schaller, section of Delaware Water Gap, East Stroudsburg Junior High school; third, Richard Williams and Joey Wilson, burglar alarm, Barrett.

Physics, Senior division—first, Charles Troutman Jr., gyroscopic motion, Liberty High school; second, Robert Cyphers, AC-DC inter communication system, Pocono Township school; third, Jack Harmon and Neldon Remey, static electricity machine, Stroudsburg High school.

Physics, junior division — first, Sylvia Younkin, tin can planetarium, East Stroudsburg Junior High school; second, Nancy Heydt and Cathleen DePue, phases of the moon, Barrett; third, Robert Triola, sky wonder, Barrett.

Dr. W. G. Moore, head of the State Teachers College science department, was chairman of the judges. Serving as judges in each division were:

Biology—Dr. Claude W. Leister, owner of Pocono Wild Animal Farm; Dr. W. N. Martin, instructor in biology, State Teachers College; Robert W. Cassler, assistant bacteriologist, National Drug Co.

Chemistry—Dr. G. Raymond Hood, Dr. C. C. Dobbs, instructors in chemistry, State Teachers College; Arthur M. Slee, executive director, Pocono Biological Laboratories.

Engineering—A. M. Trogner, chief engineer, Line Material Co; Ralph W. Speiser, chief engineer, Worthington Mower Co; Adolf Rake, architect and contractor.

Physics—Dr. George Gessner, instructor in physics, State Teachers College; Dr. Elton J. Dening, Dr. L. E. Ace, dentists.

Tellers for the fair, which will be open today from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 1 to 9 p.m., were Dr. Jonas T. May and Edward E. Bosman.

Escapee Tells Of Red Aims

Bangor — Members of Bangor Kiwanis club last night learned some "Facts From Behind the Iron Curtain."

Guest speaker at their meeting was Joseph Raynoha, a man who six months ago escaped from a Russian concentration camp in the Ukraine Valley.

His talk last night was the first speech he has made since gaining the sanctuary of America. He is now employed by the General Aniline Co., Easton.

Raynoha, who is a graduate of the University of Gretz, claimed the people who work in the Ukraine Valley—"the breadbasket of Europe"—are subject to months of imprisonment for such minute infractions as being five minutes late for work.

He declared Russia is preparing for World War Three and the radio propaganda constantly tells the people the move is only to "protect" Russia from capitalist countries.

Raynoha asserted that in the event of a third world war, the Ukraine would be sympathetic towards the U. S.

He was introduced by Dr. James Brusie, a division head at General Aniline Co. Dr. Brusie acted as program chairman.

Eight club members were honored for perfect attendance during 1950. They are Rev. S. H. Hamm, Joe Reagle, Kenneth Masters, Abe Obertoltzer, William Scott, Harry Deshler, Ernest Turtzo and David Stoddard.

A total of 33 members attended the meeting. Rev. Hamm delivered the invocation, Kenneth Masters served as song leader, accompanied by James Drury at the piano.

Clerk Of State Senate Expires

Blossburg (AP)—William J. Ridge, 59, chief clerk of the Pennsylvania Senate, died last night at the Blossburg State hospital.

The Senate officer was admitted to the hospital two weeks ago. His brother, Ray Ridge, of Detroit, Mich., said the illness was believed to be high blood pressure.

Ridge held his capital position for the past 12 years.

A life-long resident of Tioga county, Ridge was an important Republican leader in northern Pennsylvania for many years. He was a close business associate of G. Mason Owlett, Pennsylvania GOP national committeeman and president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers association. He lived at Covington, Tioga county.

Tannersville

Mrs. William Clugston
Telephone 2004-R-3

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meyer, of Brooklyn, spent the weekeend at their summer home on the Cranberry Road, visiting friends and neighbors while in the section.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Shook, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Besecker, Marjorie Besecker and John Allegar, visited Mary Hendricks at St. Luke's hospital, presenting her with a quilted loungin' robe from friends at St. Paul's Church, Bethlehem, Pa., on a recent Sunday, as well as a cash gift. While recuperating from her attack of polio, Mary has been fashioning costume jewelry, braiding belts, and making other articles for sale to friends, which are most attractive and help her while away the tedious hours of recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Grace Hallet and Mrs. William Clugston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller on Saturday evening, the 21st, the occasion being a belated birthday observance of Mrs. Clugston.

Verdon Frailey, of Bartonsville, called on A. H. Raish on Friday evening of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Linford Rickerts, of Perkasie, spent the week end with Mrs. Rickert's parents, the Harry DeHavens, at Scotrun.

Wm. Raish, Ft. Dix, N. J., was home over the weekend, when he renewed acquaintances, visited friends and was in his regular place in the Methodist Sunday School on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Horace Werkheiser, of Elmhurst, and Mrs. B. H. Granacher called on A. H. Raish on Sunday morning, at the home of his daughter Mrs. John Smith. Mr. Raish is convalescing slowly after an illness of a few weeks.

The Grange Card party held Friday evening, April 20th, proved to be quite a success and turned into an old-fashioned Coffee Klatch after the games were over. The financial return from same was very gratifying and almost everyone was rewarded with beautiful merchandise.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeYoung, Staten Island, N. Y., are visiting for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Monroe Granacher.

Creek Road Construction Under Way

Canadensis—Five miles of "the Creek Road," Route 290, extending southward from this community, is now under construction. Livengood, Inc., Walnutport, Pa., contractor, is prosecuting the project.

The five-mile section is the last portion of Route 290 between Stites Bridge, north of Analomink, and this community to be constructed. One section was rebuilt several years ago by maintenance forces of the highway department and another stretch by contract.

Authorities said yesterday that "necessity" traffic, residents and business vehicles serving residents and cottagers along the five-mile strip will be given access passage during the construction period.

New highway will be a bituminous surfaced thoroughfare. It will have an eight-inch aggregate base with two and a half inches of bituminous penetration covering for travel surface.

Grading work will be started over a major portion of the route next week. Existing curves will be eased by widening their swing.

Concrete gutter work necessary along some sections of the highway will be installed early in the construction work.

Three bridges or good sized culvert crossings will be installed along the route.

Sarah St. Man Placed In Jail

Ronnie Gallagher, 31, of 504 Sarah St., Stroudsburg, was committed to Monroe county jail in default of $1,000 bail last night, after a hearing before Barrett township Justice of the Peace Nelson B. Eckert at Cresco.

Gallagher pleaded guilty to an assault and battery charge before Justice Eckert. The charge was preferred by Marguerite Gallagher.

A census taken by William the Conqueror in 1086 was recorded in the "Doomsday Book" and was so unpopular that censuses were not again taken until comparatively recent times.

Roy Lesoine Reports For Naval Duty

Roy E. Lesoine, 29, Stroudsburg RD 2 left yesterday to report for duty with the Navy at Philadelphia. A veteran of six years' service, Lesoine will receive an assignment when he reports for duty.

He is the husband of Mrs. Anita Lesoine and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lesoine.

Roy enlisted in the Navy about 1941. He served as a fire controlman, first class. Most of his service was in the Pacific.

He is a graduate of Stroudsburg High schol. Prior to being recalled to duty he worked for Art Metal Works of Pa., Inc.

New Motor Inspection Rules Aired

One hundred representatives of State inspection stations in Monroe county last night studied new motor vehicle inspection regulations which will be in force for the new inspection period opening May 1.

The group met at Mikels' garage, Lackawanna Trail in Arlington Heights with Jess Haynes, president of Monroe County Automobile Dealers association, presiding.

Meeting was sponsored by auto dealers' group.

Pfc. J. L. Young, Harrisburg, inspection expert of Pennsylvania State police, discussed the new inspection regulations and outlined many old procedures and practices.

KEEP RIVER AWAY FROM THEIR DOOR—The rampaging Mississippi river is fought by high school boys (top), who fill sand bags on the drainage levee near Rock Island, Ill., opposite Muscatine, Iowa, which is likewise in a threatened area. At bottom, Campbell's Island (across bridge) is reduced in size by the rising Mississippi, whose waters have inundated part of East Moline, Ill. The flood level is the highest in more than 70 years and approximately 6,000 persons already are left homeless.

ON THEIR ARRIVAL in Washington from Detroit, Sen. Blair Moody and his wife pose for the news cameramen. Moody, a Democrat, was named by Michigan's Governor Mennen Williams to the seat left vacant by the death of Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican.

DeAngelis Trial Adjourns Briefly

Rome (AP)—The De Angelis embezzlement trial adjourned early yesterday when defense attorneys appealed for time in which to examine the full record of the U. S. Army's investigation of the case. It will resume today.

The defendant, Air Force Capt. John De Angelis, 31, of Nesquehoning, Pa., has pleaded innocent to a charge that he embezzled $80,000 while employed as disbursing agent for the Rome office of the American Battle Monuments commission.

Bethlehem Steel Net Income Dips On Record Output

New York (AP)—Net income of Bethlehem Steel Corp. for the first 1951 quarter was $25,066,205, equal to $2.45 a common share, the Corporation reported yesterday. This compares with $32,171,657 or $3.19 a share in the preceding three months and with $25,572,930 or $2.50 a share in the like period last year.

Directors declared a dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, payable June 1 to holders of record May 7. This was the same amount ordered three months ago. Total dividends paid on the stock last year amounted to $4.10 a share, including a $2 disbursement in December.

The regular dividend of $1.75 a share on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock was declared payable July 2 to holders of record June 1.

Bethlehem's Steel production in the first three months of 1951 totaled a record 4,110,656 net tons of ingots and castings. The former record was set in the preceding quarter at 3,979,000 tons. Output in the first 1950 quarter was 3,380,116 tons.

Stock Prices Advance Up To $3 Per Share

New York (AP)— The stock market stepped ahead smartly yesterday with prices advancing from fractions to around $3 a share.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed 80 cents to $95.40 and the industrial average rose $1.30 to $130.20, a new 1951 high.

The 80-cent boost in the 60-stocks average wasn't the best of the year—there were 90-cent increases on January 16 and 26 and 80-cent rises on February 2 and April 4. But it was a departure from the market's recent indecisiveness.

The volume was 1,790,000 shares, again nothing phenomenal but the best of this week or last.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Some restraint in matters requiring keen analysis, study, also in extensive changes in business, etc., but day is favorable on whole for your occupation and other sound interests.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Teaching, study research may take extra patience, deeper concentration as will artistic matters now, but day should be advantageous for trades, industry in general and your job.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Hold enthusiasm, expansive ideas, confidential affairs under strict control. Not all creative stunts are favored but you are encouraged to advance in known or duly advised matters.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Neither overstimulating for big success nor restraining. How much you accomplish now really up to you. In matters with which you are familiar you can do better. Avoid extremes.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Try to improve quality of work or output rather than just seek to have big changes or gains. Finish things already started; plan next week's program. Day best favors familiar routine.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Authors, journalists, bookkeepers, researchers in science, medicine may find today's tendencies rather restricting but don't discourage. Ponder well, all. Other aspects most helpful.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—More favorable now for urgent routine and tasks not too new or difficult than for branching out into ventures that may prove unprofitable. Go along serenely, you will attain.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Fine period for mechanics, miners, farmers dealing in lumber, food products, animals, shipbuilding; needed repairs, sound real estate deals. Extra care for legal and written matters.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Your Jupiter in benefic aspect augurs for plentiful returns for your earnest and smart effort whether in trade, profession, religious or other interests. But be sensibly careful.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Your Saturn's configuration holds fresh promise for plans, general interests. Particular benefits now for occupational and domestic duties, all honest hard work; but don't overdo.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Uranus' position stresses need for a more uniform allocation of day's tasks so that you may avoid strain, irritability. Not all favorable for personal gain but good work is always rewarded.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Real achievement depends largely upon day's demands, the importance, urgency of your position, commitments, AND how YOU react. Money matters, mechanics, industry are newly favored.

YOU BORN TODAY: Powerful character, strong assets, all-around capability in Taurus. Active, receptive mentality, practical, dependable, honest, clean-minded. These are your inherent gifts from God, and if living rightly, cultivating, using them daily, there is no telling how far you can go or have gone in honorable achievement. Curb temper, appetite, perhaps overcome tendency to inertia and extravagance at times. Kindly at heart, a wonderful natural nurse; could become exceptional physician. Prayer your great aid.

Birthdate: Ulysses S. Grant, 18th U. S. president; Samuel B. Morse, noted inventor; Herbert Spencer, Eng. philosopher.

Auxiliary Now Boasts 362 Members

Saylorsburg — The Ladies auxiliary of the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co., met Tuesday night at the fire hall with 45 members present. President Mrs. Grant Knowles was in charge of the business meeting. She thanked all those who had helped in any way to make the penny supper a success, as it had been the largest to date.

A reply was read from the Wind Gap firemen president, Thomas Brown, to a letter, Mrs. Knowles had written in an apology for not having served coffee and sandwiches, during a recent fire here. Mr. Brown's reply stated that they did not come to eat, they came to fight fire.

The financial secretary, Mrs. Harry Shoemaker, read the names of new members. Mrs. Ambrose Altemus had turned in 161 and Mrs. George Metzgar 154, making a total of 362 paid members. Both Mrs. Altemus and Mrs. Metzgar asked that their prizes be donated in money to auxiliary.

A donation of $5 was received from Mrs. Fred Reaser, a donation of $4, from Mrs. M. Smith and $2 from a friend. It was announced that $37.03, was cleared at the last pastie sale; $205 at the last penny supper. A bill for $10 for a tank of gas, and one for $255 for five dozen folding chairs, were voted to be paid immediately.

Mrs. George Metzgar Jr., announced that through the Federation of Womans clubs a mobile X-ray unit would be in this section, May 26, at Chestnuthill High school to X-ray for T. B.

The group voted $50 for the firemen to apply on gas and kerosene.

It was decided to have another penny supper, May 26, with Mrs. James Eckley acting as chairman. She appointed the following to help Mrs. Grant Knowles, Mrs. P. W. Meixsell, Mrs. Harry Shoemaker, Mrs. Willard Shoemaker, Mrs. Ralph Bond, Mrs. Ambrose Altemus, Mrs. Oscar Bonser, Mrs. John Gower, Mrs. Joe Deady, Mrs. Eugene Metzgar, Mrs. Leon G. Blake, Mrs. Albert Arnold, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Anna Serfas, Mrs. Rose Gower, Mrs. C. W. Rubow, Mrs. Bessie Alexander.

The president appointed Mrs. Oscar Bonser, Mrs. Leon G. Blake, and Mrs. Willard Shoemaker to meet with the firemen, and help make plans for a carnival, to be held during the summer.

The meeting adjourned to a social hour when games were enjoyed. Winners were: Mrs. Clayton Snyder, Mrs. George Metzgar Jr., Mrs. Andrew Schaffer, Mrs. Russel Kresge, Miss Nancy Metzgar and Mrs. Joe Deady.

Miss Olive Buskirk, and her committee served refreshmens. Hostesses for May will be Mrs. Albert Arnold, Mrs. Andrew Schaffer, Mrs. Levina Hoffner, Mrs. Myron Snyder, Mrs. Eli Serfas, Mrs. Ralph Bond, Mrs. Myrtle Haney, Mrs. Laura Brewer, Mrs. Clair Halstead, and Mrs. Wilson Riddle.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Seem to be running to family news today. There's the one about Mrs. Millard Arndt and all her boys down through the next generation and still no girls. Though, as I pointed out to Elwood, it's a good thing for all of them that their mother was a girl.

And then there are the two brothers marrying the two sisters at different churches at different times. Seems as if Mr. and Mrs. James Albert are going to be sort of out-of-breath trying to make it from the first wedding to the second wedding —and uphill all the way, too.

Well, who knows better than I how complicated families can get. But fascinating. And some times inconvenient — especially at this time of year when luncheon piles upon luncheon every noon, leaving you with very little appetite for fixing dinner for a family unfortunate enough not to get in on this luncheon business.

And whoever decided that spring house cleaning and the busiest time in the social year had to coincide? As, I asked Eleanor Wunder and she's already got her housecleaning done, except two bedrooms, so shame on us.

Fellowship Club To Mark Anniversary

The Patterson-Kelley Co. Fellowship club and its auxiliary met Sunday in the CLU hall when they paid tribute to Mrs. Myra Possinger and Mrs. Myrtle Saxe on their birthdays.

Mrs. Lilly Stone was obligated as a new member. A report was given on the recent bread and cake sale, and a hat social followed the business meeting. Mrs. Cora Berger won the prize for the funniest hat, and Mrs. Nettie Price for the fanciest hat. William Howe and Don Berger were judges.

The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Hazel Melvin, and plans were made for a banquet for auxiliary members and their husbands to be held June 24 at the Rip Van Winkle house to celebrate the first anniversary of the auxiliary.

A supper of hot dogs, sauerkraut and cherry crumb pie was served by the auxiliary and there was a square dance with Arch Possinger and his orchestra furnishing the music and calling.

Alumni Sets Dates For Banquet, Dance

Tannersville—The Pocono High school alumni association last night set the dates for both its annual banquet and annual dance at a meeting held at the school. Gerald Tyreman, president, presided.

The annual dance will be held May 23, at the Bartonsville hotel, beginning at 8:30, while the annual alumni banquet will be held on June 13, it was decided.

Quilting Now For Rainy Days, Group Decides

Stroudsburg — The Ladies Aid Society of Mt. Eaton church met Thursday for a day of quilting. Two quilts were worked upon. Mrs. Ed Young, donated a top to the Aid, and they plan to complete it and sell it during the summer months.

Those present were: Mrs. Claude Eckle, Mrs. John Eckley, Mrs. Alfred Getz, Mrs. Bessie Alexander, Mrs. Norman Greenamoyer, Mrs. Rose Gower, Mrs. Frank Butts, Mrs. Abbie Faulstick, Mrs. Calvin Howel, Mrs. John Gower, Mrs. William Faulstick.

The members will quilt evenings and rainy days from now on, due to the spring work coming on.

Newly-Decorated Manse To Receive Family Today

Middle Smithfield—The newly decorated manse of the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian church, inspected and approved by the community, will welcome its family today.

An open house on Wednesday night drew more than 50 members and friends to the manse to set the fruits of the months of work by the men and women of the congregation in repainting and papering all the rooms and refinishing the floors.

At the same time the manse was ready for use as a home, the Lehigh Presbytery this week approved the appointment of Alec Crossan as state supply pastor of the congregation. He and his wife and young daughter, Karen, will plan to move into the manse on Friday.

Brothers To Wed Sisters On Sunday

Two weddings involving the same two families will be held the same day but at two different churches.

On Sunday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. Miss Eleanor Albert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Albert, of East Stroudsburg, will become the bride of Leonard Deiter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Deiter, of Stroudsburg, in the East Stroudsburg Methodist church.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton will perform the ceremony, and all of their friends are invited without further invitation.

Later that afternoon in a quiet private ceremony in the parsonage of the Grace Lutheran church Miss Luella Albert another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Albert, will be married to Douglas Dejter, another son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Deiter.

The two brothers and two sisters will then join with the members of their respective wedding parties and guests at a double reception to be held at the home of the brides, 165 North Courtland St.

Birthday Dinner For Mrs. Oyer

Portland — Mrs. Edward L. Oyer was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday dinner on Sunday at the Water Front Inn near Buttsville, N. J., given her by her daughter.

Mrs. Oyer celebrated her birthday anniversary on Tuesday, April 24.

Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Frank VanKirk and daughter Patsy of Phillipsburg, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dahlman and sons Bruce and Richard of Columbia, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rice, the guest of honor, Mrs. Oyer and husband, Edward L. Oyer of town.

Grange Friday

Tannersville — An important meeting of Pocono Grange 1415 will be held Friday, April 27 at 8 p. m., at which time all plans will be made for the program to represented by this grange at the Hamilton Grange on May 1. It is very imporant that all members attend.

Seventh Grandson Joins Family Of Arndt Boys

If there is magic in the seventh son, some of it should tranfer to a seventh grandson welcomed Wednesday by Mrs. Millard Arndt.

The seven-pound booy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Arndt at the General hospital, and is as yet unnamed, since they're running out of names for the Arndt boys.

Mrs. Millard Arndt is used to boys, having had four of her own, and their five cousins, all of whom were boy Arndts. Then when the grandchildren and grand nephews started arriving they upheld the tradition of a line of boys. Three of Mrs. Arndt's sons have two boys each—and no girls. The nephews also have boys—and no girls.

However, Mrs. Elwood Arndt did have her share in the new arrival. She is the former Emma C Gantzhorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gantzhorn, of Tannersville.

Hamilton PTA Elects Officers

The Hamilton Township Parent Teachers association met Tuesday night at the Bull Run school when the program starred the pupils of the school in songs and recitations.

Verdon Frailey was elected president for the coming school year; with Mrs. Lucy Warner, vice president; Mrs. Elise Shafer, secretary and Thomas Rogers, treasurer.

The annual play day for all the schools of the township will be held May 8 or 9 at Kellersville, it was announced, when Miss Kathryn Pontius and student teachers will help entertain the children.

District Forester Clyde Fyle was introduced by Mrs. Andrew Keiser, and spoke of three types of conservation: water, soil and forests.

The final meeting of the school year will be held at the Saylorsburg school when the newly-elected officers will be installed.

Cootiettes Plan Initiation Black Horse Party

The Pocono Cootiettes made plans for a Black Horse party at their next meeting which will be held on Wednesday, May 23. Members will be asked to bring a 25 cent gift for the party which will be followed by refreshments.

Plans were made at the regular meeting of Cootiettes, No. 318, held Wednesday at the VFW home with Mrs. Helen Hissam presiding. There was a large attendance and two new members were obligated. All new members will be initiated at the May meeting.

At that time members will also be asked to bring old silk stockings and underwear to be used for the physical therapy work at Veterans hospitals.

At their meeting, the members heard letters from the housemothers of the Pennsylvania Cottages at the national orphan's home, Grand Rapids, Mich. The local Cootiettes provide birthday parties and gifts for each of the inmates of the cottages through the year, and the letters from the housemothers described the joy which those gifts brought.

Girl Found Murdered On Carnival Lot

Chester—A blonde eight-year-old Chester girl was found murdered yesterday in the cab of a carnival truck on grounds occupied by Penn Premier Shows, a traveling show operated by Lloyd (Dutch) Serfass, of Stroudsburg.

Delaware county authorities and Pennsylvania State police last night were seeking James R. Reeves Jr., 35-year-old handyman who entered the employ of the Serfass show only last Monday.

Reeves disappeared Wednesday and Delaware county detective chief Fred Jack said he is charging the missing handyman with homicide "so that I can be sure that he will be picked up for questioning."

Serfass, the show operator, told Jack that Reeves failed to report for work at 6 p. m. Wednesday.

The body of the little girl, Jane Altohoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Altohoff, of Chester, was found huddled in the cab of the stake body truck between midnight and 1 a. m. yesterday, approximately four hours after the girl's brothers reported her missing.

A preliminary examination indicated she had ben smothered.

She had gone to the carnival at 7 p. m. Wednesday, accompanied by the two brothers, Lamar, 16, and Paul, aged six. They missed her after an hour's tour of the carnival lot.

Police said the girl was slain while 2,000 persons were milling about the midway, only 200 yards from the parked truck.

Jack, the chief county detective, disclosed that there was no indication that the girl had been abused. "We believe she was enticed into the truck and killed when she screamed or started to scream for help," the detective chief stated.

According to Serfass, the missing Reeves had been hired to keep children and others away from motor vehicles parked on a back corner of the carnival lot.

Household Goods Movers Hike Rate

Harrisburg, (AP) — Household goods truckers in Pennsylvania will increase their rates some 12 and a half per cent next Tuesday on hauls for distances over 40 miles.

The rate increase was approved yesterday by the Public Utility commission following similar approval by the Interstate Commerce commission last March 5.

The rate schedule was filed by the Tristate Household Goods Tariff Conference, Inc., Philadelphia, representing some 600 households goods movers in the State.

Quirk Of Fate

Crawfordsville, Ind. (AP)—Robert F. Wernle, state veterans service officer for Montgomery County, no longer is available to answer questions of service men and ex-GIs. The reserve second lieutenant knew all the answers except how to keep from being recalled to active duty. Wernle is back in the Army at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

Temperature Reaches 77, Then Cools

A cool front of air moved suddenly over this region around noon yesterday and halted the upward climb of the mercury at a maximum of 77 degrees.

From then on during the day the sun lost out to the clouds, the temperature dropped steadily and rain fell at intervals throughout the county.

Today will be cloudy and cooler, according to Weatherman Michael F. Hannon, with a maximum temperature in the low 60s. The minimum tonight will be in the low 40s.

Another low pressure area is coming this way from the west and will probably arrive here Saturday, Hannon said. With it will be cooler temperatures and rain.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from a high of 77 to a low of 59. Mean was 68 (warmer than normal for this date). Humidity was approximately 50 per cent.

Wind from the north and northeast maintained an average velocity of 8 mph.

New Drapes Are In Use

New window draperies of nonwoven rayon are handsome, easily draped. Regulation fabric draperies come in standard two-and-a-half yard length, 74 inches wide, sell for a price that is slightly more than the cost of dry cleaning, making it possible to buy a new set of draperies for the price of dry cleaning the old.

Preparation Of Simple Meals Brought Down To Fourth-Grade Level -- With Good Results

Canadensis—Nine and 10-year-old boys and girls in the fourth grade of the Barrett township schools here are having the time of their lives preparing and cooking simple dishes in the school's home economics department.

And they're not only busily fixing their favorite dishes, they're eating them, too.

It all started several weeks ago while the fourth graders were studying nutrition in their health classes. Some pertinent questions right off the nine-year-old shoulders brought answers and then considerable thought on the part of Miss Mary O. Bush, the fourth grade instructor and Supervising Principal Andrew W. Lewis.

They decided that a little actual food preparation would be beneficial to the pupils as well as an improvement to the course.

So, Miss Edna Mae Miller, the home economics instructor in charge of the spic and span homemaking department, was called into the conference.

Net result was that arrangements were made for the fourth graders to spend an hour and a half session each week for four weeks in the homemaking section.

There they are decked out in aprons and taught how to prepare their hot cereals, cocoa, brownies, date muffins, butterscotch squares and simple vanilla, chocolate and cornstarch puddings.

Each boy and girl is given an opportunity to cook, and later every last crumb of the various class products is devoured as all form family groups for the sample meal.

In this respect, the innovation is paying off with interest, for as Principal Lewis points out, the children are not only learning to prepare their own lunches, but they are also getting a kick out of serving as host and hostess and as waiters and waitresses.

Miss Bush realizes there is a practical aspect to the kitchen-dining room instruction which Barrett mothers heartily approve, but she finds that she's now using the cooking experience as a basis for lessons in arithmetic, language and art.

It's reversing the old apple-to-the teacher routine, and it's proving worthwhile.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Pocono A. C. Tilt At Riegel Ridge Off

Fred Hershey, general manager of Pocono A.C., announced late last night that Saturday's exhibition with Riegel Ridge, of the Tri-County league, on the latter's home field, was cancelled, due to the fact that the Riegel Ridge field is undergoing repairs and wouldn't be ready for action.

However, Hershey pointed out that Sunday's contest listed for Gordon Giffels field would definately be played. This game, the first of the season for the newly formed local club, will begin at 2:30, with no admission to be charged.

Business Meeting

The board of directors of the club will hold a business meeting tonight at Hershey's home, it was also announced last night. The place of the meeting will be 278 Smith St., East Stroudsburg, and will begin at 8.

It was also announced last night that Dr. Evan C. Reese would serve as the club physician and that Elmer D. Christine was the club's legal advisor. Jim Riley, sports editor of The Daily Record, will serve as official scorer.

Tournament Nears Finish

Bangor — Bert Horvath and Jim Rowlands fought their way into the final round of the fifth annual table tennis tournament here at the Bee Hive Youth center last night. The girls' division found Beverly Nerino and Mary Jo Turtzo reaching the championship round.

The first round matches played among the girls last night found Nerino defeating Matzie Duvo, 21-11 and 21-17, Joyce Caponigro, taking the measure of Alecia Wills, 21-13 and 21-15, while Tutrzo defeated Dian Snoddy, 21-15 and 21-10, and Phyllis Capone tripped Joan Shook, 21-16, 17-21 and 21-18.

Nerino defeated Caponigro in the semi-final round, 21-14 and 21-6, while Turtzo took the measure of Capone, 21-13 and 21-18, in the same round.

Last night's matches among the boys found Duane Miller beating Gerald Tucker, 21-9 and 21-14; Jim Pritchard downing Bob Reed, 21-13 and 21-18; Frank Nicoletti upsetting Asa Pysher, 21-15 and 21-16; Rowlands edging Miller, 21-18 and 21-10 and Horvath tripping Donald Williams, 21-14 and 21-15.

The semi-final round found Horvath beating Pritchard, 21-18 and 21-19, while Rowlands took the measure of Nicoletti, 21-19 and 21-13.

Final round action will take place on Monday.

Portland Club To Practice

Portland — Portland's entry in the Blue Mountain Baseball league will practice at the Portland field on Sunday, at 1:30 p. m., and again on Monday, at 6 p. m. Although Manager LeRoy "Cheesy" Egbert is virtually certain of his starting lineup, the colorful second baseman wants his forces in top shape on opening day.

Meeting

The Portland club held a meeting here at the Delaware House on Wednesday night, at which time last minute business was taken care of, including ads for the score card.

Top Prices Set For Pair Of Championship Bouts At Garden

New York, (AP)—The International Boxing club yesterday set a $10 top for two championship 15-round fights in Madison Square Garden next month.

Lightweight Champion Ike Williams defends his crown against Jimmy Carter, of New York, May 11. NBA Welterweight King Johnny Bratton meets Kid Gavilan of Cuba May 18. New York will give title recognition to the winner.

Reserved seat tickets, ranging in price from $2.50 to the $10 ringside seats, go on sale this morning.

Senators Peddle Bearden To Tigers For Undisclosed Price

Detroit, (AP)—Handsome Gene Bearden, whose story-book exploits won a pennant for the Cleveland Indians, will now try his hand at helping the Detroit Tigers.

The big left-handed knuckleball pitcher, who was bought yesterday by Detroit from the Washington Senators for an undisclosed price, will join the Tigers immediately.

Bearden, 30, unimpressive this spring in exhibition and league games, will become the Tigers' fourth left-hander.

"I plan to use him as a relief pitcher and a starter at certain spots," said Manager Red Rolfe. Rolfe's left-handed corps already includes starters Hal Newhouser and Ted Gray and reliefer Earl Johnson.

"I don't know exactly what Bearden's trouble has been," said Rolfe. "But I think he'll be able to help us."

If Bearden ever attained his 1948 form he definitely would help the Tigers, who won only two of their first six games this season. Last year they finished second in the American league.

Mile Event Center Of Relay Stage

By Orlo Robertson

Philadelphia, (AP)—Some 3,000 athletes from 500 colleges and schools will romp over Franklin Field today and tomorrow in the Penn relays' 89 events but the focal race will be an International assault on the Carnival's mile mark.

The race for the Benjamin Franklin Challenge Cup will bring together Oxford medical student Roger Bannister, heralded as Britain's best miler since Jack Lovelock' National AAU indoor champion Fred Wilt; four-time National Collegiate AA Champion Don Gehrmann and the fast starting Lt. Stew Ray.

The quartet of speedsters will be out to better Glenn Cunningham's relay mark of 4:11.8 made in 1934.

Best Clocking

Bannister's best clocking was 4:09 in New Zealand last December. But before leaving England last week he lowered the British mark for three-quarters of a mile to 2:56.8.

Wilt, the FBI man, has traveled a mile on Atlantic City's Board Walk in 4:05.5 and 4:08.4 indoors. Gehrmann's has been clocked 4:07.5 indoors and 4:09.6 on the cinder paths.

Senators Trip A's On One Hitter

Washington (AP) — Washington moved into a first place tie with Cleveland last night by defeating Philadelphia 2-1, on the one-hit pitching of Connie Marrero, and home runs by Mickey Vernon and Gil Coan.

The only hit off Marrero was Barney McCosky's fourth inning homer after Marrero had retired the first ten A's in order. It was McCosky's first home run since 1947.

Deadlock

Vernon blasted Joe Coleman for a homer in the second inning, but McCosky tied it up and that situation existed until Coan smashed his homer with two out in the seventh.

Lexington, Ky. (AP)— Name Luke and Ruhe captured the split divisions of the Bluegrass Stakes yesterday at Keeneland, the latter being moved in to the winners circle after Sonic was disqualified for interference.

However, the net result of the mile and one eighth races did little to clear up the picture for the Kentucky Derby a week from tomorrow.

Seek Expense Increase

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates intend to ask club officials for a boost in road trip expenses.

Second baseman Danny Murtaugh, newly elected player representative of the club, said the players want the allowance upped from $6 per day to $7.50.

ESSTC Stars In Penn Relays

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College colors will be flying at the Penn Relays today and tomorrow, with seven Warriors selected to be on hand for the annual track and field games at Philadelphia's Franklin field.

Teachers

Coach Howard DeNike announced last night that Bill Prater, outstanding distance man at the local college, will be the first Warrior in action, when he takes his place at the starting line in a special two-mile invitation run, at 3:30. This event will feature some of the best college talent in the United States.

At 4:50, the ESSTC mile relay team will take part in the annual State Teachers College Mile Relay, featuring ten state teachers colleges from various spots in the east. DeNike announced that Mark Nejako, Barry Fisher, Don Lewis and Bob Williams would comprise the ESSTC team, with Bob Brown serving as an alternate.

On Saturday, at 10:30, Bill Hillman, outstanding ESSTC dash man, will take part in a special 100 yard dash event, against top flight competition. Hillman will run in the first heat with the final event to be held in the afternoon.

Hellertown, Catasauqua Appear Locally

East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg High schools parade their baseball talents before the home fans today, when they play host to Hellertown and Catasauqua in Lehigh-Northampton and Lehigh Valley league games respectively. Both contests will begin promptly at 4 p.m.

The Cavaliers of East Stroudsburg will clash with Hellertown High at the East Stroudsburg Playground and will be searching for their initial win of the season, after playing Wilson Borough to a 1-1 deadlock on the latter's home field last Tuesday. The game was halted by darkness.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that Harold "Sonny" Eaton, a right hander, would toe the rubber for the home team. The infield will find Gerard Rogers at first base, while the second base choice lies between John Hanson, Jack Sommers and Marlyn Miller. Paul "Candy" Miller will be at the shortstop berth, while Leo Dailey holds down his regular third base position.

Stroudsburg will be attempting to even its season record at two wins and the same number of setbacks, when the Mountaineers send Dick Schuster, a freshman from Portland, against Catasauqua at Gordon Giffels field. Stroudsburg's single win has been over Pen Argyl while the both setbacks were league affairs at the hands of Lehighton and Emmaus.

County League

Two games are also on tap for the Monroe County League today, as that circuit launches the 1951 campaign. Both games are expected to begin at 3 p. m.

The northern division will send Tobyhanna township against Coolbaugh, at Coolbaugh, while Polk stacks up against Chestnuthill, at Brodheadsville, in the southern section.

Monroe County league activity this year has been limited to four regular season games and a play-off contest to cut down on expenses.

Red Sox Rally To Win First Game Of Campaign From Yanks

Boston, (AP)—The Boston Red Sox outlasted the New York Yankees yesterday, winning a 13-7 contest which required three hours and 30 minutes. The 19,120 shivering spectators saw a total of 20 bases on balls and 22 hits splashed around Fenway Park.

The victory was Boston's first over New York in three games and cracked a Yankee winning string of four.

Billy Goodman, league batting champion in 1950, led the Sox slugging with four hits and three runs batted in. The slim first baseman fanned in his first time at bat and then ripped off four successive safeties, the last of these a double. The big day lifted his average to 393.

The game, though ragged, was very close until the home half of the eighth when the Sox, who led by an 8-7 count to that point, broke loose for five additional runs.

Ellis Kinder, veteran reliever, received due credit for the victory. He was the only hurler who pitched well. The right hander entered the action in the fifth inning and shut off a Yankee rally.

Four Fall

Casey Stengel, leading the champions again after a day in the hospital with a kidney ailment, called on four pitchers and none delivered for him. Tommy Bryne, the starter, was his usual wild self and left after the second inning, by which time he had walked four men. Allie Reynolds came on and lasted until the sixth, when the home side scored four runs through two walks and three hits and took the 8-7 edge.

Harry Taylor, Boston starter, was nailed for a three-run homer by Byrne in the second and was knocked out in the following inning when New York gained three more runs.

The key blow of the game was Bobby Doerr's sixth inning double, the only ball to hit the nearby left field fence all day. A strong wind was blowing towards right field. The veteran second baseman drove the ball against the barrier in left with two out and the bases full, all three runners crossing.

Stengel explained that Mantle, whose batting average had slipped to .242 following a brisk start, was benched because "he needs a rest. This is a big right field area here and the kid isn't too good in the field yet."

Giants Drop Eighth Straight

New York (AP)—The New York Giants lost their eighth straight game last night as the Boston Braves chalked up a 3-0 shutout. Home runs by Roy Hartsfield and Sam Jethroe in the eighth inning shattered a 0-0 tie and accounted for all the Braves' runs.

Johnny Sain won his hundredth major league game by scattering six Giant hits, ruining Sal Maglie's thirty-fourth birthday party.

Into Stands

Hartsfield's homer sailed over the head of center fielder Bobby Thomson who apparently misjudged the long drive that landed on the cinder path in deep center. Sain, awarded first on interference by catcher Wes Westrum, scored ahead of Hartsfield on the inside-the-park homer.

Jethroe followed with a line drive homer into the lower right field stands, his fifth of the season.

Phillies Blank Dodgers, 2-0

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies made only three hits last night, one off Cris Van Cuyk in seven innings and two off Clem Labine in one, but they whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers 2-0 behind the fine eight-hit pitching of Robin Roberts.

Eddie Sawyer's men used one of their three hits to score their first run in the third and the other two for the second tally in the eighth.

The first run came when Dick Sisler was hit by a pitched ball, went to third on Andy Seminick's single and crossed the plate after Mike Goliat flied to Carl Furillo.

Final Run

They picked up the other run with Labine on the slab, Seminick again singled but was forced at second by Goliat. Roberts laid down a sacrifice and Eddie Waitkus singled Goliat home.

The Dodgers missed a great chance in the first when they made three singles but could not score.

Gene Hermanski singled to left but was out trying to steal second. "Duke" Snider and Jackie Robinson followed with singles after Carl Furillo flied out but Gil Hodges fouled to Seminick for the third out.

Pep Clashes With Tough Foe On Coast

San Francisco (AP)—Hustling Willie Pep, former world's featherweight champion and one of the great little fighters that division has produced, tackles tough young Eddie Chavez in a ten-round bout at the Cow Palace tonight.

Pep hasn't much to gain, except a goodly chunk of money. He'll lose some prestige if he takes a licking. It's an overweight match and he will be spotting a younger, heavier rival something like eight pounds.

Lost twice

Chavez is the 20-year-old San Jose Mexican who has battled to recognition in the lightweight ranks in less than a year and a half. He's had 33 professional matches, won 31 and lost two questionable decisions. He beat the two who won from him, in return meetings.

For Pep, it will be his one hundred and sixteenth pro encounter in eleven years of taking on all comers, both in and out of his division. He once fought lightweight champ Sammy Angott, lost the nod in ten frames and still thinks he could have whipped the latter if it had been a 15-rounder.

Line Material In Softball League

Ed Tweedie, president of the Monroe County Softball League, announced last night that Line Material had replaced Marshalls Creek in the eight club circuit this season. The action was taken during a meeting at the Monroe County YMCA on Wednesday night.

Opening Date

The circuit will open hostilities for the season on Monday, with all games to be played at Stroudsburg Playground and East Stroudsburg Junior High school field.

Walker Cup Team Departs For England

New York (AP)— America's Walker Cup golfers, minus Frank Stranahan and Dick Chapman, got in a final practice round yesterday before sailing for Liverpool and their match against Britain's top amateurs May 11 and 12 at the Birkdale Golf club.

Stranahan and Chapman received permission to travel apart from the main group, which embarks on the Parthia this afternoon and reaches England on May 5. Stranahan, the present British amateur champion, expects to fly across within a few days. Chapman has indicated he will follow his teammates on a faster boat.

"Both have promised they will be there to meet us when we reach Birkdale," said Joe E. Dey Jr., executive secretary of the USGA, who will chaperone the group on the Parthia. "Both said they had some things to attend to before leaving."

Coincidental

It may be only coincidental that Stranahan and Chapman are among the game's most diligent practicers and count the day lost that they are not on a golf course. There was reported to be some grumbling among other cup players that they are being ferried across on a slow boat instead of flying. But they made no protest as a group.

"We tried to arrange for a net on the ship so we could hit some balls on the way over," said Willie Turnesa, the team captain, "but the best we could get was a mat. We'll be able to practice our swing on that, but not to hit any balls."

Besides Turnesa, the group included Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, Jimmie McHale, of Philadelphia, Harold Paddock Jr., of Cleveland, Bob Knowles Jr., of Boston, Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., and Sam Urzetta of Rochester, the current U. S. amateur champion.

Pole Vault Top Attraction

By L. E. Skelley

Des Moines, (AP)—The Drake relays open today for a two-day run and definitely there won't be a snowstorm such as plagued the 1950 games.

The weather, in fact, is expected to be good.

Top attraction of the forty-second annual games is the pole vault in which record-smashing Don Laz of Illinois and Don Cooper of Nebraska are matched.

Leaders

They are the only collegiate vaulters who have gone above 15 feet. Both did it last Saturday a few hours apart. Cooper soared 15 feet, ¾ inch at the Kansas Relays for a new inter-collegiate outdoor record. It didn't last long. Laz boosted the record to 15 feet, 1¾ inches in a triangular meet at Los Angeles.

Cooper is the defending champion and record-holder here. He whipped Laz last year with a mark of 14-1, accomplished in miserable weather.

The two-day program has attracted entries from 25 universities.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Art Cenci's presence on the roster of the Riegel Ridge baseball club that will play at Gordon Giffels field on Sunday, rolls back the calendar to 1947, when Cenci's presence at the local ball yard was expected to assure the Stroudsburg Poconos of at least a fourth place finish and a spot in the post-season playoffs. However, as all followers of the club now know, the Poconos finished fifth and missed the playoff grind, during which time the clubs of the circuit get a shot at some extra cash.

Cenci opened the 1947 campaign with Nazareth, also of the North Atlantic League, and pitched some good ball in the early going, although the Barons had a weak outfit that year. The late Jack Farmer was managing the Poconos in 1947, and although the deceased right handed hurler was loyal to the parent New York Yankees to the end, he realized that the Poconos needed more help than being offered by the Bronx Bombers at the time, if the club was to finish in the first division.

Everyone concerned agreed that Cenci was the answer to Stroudsburg's trouble, if they could purchase the likeable right-hander from Nazareth. Art was bought and joined the Poconos immediately. However, Cenci never quite lived up to expectations with the Stroudsburg team and found it virtually impossible to win in his new uniform. As a matter of fact, Cenci was released before the 1947 campaign was completed and Stroudsburg fans were forced to watch the playoffs in foreign parks or read about them in the newspapers.

The Riegel Ridge team is sponsored by the paper mill in that area, as is an entire athletic plant for that matter. Pocono A. C. is expected to carry five high school students on its roster this summer, following the completion of the high school baseball season in this area. There may be a little difficulty when the present high school diamond campaign does end. Right now there are several teams planning on the services of the same two or three players, a stunt that will become impossible once the regular campaigns are underway in both the Blue Mountain and Pocono Mountain Leagues.

Parties of Monroe County fans are already being formed to take in games of the Wilkes-Barre entry in the Eastern League, in which Dale Melms is listed as the starting pitcher. Melms became a favorite with all the fans of this area when he pitched with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1949. However, reports from Wilkes-Barre indicate that Melms is still being troubled with the miseries in his right arm, which was injured at Gordon Giffels field late in the 1950 campaign. Dale is headed for a bright future in the game, if he can ever overcome the arm trouble that has plagued him in recent years.

Gerry Uht, who played at Giffels field a couple of years back with Batavia, N. Y., of the class "D" Pony league, is now holding down first base for Harrisburg, of the class "B" Inter-State league. Batavia and the Poconos clashed in a preseason exhibition game one spring, with the Poconos finishing on the long end of the score as I remember. Vern Fegley, basketball coach at Easton High school, was among those present at the All-Sports Night, sponsored by the Alumni Varsity "E" club, in Easton recently. Vern is a brother of Gail "Doc" Fegley, Stroudsburg optometrist, who is a local softball and bowling enthusiast.

Road games of the DeLand, Fla. entry in the Florida State league, are being broadcast over radio station WJBS. All home gamse for DeLand begin at 8 p. m., with the exception of Sunday, when they start one-half hour later. DeLand is being managed this year by Frank Radler, who piloted the Poconos for the past three campaigns. Marty Baldwin, outstanding local sportsman, was toastmaster last night at the annual basketball banquet for Hazleton High school, at the Hotel Altamont, in Hazleton.

There are two things mainly responsible for the inability of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools to get together on a suitable baseball date. First, the East Stroudsburg policy refuses to allow an athlete team from that school to take part in more than two events each week. The other fly in the ointment is the fact that Stroudsburg doesn't want to play after Wednesday, May 23, due to final examinations. Both are trying to fill the date, but the rules of each institution are making it a difficult task.

East Stroudsburg High will meet Morrisville, Pa. High in a home and home football series in 1952 and 1953, it was learned last night. Bangor played Morrisville last fall. No dates, or the place of the respective games was known at a late hour last night.

Pocono Trips Barrett In Exhibition Contest

Twenty-Eight Players In Wild Battle

Canadensis — Pocono High school took the measure of Barrett in an exhibition contest here yesterday, by a 17-15 score, on the losing team's home field. The contest between the two Monroe County league rivals has nothing to do with the circuit standings.

Each team threw 14 players into the wild scoring contest, with at least one run being scored by one of the teams in the seven innings played.

Barrett opened with a four run splurge in the first frame, but Pocono came back to even the count with the same number in the second. From this point on it was a knock-down-drag-out affair, with Pocono closing strong to walk off with the decision.

Hit Hard

Tom Jones and Bob Dougherty, the starting hurlers, weren't on the scene very long, as the two clubs unloaded the lumber early and sprayed hits to all fields.

A total of 23 errors were committed in the contest, 13 by the winning Pocono team and ten by the losing Barrett contingent.

The victory was the first of the year for Pocono, as the charges of Coach Harry Werkheiser were making their initial trip into action. Barrett is now sporting a mark of one victory and the same number of setbacks. Barrett's win was over Greene-Dreher, at Newfoundland, on Tuesday.

Baseball Executive Council Yields To Demand By Chandler To Clear Path For Resignation

New York (AP)— Baseball's executive council yesterday cleared the path for the immediate resignation of Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler by yielding to his demand that the secretary-treasurer of baseball, Walter Mulbry, go out at the same time.

The decision was reached following a lengthy meeting between Chandler and John Galbreath, president of the Pittsburgh club and an emissary of the council, it was learned from a highly authoritative source. The two talked for more than five hours last Saturday in Cincinnati.

Galbreath, whose mission was to "get Chandler to resign immediately," returned with the following Chandler ultimatum:

"I'll go only if Mulbry goes."

Neither Chandler nor any member of the four-man executive council would talk.

"No comment," were the terse words of Chandler when asked for a statement. Those words were echoed by President Will Harridge of the American league, owner Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox and General Manager Warren Giles of the Cincinnati Reds. President Ford Frick of the National league, the other council member, could not be reached.

Bitter Enemies

Once close friends, Chandler and Mulbry became bitter enemies in the course of the uproar during the winter in which the 16 major league club owners voted not to renew Chandler's contract. Since then, the owners have been trying, without success, to buy up "Happy's" $65,000-year-pact which does not expire until April 30, 1952.

Chandler, who accused Mulbry of being instrumental in his ouster last December and again the following March, had laid a charge of "disloyalty" on his former side-kick. After learning of his fate following the Miami Beach meeting of the owners on March 12, the former Kentucky governor and senator made this plea:

"Give me the satisfaction of firing Mulbry before I leave office."

Under the Major league agreement, the commissioner appoints the $30,000-a-year secretary, who continues in office at the pleasure of the executive council. This means that Chandler, who got Mulbry the job soon after he was named commissioner in April, 1945, could not fire him.

When informed of Chandler's request, Mulbry immediately offered his resignation to the executive council. It was refused.

Jersey Entry Scores Second Straight Upset

Pinehurst, N. C. (AP)—For the second successive day Charlotte DeCozen of Parsippany, U. J., disrupted the march of favorites in the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament. The 25-year-old Jersey miss took a tense one up match yesterday from Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Chapel Hill, N. C., on the nineteenth hole.

Moves Along

The upset of the former National Champion and Curtis Cup star sent Mis DeCozen into an 18-hole semi-final match today against Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt., and neighboring Southern Pines. Another former Curtis Cupper, Dorothy Kielty of Los Angeles, was a one up victim of Miss DeCozen Wednesday.

Miss Murray, 1950 National runnerup to Beverly Hanson, moved along yesterday with a three and two conquest of Mrs. Catherine Fox Park of Bloomfield, N. J.

The upper bracket semi-finalists will be Pat O'Sullivan of Range, Conn., and Souther Pines, the defending champion, and Marjorie Lindsay, long-hitting Decatur, Ill., girl, who plays in most of the major tournaments.

Smithfield Downs Middle Smithfield

Smithfield — Smithfield's Ramblers took the measure of Middle Smithfield in a Monroe County Elimentary Softball League contest early this week, by a 6-2 margin, on the winning team's home grounds.

Coach Mike Gretkowski's crew was sparked by Kenny Roth, who worked the distance on the mound for Smithfield.

Zippel Signs With Local Camp

Marshalls Creek—Marty Zippel, former basketball great and high scorer for the Lafayette College quintets of 1947, '48 and '49, has signed to become counselor of baseball and basketball at Pocono Highland camps this summer, according to an announcement last night by Earle U. Weinberg, of the Pocono Highland organization.

Since his interest has always been with children, Zippel has felt the need of emphasizing this activity as a mode of body building and development of good sportsmanship, Weinberg said.

Captain

Prior to his two years of pro basketball with the Wilkes-Barre Barons, Zippel was the sparkplug and captain of the Leopards who reached the heights in college competition against some of the strongest opposition in the country.

With Zippel directing the Leopards, they won 20 out of 29 games.

Kiwanis Club Fashion Show Proves Hit

Fashion Frolics, the men's fashion show, produced by members of the Kiwanis club of Stroudsburg at the auditorium of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College last night before an audience of nearly 600 people proved an enjoyable and unique performance.

Based on preparations for and participation in a convention of Kiwanis International, the various phases provided the means of modeling the different kinds of clothing, accessories, luggage and sports acoutrements a well equipped man would carry.

John E. Watt, who directed the show, was the narrator in which much naive humor was included. The comedy part taken by George T. Robinson, known as the "Little Man," who appeared at the most unexpected times in various costumes, made a big hit.

Numa Snyder's orchestra furnished the music for the show in which a large percentage of the Kiwanis club members appeared as models. Eric Schuchard was the brightly attired bell hop.

The performance opened with the epilogue, in which the railroad station was portrayed with the convention train ready to leave. The throng of delegates sang "The Hunting Song," written by Numa Snyder just as the train was leaving. The "Little Man" stumbles about this time with his equipment pouring out his luggage.

The first scene was a late afternoon at the lobby of the convention hotel, where the delegates register and business clothes were modeled, the "Little Man" dragging himself in as the curtain closes.

Scene two represented a hotel bedroom with delegates lounging about enjoying games when pajamas, bathrobes, lounging robes, etc., were modeled, the "Little Man" dropping in and going to bed. George Savidge in his deep pink pajamas and bright blue socks provided a lot of comedy in this scene.

Early morning showed delegates coming in the hotel lobby after having participated in varied sports when golf, tennis, bathing, fishing and other outfits were displayed. The scene closed with Henry Kresge in an ultra fishing outfit getting his line tangled up with the "Little Man" as he ambled on.

A private dining room in the hotel was pictured in scene four with Arlington W. Williams pouring, the models of a wide display of casual clothes all piling their cups and saucers on the "Little Man" to his discomfiture.

The final scene was that of a banquet hall with Frank S. LaBar toastmaster when formal clothes were shown. Mr. LaBar briefly explained the use of the education fund of the club to which proceeds of the show will be devoted, thanked all who had cooperated and presented the speaker of the evening, State Senator Monty Crowe, attired in the costume of a Roman Senator, whose humor made a big hit.

The show closed with the epilogue, scene at the hotel desk where the guests were settling their bills, when the clerk grabs off the shirt of the "Little Man" who was unable to meet his bill. In the final scene, the entire company is gathered on the stage singing "Oh, You Beautiful Doll," (meaning the males in this instance) written by Mr. Watt.

Local dealers furnished the clothing, etc., modeled in the show.

The greatest depth of ocean sounded is in the Pacific near the island of Mindanao, in the Philippines, where the water is 35,400 feet deep.

Volunteers Battle Brush Fire For Hour At Shawnee

Shawnee-on-Delaware—Fifteen members of the Shawnee fire department battled a brush fire on the hillside opposite the end of the lower golf island on the Shawnee inn property for an hour late yesterday before bringing it under control.

Sterling Walter, school bus driver, noticed the burning brush as he was completing the afternoon route from the Smithfield township school. He reported it at the local store, and the subsequent alarm hurried firemen to the scene.

Using Indian pumps and grass rakes, the firemen worked under direction of Col. Gordon P. Savage, the assistant chief, until Chief Arthur Smith arrived.

Damage was negligible, but it was said the flames were traveling toward the Riverside House, although that place was not threatened. Sparks from fires at a nearby dump were thought to have started the blaze in the brush.

Neuweiler Reviews CAP Unit

Col. Phillip Neuweiler, Allentown wing commander of the Pennsylvania Civil Air patrol who was in charge of the recent two-day Pike county lost hunter search, reviewed the Stroudsburgs' CAP unit here last night at the East Stroudsburg armory.

The cadets were drilled by their instructor, Sgt. Carl Hull, who turned them over to Colonel Neuweiler for additional drill work and review.

It was announced that two of the Stroudsburgs' unit cadets may be selected to represent the local outfit in a national competition conducted by the International Cadet exchange. Final winners will tour foreign countries as a guest platoon, according to announcement by CAP leaders.

With Colonel Neuweiler's party last night were Lt. Col. Charles Rich Bethlehem; Lt. Col. John Mills, Scranton; Maj. C. Walters, Sgt. R. Schwartz and other personnel from wing headquarters.

All were guests at a dinner served by Sgt. John Smith, of the Stroudsburg unit.

Lt. Raymond Alleger, commanding officer of the unit here, announced that the unit cadets will receive orientation plane rides this Sunday at the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg airport, weather permitting. Lieutenant Alleger and W/O Abner Hinkle will be the pilots.

Lutherland Sells Lot To Long Island, N. Y., Woman

Two real estate transfers were placed on file here yesterday at the Monroe county court house office of Register and Recorder Floyd Butz.

Lutherland, Inc., of Pocono Pines, conveyed a lot in Tobyhanna township to Mildred Petzinger, of Hollis, Long Island, N. Y. According to the deed description, the parcel is situated on the south side of Park Ave., on the map plan of cottage sites at Naomi Pines, and is identified as lot 302 on the map plan.

In the other transfer yesterday, Lee R. and Ethel H. Worrall, of Upper Providence township, Delaware county, gave title to a property on the Tannersville-Pocono Fire tower road in Pocono township to John J. Sielecki, of Philadelphia, and Ann Glogowski, also of Philadelphia. The premises includes one and nine-tenths acres.

Six Winners Crowned At Amateur Night Contests

Brodheadsville—Some 500 persons Wednesday night attended the West End Lions club's amateur hour contests which produced six winners who will compete for final awards and a possible chance to land on the Ted Mack Original amateur hour on June 13.

John L. Olsen, Sciota, who was associated with a New York theater for 15 years, acted as judge. Weston Fenner, past president of the Lions club, was master-of-ceremonies with the program schedule. A recording of the performances was made for re-broadcast over Radio Station WVPO.

Six winning groups will compete against another group of six to be selected at an amateur night here on May 31. The final competition will take place on June 13. Final awards are $50, $35, $25 and $15 and a possible spot on the Mack program.

Winners Wednesday night were Ronald Schairer, bass soloist; Dougles Edelman, trombone soloist; Arthur Klinker, Bob Barringer and Norman Marsh, instrumental trio; Elwood LaBar and his Polka Band trio and the Dixie quartet composed of Horatio Fenner, Edwald Davis, Harry Oaten, Eddie Roberts, and Joyce Roth, acrobatic dancer.

Expect more ...get more with NEW CALSO!
Now from the world's newest, most modern refinery comes an even greater gasoline—the NEW CALSO. It's as superior to yesterday's motor fuels as the new high-compression auto engines are to the old ones. So expect more—get more—when you drive with the NEW CALSO Gasoline. More ease of starting. More speedy pick-up. More steady power. More carefree mileage. Today, stop in for a tankful at any CALSO station—wherever you see the familiar big red sign. Enjoy the thrill of getting top performance from your car—old or new! Discover why CALSO is the New Big Name in gasoline!
Just completed at Barber, N. J., this new 25-story high catalytic cracking unit is the "heart" of the giant new CALSO refinery. Nothing was spared to make the refinery completely modern, completely integrated. Designed by the nation's best engineering brains, it brings the investment for plant, tankers, ocean terminals and equipment to over $100,000,000. Crude oil from CALSO-affiliate oil-producing operations is brought in on CALSO super-tankers, and unloaded at the rate of 20,000 barrels an hour. In a single day, this new refinery can produce enough gasoline to fuel the average car 1600 years!

C. H. Buckius Will Attend Club Meeting

C. H. Buckius, assistant chief engineer of the Pennsylvania State Highway department, will represent Ray H. Smock, the secretary, at the annual meeting of the Monroe County Automobile club at the Penn-Stroud hotel ballroom Monday night at 8.

Mr. Smock in a phone call yesterday to R. LeRoy Dengler, club president, stated that the great bereavement suffered by Gov. John S. Fine in the death of Mrs. Fine, made it necessary for him to remain at his post.

Mr. Buckius is well known to people in Monroe county and had much to do with the original highway development plans resulting in the great improvement of the system. He has proved cooperative in many of the county plans.

One of the important matters which will be brought to the attention of the State Highway representative will be the "bottleneck" in the Delaware Water Gap gorge, also the much complained of one-way traffic on Route 611 in the Slateford area.

Traffic safety, travel and other topics will be discussed by highly recommended speakers. The Pocono Male chorus will entertain and a buffet lunch will be served.

Not only members of the club, but all interested in highways and motoring are urged to attend. Reservations may be called to the club office, phone 803, by noon Monday.

Fingerprinting's 50th Anniversary Finds Half Of American Citizens In FBI Files

By John F. Sembower
Central Press Correspondent

Washington — The 50th anniversary of the use of fingerprints in organized police work is being noted by criminologists, and there is at least an even chance that the individual trademark on the fingertips of any given American now may be found in the fabulous files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation here.

The anniversary really has to do with the founding of famous Scotland Yard's fingerprint bureau in London, but it is an event being marked by all specialists in human identification around the world. The "Yard" is the jealous guardian of the master file for all Europe.

In the United States, the most notable date in the modern history of fingerprinting is little more than a quarter of a century ago, when in 1924 the extensive files of the National Bureau of Criminal Investigation and the Leavenworth, Kan., penitentiary were consolidated in the headquarters of the FBI.

The FBI now has more than 108,000,000 fingerprint cards stored in its six-story building devoted exclusively to the elaborate system. Two thousand aides work in the identification section, and 1,100 in the file section, constituting a team which can sort out positive identification in a matter of minutes.

Some 7,500,000 of these cards are in the criminal file; the rest are in the civilian file used principally for identification purposes only.

J. Edgar Hoover, the FBI chief, is particularly proud of the latter, because he thinks that everyone should make it a point to provide his fingerprints until the records of the Bureau are complete for the entire country.

As it is, the Bureau may have obtained its non-criminal prints from a small boy's writing in about how to become a G-man, or from an Army induction, a civil service examination, or employment in a war plant.

A few weeks ago a clerk in Chicago's missing persons bureau risked catching spinal meningitis to take the prints of an unconscious hospital patient. It was then possible to identify him for the first time and to notify relatives. This is described as a common experience in the FBI civilian department.

However, the criminal files also are a source of a never-ending series of dramatic identifications as about 450 fugitives are spotted each month. Recently the prints of a tramp arrested in a hobo jungle at Somerville, N.J., were sent routinely to the FBI, and it was discovered that 34 years ago he fled the Oregon state prison.

A bank guard in Chicago was arrested recently when his fingerprints taken during his hiring-in, revealed that in 1927 he escaped prison.

Identifications are accomplished because of the simple fact that the patterns of any fingerprint in the world can be classified into one of eight types: plain, arch, tented arch, right loop, whorl, central pocket loop, double loop, or accidental.

Once the gross classification is made, the FBI laboratory usually has narrowed the possibilities to a pack of from 100 to 400 cards. Experts then quickly complete the visual comparison.

The modern era of fingerprinting dates back to studies made in 1823 by J. E. Purkinje, a physiologist at the University of Breslau. He demonstrated the two basic things that make the system possible: that fingerprints do not vary from birth to death, and no two persons are identical.

If either of these ever were proved false, the whole system would fail. In fact, it tottered two years ago when a 52-year-old postman in Houston had fingers which were so badly worn from handling letters for 32 years that prints could not be obtained by ordinary methods. However, experts used chemicals to bring them out clearly and all was safe.

A celebrated Scotland Yard case indicates that fingerprints can persist even after death. Thumbprints are used on pension claims in England, and an investigation of benefits going to a man who would have been 120 years old revealed that his family had cut off his thumb when he died, mummified it, and used it regularly to collect his checks.

Criminal suspects have tried almost everything in an effort to obliterate their prints, including scaring, sandpapering and burning, but all their pains have been for naught.

Although the idea of elaborate classifications is strictly modern, the Romans used a palm print in a trial in the First Century, the Chinese used fingerprint signatures in the T'ang dynasty, A.D. 618 and a Persian historian wrote in 1303 that no two prints ever are alike.

The world-wide spstem is growing rapidly. FBI records are linked with those of Scotland Yard and 70 other countries. Several different systems are used, the English recording only a single print while the FBI takes all 10 nicely.

New uses of fingerprints are continually being discovered. In some hospitals newly-born babies and their mothers are printed jointly in the delivery room to guard against the bogey of mix-ups in maternity wards. A national check protection organization is using an invisible thumbprint, and 45 forgery convictions have been obtained from them.

Many popular beliefs about fingerprints are myths, say the experts. For instance, picking up a murder weapon with a handkerchief does not protect the prints; it almost certainly destroys them.

Fingerprints are very fragile, until they are carefully preserved and reduced to a permanent record at the FBI. Then they become almost immortal.

Mount Pocono

Mrs. L. T. Powers

Mrs. Blanche Cramer, Pocono, was hostess on Thursday afternoon, April 19, to members of the New Home Economics Extension Group, which has been convening in the locality during the winter months under the direction of Miss Margaret MacLauren. Those attending the final meeting of the group at the Cramer home included: Mrs. B. B. Walker, Jr., and Tommy, Mrs. Louis Hopke, Mrs. Alvah Merwin III, Mrs. E. O. Headrick, Mrs. Henry Cruse, Mrs. Mildred Schutt and Miss MacLaren. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Mildred Johnson substituted as teacher in the Primary grades at the borough school on Monday and Tuesday during the absence of Mrs. S. F. Brodell, who was confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Mildred Schutt and Mrs. Adele Calkins spent Sunday night and Monday in Carlisle, Pa. Hiram Calkins, who had spent the weekend with his mother, returned with them to Carlisle where he is employed.

The American Legion Auxiliary of Poconos' Memorial Post 903 will sponsor a card party at Pocono Haven on Friday night, April 27 at 8 P. M., to which the public is invited to attend. The proceeds will be used to further the work of the Auxiliary.

PMA Offers Comparison Of Farms

To determine the worth of the Monroe County Production and Marketing program and its agricultural conservation aspects, compare cooperating farms today with these same farms as they existed 10 or 15 years ago, David H. Griffith, chairman of the county PMA board, declared yesterday.

Griffith pointed out that strip-cropping alone has made a tremendous change in Monroe county farming since 1936. In that year, very little strip-cropping was practiced here in comparison with the 345 acres in strip cultivation during the last growing season.

In addition, 163 acres of Monroe farmland were seeded into ladino pasture during 1950, another 1,035 acres were seeded in rye grass, and 282 acres of special winter cover crops were laid out.

The 411 farms participating in last year's program here also cleared a total of 82 acres of wasted acreage for new pasture and, in the woodlot preservation campaign, a total of 36,000 trees were planted.

Under the PMA program, farmers receive assistance on the share-the-cost basis in carrying out the various practices. This assistance averages about half of the out-of-pocket costs of the practices.

Griffith explained that, to be eligible for assistance under the program, practices must be carried out in accordance with specifications. This, he said, is to assure full value in results for tax payers' funds used.

Reeder Resigns As Commissioner

Easton (AP)—United States Commissioner Frank Reeder, Jr., announced yesterday he has resigned. The resignation, submitted to U. S. district court, is to be effective May 1 when he completes 25 years in the post, Reeder said. He is a former secretary of the Northampton County Bar Association.

Truck Hits Wall; Driver Killed

Wilkes-Barre (AP)—Howard Hines 45, of Hunlock Creek, was killed yesterday when his coal truck struck a stone wall and overturned near Plymouth.

Hines was trapped in the cab as the heavily loaded truck left the highway, hit the soft shoulder, rammed into a stone wall and then overturned. It required nearly an hour to free his body from the cab.

Survivors include his widow and three children, two of them twin sons.

Winner of top beauty honors: Hollywood's Society of Motion Picture Art Directors selects the 1951 Packard as "the car which embodies the most advanced concepts of automobile styling."

Car details as shown are subject to change without notice

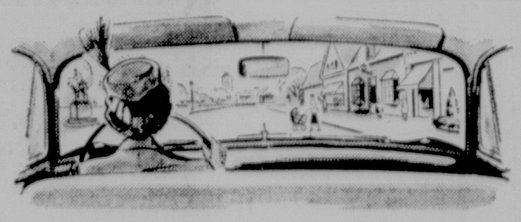
To every woman under 5-feet-5!

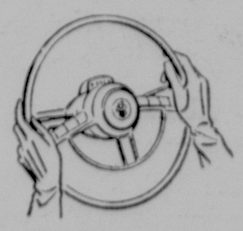
Packard, as you already know, has provided generously for today's giants . . .

(Examples: Seats as wide as the car is high. Enough headroom for a 6-footer wearing a cowboy hat. Largest trunk of any sedan on the road.)

Now, let's see a few typical examples of what Packard has done for the not-so-tall folks, in America's newest new car . . .

Wonderful new outlook: Packard's new kind of low-level hood gives you real "close-up safety vision" . . . lets you see both front fenders, for safer passing, dent-free parking. New one-piece windshield (nearly five feet wide) and narrower corner pillars give you a clear panoramic view.





Tops in handling ease, too—because Packard (and Packard alone) gives you Ultramatic Drive . . . with a combination of smoothness, quietness, flexibility, and positive control no other drive can match. And steering ease? Here's a car that actually handles, in traffic, with as little effort as it takes to turn a door knob in your home! Come drive it!

It's more than a car--it's a PACKARD ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

Scholarship Exam Slated For May 4

Annual State scholarship examination for Monroe county secondary school students and graduates will be conducted Friday, May 4, in Stroudsburg High school auditorium.

The three-hour examination will begin at 8:45 a. m.

According to Superintendent of Schools John C. Litts, the contest is arranged only for those who are contestants for the Pennsylvania State scholarships, 80 of which are awarded each year.

He stressed the contest is not intended as a basis for the awarding of any other scholarships, and is not to be construed as an all-senior contest.

He added that other agencies, however, are encouraged to use the results of the contest as a basis for their awards.

Students 21 or over are not eligible for the examination. Students who graduated at mid-year or who will graduate this spring are eligible for the examination.

Pupils to whom scholarships are available must attend a college or university in Pennsylvania which is approved by the State Council of Education.

Scholarship winners will receive $100 for each of the four years of college work.

Snydersville

Mrs. John McConnell
Stbg. 2921-R-1

The seventh and eighth grade pupils of the Snydersville school spent some time on Friday afternoon beautifying their school grounds by planting trees and shrubbery in front of their building. The children were divided into teams. The girls doing the one side, and the boys the other. Each team felt that its side did the better job. The rest of the afternoon was spent in singing songs, reciting poems, and giving readings in keeping with the occasion. Several vocal numbers, solos, duets and trios were also rendered.

Pfc. Glenn Shook, who has been visiting his parents and his sister, Sonia, has left by plane for Camp Atterbury, Ind., where he is stationed with the 28th Division.

Mrs. Florence Dennis and children, Shirley and Susan, and Mrs. Jennie Smith visited Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shaffer and children on Sunday.

Ernest Neyhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verdon Neyhart, spent several days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strunk, of Poplar Valley.

Edward Shaffer and daughter, Lois, visited Newton Dennis and daughter, Susan, and also Mrs. Jennie Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neyhart and children, Jimmie, Bonnie, Douglas and Diane, and Mr. and Mrs. Verdon Neyhart and children, Bobby and Ernest, called on Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strunk, of Poplar Valley, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hawley and daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bond on Monday night.

Foremen's Club To Entertain At Ladies Night Dinner Dance

The Monroe County Foremen's and Industrial club's ladies night dinner dance will be held Tuesday, May 1, beginning at 6:30 p. m., in Bartonsville hotel.

Samuel Zaccaro is chairman of the ladies night committee. A large attendance is expected for the affair. Yesterday nearly 100 persons had signed up for reservations.

Boutonnieres will be presented all ladies and door prizes will be awarded to both club members and guests.

Several cake walks are planned and the proceeds of these will be used to send six boys to Camp Hugh Beaver for two weeks this summer.

Music for square and ballroom dancing will be provided by Ernie Bittenbender and his orchestra.

Mount Bethel GI Wounded

Mount Bethel — Pfc. Donald W Meyers, 21, of Mount Bethel RD 1, has been wounded in action in Korea, according to casualty lists released by the Defense department.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyers, of Mount Bethel, Private Meyers was wounded in the knee on March 24 by explosion of an enemy grenade. He is now hospitalized and reported recuperating.

He enlisted in the army on Aug. 4, 1950, and completed his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. Before entering service he was employed by E. Shoemaker, Mount Bethel contractor.

The walnut and cherry are two trees exploited both for their produce and their wood.

300 County Seniors Indicate Job Preferences With Nursing, Clerical, Armed Forces Tops

Educators from Stroudsburg school district and other schools under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent yesterday continued work on a series of guidance programs which will be broadcast over WVPO.

Taking part in the job of sorting approximately 500 questions from 300 county seniors were John C. Litts, county superintendent; Walter H. Sebring, assistant superintendent; Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of East Stroudsburg public schools; Lawrence L. Wile, supervising principal of Pocono Township school, and Samuel O. Wells III, vice principal of Stroudsburg High school.

A survey of vocational preferences was made in senior classes throughout the county. The results were compiled yesterday and will be discussed by a five-member panel during the four broadcasts.

The survey revealed that first occupation choice of seniors polled was nursing. Commercial secretarial work was second.

In the third place slot was armed forces. Students indicated a desire to know about the armed forces, since the possibility of service is a very real possibility for youths in the 18-year-old bracket.

Other occupational choices in order of their preference, which students signified a desire to have more knowledge of, were airline hostess, teaching profession, medicine, agriculture, law, engineering, art and interior decorating.

Also art and interior decorating, auto mechanic, funeral director, salesman, telephone operator, television and electronics, beauty culture, veterinarian, radio, homemaking and music education.

Representative panel members will be chosen for these various vocations. Occupation will be discussed from the standpoint of advantages, disadvantages, educational requirements and opportunity.

The guidance programs, which will be transcribed and broadcast on Sundays, are being arranged by county educators as a means of aiding parents to assist their children in the choice of a successful career or vocation.

Man Gored To Death By Bull

Wilkes-Barre (AP)—An 89-year-old Roaring Brook farmer was gored to death by a Guernsey bull in a barn yesterday.

Darious Crage was the victim. The body was found by Crage's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Claude Crage.

Alloy Reduces Plane Weights

Pittsburgh (AP)—A new super-strength aluminum alloy developed by Aluminum Company of America may make it possible for future warplanes to fly faster and farther with increased bomb loads, the company claimed yesterday.

The new alloy, reported 10 per cent stronger than any aluminum alloy now in use, is available now only for experimental and controlled production. Plane weights may be reduced since less metal will be needed to meet structural strength requirements. In turn this means additional bombs, more fuel for longer range, more guns and increased speeds.

He's grown—fast!

Pearl Harbor—1941, Korea—1951. Only ten years. But in that time the Bell System's capacity to serve the Nation has literally doubled!

And the Long Distance telephone network which ties America together has grown even more. In 1941, there was very little coaxial cable in use. Radio relay was still in an experimental stage. Yet today there are 8,000 miles of coaxial cable in service—plus thousands of miles of radio relay. And Long Distance telephone circuits have increased in ten years from about 4,800,000 miles to 20,800,000.

In times like these, telephone lines are defense lines. For they are helping America rush its big production program. It's fortunate this nationwide network has grown so big, so fast.

Customers' Corner

Courtesy doesn't add anything to the high quality or superior value of the food you buy at A&P.

But it is the ingredient that makes your shopping trip a pleasant experience rather than a tiresome task.

That is why the men and women who operate your A&P work hard not only to give you prompt and efficient service, but to be courteous and friendly, as well.

They know that even the pressures of rush-hour shopping are no excuse for rudeness.

If they ever fail to make your trip to A&P a pleasant one, they want to know about it. Please write:

Britain Asks Help

London, (AP)—The British Labor government, shaken by left-wing thunderings, called for American help has to check a raw materials crisis threatening the nation's economy. U. S. Secretary of State Acheson pledged at a Washington news conference that the United States will take "full account of essential needs" of friendly nations in allocating scarce raw materials.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS AND SPECIFICATIONS

Borough of Stroudsburg, Pa.

Sealed bids will be received by the Borough of Stroudsburg for furnishing the following materials:

1. Approximately 150 tons of Pa. No. 1-B aggregate and 250 tons of Pa. No. 2-B aggregate. The aggregate shall be obtained from tough, durable rock. It shall be 100 per cent crushed and screened to meet the specifications of Type A aggregate of Pennsylvania Department of Highways. The price bid shall be the price per ton delivered and spread as directed on several streets in the Borough of Stroudsburg. An alternate bid shall be the price per ton at the quarry.

2. Approximately 16,000 gallons of Penna. C-1, H-1 and/or F-3 bituminous material. The bituminous material shall conform to the specifications of the Asphalt Institute and shall be heated before application as directed. The Borough reserves the right to select the type of bituminous material to be used. The price bid shall be the price per gallon applied by approved pressure distributor in truck load lots on several streets in the Borough of Stroudsburg at such time or times as may be designated by the Borough Council or its authorized agent.

The successful bidder is required to furnish a Performance Bond in the amount of fifty per cent. (50%) of the amount of the contract within ten days after the contract has been awarded and upon failure to execute a proper agreement or to furnish Bond within such time the previous award shall be void.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified check in an amount equal to ten per cent. (10%) of the amount of the bid. The certified check will be retained to pay for any damage or loss to the Borough in case the successful bidder shall neglect or refuse to enter into a contract in accordance with his bid.

Sealed bids must be in the hands of the Secretary not later than 6:30 o'clock P. M. (E. S. T.), May 2, 1951, at which time said bids will be opened and read in open meeting of Council in the Council Room of the Municipal Building.

The Borough Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By Order of the Borough Council,
HAROLD E. SNYDER,
Borough Secretary

Red Attackers Reach Uijongbu

400,000 Enemy Troops Peril Rubbled Seoul

Tokyo, Friday (AP) — Red Chinese attack waves swept to within 11 miles of Seoul today but the Allied field commander said they would be stopped north of the Han river.

The statement came from Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet on a surprise visit to the front.

The Reds have 400,000 men in the west menacing Seoul.

"I do," Van Fleet snapped in answer to a war correspondent's query on whether he believed his Eighth Army could stop the Chinese and hold north of the Han.

The Han flows along the southern fringes of Seoul.

While Van Fleet indicated he hoped to stop the Red rush short of Seoul, the statement did not necessarily mean the ruined old capital would be defended.

Seoul now is without military value. The months of Korean warfare have demonstrated that the city is almost impossible to dedenf.

The Reds in their drive southward fought into the outskirts of Uijongbu, 11 miles north of Seoul.

They followed up a continuing, orderly Allied withdrawal toward a line where United Nations forces hope to stand and hold.

The Red advance is being made at a tremendous cost in manpower. Communists killed by ground artillery and air action since Sunday were officially estimated at more than 30,000.

The Allied line in the west stood just north of Uijongbu after the latest fallback on the approaches to Seoul. Chinese cavalry supported a Red infantry attack which was stopped by rearguards of the withdrawing Allied column northeast of Uijongbu.

General Van Fleet said the permanent holding line had not yet been established and that the withdrawals continued in orderly fashion.

Van Fleet dropped in unannounced at a division command post today. After being briefed, he told frontline correspondents:

"We are withdrawing in order. We are keeping units intact. We are taking a tremendous toll of the enemy while enduring minimum ourselves."

Field dispatches said the Allied forces were putting up a strong fight just north of Uijongbu.

On the central front U. N. forces abandoned the Hwachon reservoir and withdrew to the 38th parallel. Red pressure from a force of more than 100,000 was reported decreasing in the center.

On the east-central front Allied forces beat back four night attacks.

The big push was aimed toward Seoul from the north and northeast. The capital city itself, a mass of rubble from previous poundings, was written off by Allied commanders long ago as an item of any military value.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE ARMY Earl D. Johnson (left) joins Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway in an inspection of part of his Far Eastern command at the Matsushima Air Force base in Japan. Ridgway, who is also commander of the United Nations forces in Korea, later made a flying visit to the front where the Communist enemy has launched its third major attack.

Meat Shortages Spreading; Blamed On Partway Controls

(By the Associated Press)

Meat shortages are turning up here and there across the country. Packers say they're only mild so far in some places, but worst since World War Two in others.

Mostly the shortages are blamed on "partway" price controls which have disrupted normal meat distribution.

An Associated Press survey of large dealers in 15 cities showed:

Lamb scarce almost everywhere—partly a seasonal condition before spring lambs reach market in volume.

Beef and veal supplies below normal to very tight in New York, Los Angeles, New Orleans, Charlotte, N. C., Chicago, Richmond, Boston, New Haven, Conn., and Baltimore. (The Dominican Republic information office in New York announced plans to fly 450,000 pounds of beef into the New York market in the next month because of the shortage).

Adequate supplies (except lamb) in Detroit, Atlanta, San Francisco, St. Louis, Kansas City, Dallas.

Pork and poultry apparently are in normal supply all over.

Most of the packers questioned blamed the shortages on the fact that livestock prices were allowed to go on up after the general price freeze put ceiling on meat.

They said small processors with higher ceilings were thus able to buy animals away from the big packers. This has taken meat supplies out of normal channels in many areas, forcing retailers to seek out meat from other than customary sources—and usually at higher prices. That's how black markets develop, industry spokesmen point out.

Some slaughterers and packers caught in this squeeze have been forced to reduce or suspend operations. Many are buying only enough meat to keep plants running—often at a loss. Others have sent workers on early vacations.

The situation has curtailed the low-priced meat available to many competitive stores which entered the price-freeze with low retail ceilings.

Duff One Of Ten 'Honest' Politicians

The awards, presented in Vice President Barkley's reception room in the Capitol, went to Senators Duff (R-Pa), Lehman (D-Lib-NY), Morse (R-Ore), Russell (D-Ga) and Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me), and Reps. Case (R-NJ), Jackson (D-Wash), Javits (R-NY), Mitchell (D-Wash) and Patman (D-Tex).

"Believing that government of the people, by the people and for the people flourishes in direct proportion to the integrity of the people's chosen representatives," the scrolls read, "the publishers and editors present this honor scroll in recognition of an outstanding record for honesty, independence and leadership in the 82nd Congress of the United States of America."

In presenting the scrolls, A. Lawrence Holmes, publisher of the magazine, praised the 10 for being "willing to stick their necks out" to fight for principles.

Settle Minor Points

Washington, (AP) — Senate and House conferees settled differences yesterday on a number of minor points in draft-universal military training legislation. But they didn't get around to the big isues: Compulsory military training for nearly all young men in the future, and the question of lowering the draf. age to 18 or 18½ years.

U. S. Policy In Vacuum, Gen. MacArthur Charges

Chicago (AP) — General MacArthur told a cheering crowd in Soldier field last night he will continue to fight for "a positive and realistic policy" in the Far East.

The "old soldier," speaking from a spotlighted platform in the huge lake front amphitheater, raised the question:

"What is our policy for Korea?"

He said "our losses there in ratio to men committed already have reached staggering proportions."

The "tragedy" of this, he declared, is that since the Chinese Reds joined in the fighting our policy has been in a "vacuum."

General MacArthur, ousted from his Far Eastern posts by President Truman, on April 11, made a grim, fighting address at the climax of a civic reception for him in Soldier Field.

Andy Frain, chief of the crew of ushers estimated the crowd at 50,000.

MacArthur termed the current situation "completely unrealistic."

"Although my public life now is closed," the general began, but he was interrupted by the audience.

Cries of "no, no," rolled across the field.

Mrs. MacArthur and their son Arthur shook their heads at this expression from the audience.

"It is closed," MacArthur insisted.

But, he added, he would exercise his responsibilities of citizenship.

"I shall continue," he said, "to advocate a positive and realistic policy for Korea."

He called for a policy unswerved by "political pressure from abroad," and designed to bring the Korean fighting to an honorable end with a minimum loss of American lives. He also pledged he would fight against Communism as long as God gives him strength.

MacArthur said he had tried to "keep the issue on a higher level than partisan politics."

The general's speech introduced a grave note into what had been an evening of merry celebration. Crowds estimated between 3,500,000 and 4,500,000 hailed him during a 23-mile ride through Chicago yesterday afternoon.

The throngs in the vast 100,000-seat stadium cheered him when he reached the stadium in an open car. The car slowly circled a track around the border of the grassy infield. He was showered with confetti. Sparklers glittered as he was greeted by a 17-gun salute. Before he left he was saluted again with a burst of rockets and blaze of fireworks.

There were other light moments. One of them was when the general walked up to the platform, tall and erect and trim in a trenchcoat. Mrs. MacArthur, bundled in a fur coat with a cluster of orchids on the left shoulder, already was on the rostrum. MacArthur strode over and kissed her.

Mayor Martin H. Kennelly presented a book to the general, and five-star brooch to his wife. Their son, Arthur, 13 received a model of his dad's plane, the "Bataan."

The family enjoyed a warm reception from a topcoated crowd that half-filled the stadium in 43-degree chill on the breezy lake front.

From the time MacArthur stepped smartly from his plane at Midway airport at 12:20 p.m. CST until he entered his suite in the Stevens hotel at 3:10, he was the center of the biggest and noisiest demonstration in the history of Chicago and the midwest.

Washington, (AP)—Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, 59, who was assistant chief of staff under Gen. Douglas MacArthur, is to be relieved in May, the Defense department reported last night.

Orders have been issued for General Willoughby to report to Lettermen Army hospital in San Francisco, apparently for a routine physical examination.

The date of General Willoughby's departure from Tokyo, where he has been serving as intelligence officer, is to be fixed by MacArthur's successor, Lt. Gen. Matthew Ridgway.

Didn't See Each Other

Key West, Fla., (AP)—A naval board of inquiry was told yesterday that a Cuban airliner and a Navy trainer plane apparently did not see each other until just a moment before the collision which cost 42 lives. The witness was Seaman M. C. Witherington of Goldsboro, N. C.

Taft Charges HST Controls Joint Chiefs

Washington, (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) charged yesterday that the Joint Chiefs of Staff are "absolutely under control of the administration."

His statement was promptly challenged by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark), who called it a "dangerous doctrine" to spread.

Taft, Republican policy chief in the Senate, spoke out as the debate over Far Eastern policy and the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur roared on.

He interrupted a formal speech by Fulbright, who had said he was willing to follow the recommendations of the Joint Chiefs on military policy.

Taft said a speech by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, in Chicago last week was a foreign policy speech "written in effect, by the State department."

That, said Taft, "is the thing that has shaken my confidence" in the Joint Chiefs.

In his Chicago address, Bradley backed President Truman and said in effect that MacArthur's policies would lead to World War Three.

In taking issue with Taft, Fulbright said any idea that the Joint Chiefs are "political stooges" for the President "is a very dangerous doctrine to spread across the United States."

Fulbright said he is sure Bradley would not express views to which he did not subscribe. He added Bradley and the State department may be in agreement, and declared there is nothing wrong in that.

Earlier, Senator Wherry (R-Neb), proposed making the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's ouster a full-scale probe of administration foreign policy actions dating back to World War Two.

Symington Gains Initial Approval For RFC Office

Washington, (AP) — W. Stuart Symington, government administrator, convinced the Senate Banking committee yesterday that he's the man to take over the oft-criticized RFC.

The committee questioned him closely for two hours and then voted to approve his nomination as one-man boss of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The giant government lending agency has been under fire in Congress for months because of charges by a Senate investigating committee that it yielded to political influence in making millions of dollars worth of loans.

If the Senate approves his nomination, he will take office as administrator about the end of the month, replacing the present five-man board of directors.

HST Declines Comment On Bomb Issue

Washington (AP)—President Truman warned anew yesterday that "the Communist rulers" may cause the war in Korea to spread. If they do, he said, they must face "the awful responsibility for what may follow."

Mr. Truman said the Communists also can choose to make a peaceful settlement. The United Nations forces, he said, "will strive to limit the conflict if possible."

Seizing on the words "if possible," a reporter asked whether Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, successor to Gen. Douglas MacArthur as U.N. commander in Korea, has been given authority to bomb Red bases in Manchuria if he deems it necessary.

The President's reply: No comment.

At yesterday's news conference Mr. Truman gave Secretary of State Acheson a new vote of confidence. He denied a published report that Paul Hoffman, former Marshall plan administrator, may succeed Acheson. He said he already had a secretary with whom he was very well satisfied.

There was a flurry of questioning about MacArthur, who was fired by the President for publicly advocating stronger measures against the Chinese Reds than the administration has been willing to allow.

Mr. Truman said that MacArthur is free to say and do what he pleases; that the President won't pull any strings on him.

One newsman brought up a statement by Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's spokesman, that the general still doesn't know why he was removed.

Everybody else knows why, Mr. Truman said, thus provoking a roar of laughter.

There was more laughter when he said that while MacArthur, as a five-star general, has a lifetime Army post, and is subject to being called back for further assignments, he hasn't any job in mind for the general at present.

State Wage-Hour Measure Under Study In House

Harrisburg, (AP) — Workers in hundreds of small businesses in Pennsylvania would be affected by a proposed new minimum wage law now before the General Assembly.

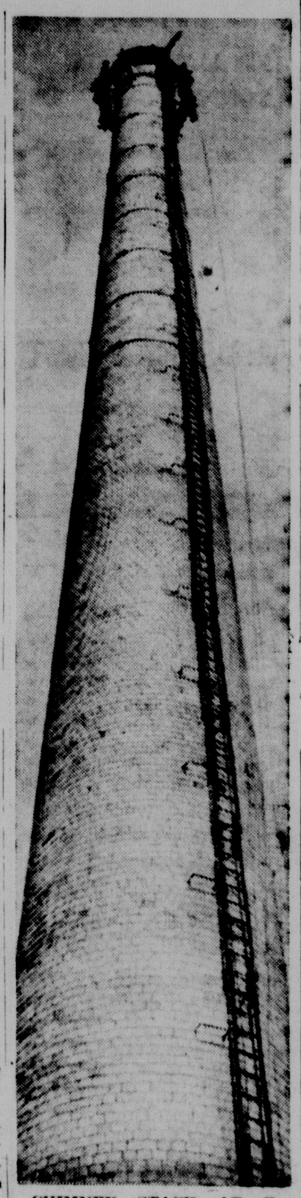
The bill would establish a minimum wage level of 75 cents an hour in Pennsylvania, similar to the present Federal law.

The proposed minimum wage level would affect workers in small busineses such as laundries, stores and restaurants, who are now receiving under 75 cents an hour.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. John Mazza (R-Washington), is now under study in the House Ways and Means committee.

In addition to fixing the minimum 75-cent hourly wage scale for all workers over 21, the bill would require time-and-one-half pay for all over 40 hours a week.

The present minimum wage law in Pennsylvania provides no overall minimum wage level.



CHIMNEY STACK AT East Stroudsburg State Teachers College is undergoing repairs. Work crews on the 190-foot stack are placing wide metal bands around the structure. Chimney is 24 years old and has an underground depth of 28 feet.

House Okays Defense Fund

Washington (AP)—The House voted an extra $6,468,206,000 for defense yesterday without questioning a single dollar of it.

The emergency military spending bill was passed by voice vote, and with no amendments, just 24 hours after the appropriations committee sent it to the House floor. It now goes to the Senate.

Most of the new money is to be spent in the next two months for a buildup in military manpower and a speedup in providing war weapons. If the Senate approves the full sum, it will bring the Armed forces' spending for the present fiscal year to around $48,500,000,000.

Man Run Over By Own Auto

Titusville, (AP) — Calvin A. Wright, 70, fell out of his car yesterday trying to park it on a one-way street.

The auto ran over both of his legs and kept going in a circle. John S. Haskell, local insurance man, spotted the moving vehicle and brought it to a halt.

Wright was quite happy to learn he was unhurt. Haskell was even happier. His firm covered Wright's insurance.

Czechs Jail Oatis

Frankfurt, Germany (AP) — The Czechoslovak government has jailed William N. Oatis, one of two American correspondents remaining in Prague, on charges of hostile activities and spreading secret information.

Higher Taxes, 'Fair' Price Ceilings Asked

Washington (AP)—President Truman urged Congress yesterday to "hold the line" in the cost of living battle, to provide "fair ceilings on prices, including the price of farm products, and on rents."

He called too for increased taxes, increased personal savings, tighter controls over credit and materials and leveling off of wages and salaries at "fair" figures.

"This is an anti-inflation program that will work," he said in a message asking Congress to change and extend the defense production act for two years beyond June 30.

He said the need was urgent, that "inflationary pressures, which are serious now, will be critical" next fall and winter when "the economy will be hit by the full impact of military production."

In another note of urgency, he said he hopes the country will be "over the hump" of its defense mobilization in about two years from now if world war is avoided, but:

"The world situation could explode at any time, and we must make every day count."

Mr. Truman's plans for action on farm prices drew instant opposition from Agriculture committeemen in Congress. In brief, he asked that:

One—Parity prices—theoretical farm prices which under the law are declared fair to farmers and consumers—be figured out once a year. Then, for price control purposes, the figures would be frozen for the rest of the year, instead of fluctuating monthly as now.

Two—That the government be permitted to set price ceilings on most farm products at parity. He would retain a provision in present law which says that in the case of a number of products (including beef cattle, veal calves, sheep, lambs, wool and mohair), ceilings must be set above parity. None of these could be frozen below prices prevailing during the month before the Korean war started.

Mr. Truman did not claim that this would cut the housewife's present grocery bill. Instead its purposes is to slow down any future increases.

There was no sign of any intention to order any substantial rollback in those farm prices which are now above parity. Cotton price ceilings, for example, are now set far above parity to encourage production and there was no expectation that they would be cut.

Mr. Truman suggested, in case his plan doesn't work, that Congress consider subsidies to farmers, such as were used in the last war to keep farm income up and consumer prices down.

He emphasized that to combat inflation all the people must pitch in and help.

"It is obvious," he said in discussing wages and prices, "that workers will have to forego substantial increases in wages which would be permissible if the dangers of inflation were not so great — just as businessmen and farmers will have to forego substantial increases in income for the same reason."

"Our simple, central goal must be to bring the rise in prices and the cost of living to a halt—and hold the line," he said, offering a five-point program:

"One—Most important of all, we must increase taxes quickly and adequately. (He said this means, at least, enactment of the $10,000,000,000 new tax bill pending in Congress.)

"Two—We must increase personal savings—dollars saved now are subtracted from the buying power pushing prices upward, and will be available later when more consumer goods will be produced.

"Three—We must reduce borrowing and buying on credit for non-defense purposes — by consumers and business men — since borrowed money adds to the pressure on prices.

"Four—We must have fair ceilings on prices, including the prices of farm products, and on rents, in order to stabilize the cost of living during the defense period, to hold down the cost of the defense program to the taxpayers, and to prevent profiteering.

"Five—We must stabilize wages and salaries at fair levels, to restrain excessive consumer demand and to prevent rising business costs from forcing price increases."

Mr. Truman also proposed that the government be empowered to build defense plants itself, if necessary. He suggested, too, that it be allowed to subsidize high cost producers where needed to get vital production without increasing price ceilings.

He further called for "stronger means to enforce price control regulations" and said "it is obvious that controls over materials will have to become tighter and tighter as more and more of them will be diverted to defense production."

Appointed To Cabinet

London (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee completed today a reshuffle of his cabinet, hard hit by death and resignations, by appointing Richard Stokes lord privy seal.

Eisenhower Accused Of Interfering In Allied Political Problem During World War Two

New York, (AP)—Like General MacArthur at a later date, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was accused of interfering in a political problem—the capture of Berlin during World War Two—Gen. Omar Bradley writes in his forthcoming book.

Eisenhower messaged Prime Minister Stalin, directly, about the plan to halt the Allied armies on the Elbe river.

This message, and especially the decision, drew the wrath of Britain's fiery prime minister, Winston Churchill, Bradley says in the current installment of his book appearing in Life magazine.

"Although Churchill protested Eisenhower's radio to Moscow as an unwarranted intrusion by the military into a political problem, he reserved his angriest vituperation for the plan Eisenhower had proposed.

"The prime minister, according to Eisenhower, was 'greatly disappointed and disturbed' that SHAEF had not reinforced (British Gen. Sir Bernard) Montgomery with American troops and pointed him toward Berlin in a desperate effort to capture that city before the Russians took it," Bradley writes.

The decision to stop at the Elbe, rather than to drive on into Berlin, was taken to avoid casualties, and to minimize the risk of an accidental collision between the Allied armies, moving east, and the Russians, coming across Germany toward the west.

Bradley says Eisenhower asked him what the drive might cost, and that he estimated 100,000 casualties.

"A pretty stiff price to pay for a prestige objective," I said, "especially when we've got to fall back and let the other fellow take over."

Even in the earliest contacts with the Soviet forces, in 1945, the Russians were suspicious and secretive, Bradley reports.

In one instance, he says a Soviet division was opposite an American division. The Soviet commander asked an American general whether "your people are digging in opposite us." In some surprise, the American officer replied that they were not, that they considered the Russians as Allies.

The Red general then ordered his men to stop digging in, too.

Bradley says he personally showed a Russian field marshal the disposition of the American divisions wher the armies finally met. The marshal, he writes, was extremely startled.

The fourth and concluding installment of the book, "A Soldier's Story," recounts the movements during the Battle of the Bulge and the row over the allocation of command of some American forces to Montgomery.

Bradley says that both he and the late Gen. George Patton, were prepared to resign if they were ordered to continue under Montgomery after the bulge fighting ended.

Business News In Monroe Area

A survey conducted among Pocono Mountains resorts indicates that although summer rates for 1951 average slightly higher than last year, figures show that rates increased only three to five per cent. Most operators raised rates to offset correspondingly higher labor and provision prices.

Operators reported their costs have risen 25 to 35 per cent. Linen and laundry services, provisions, and labor have all contributed to this general price rise. Rates this year range from $5.50 a day for singles to $16 a day for single first class accommodations.

Optimistic notes are contained in reports that prospects are good-to-better than 1950 on reservations.

Edward C. Jenkins, president of Vacation Bureau reflects this optimism with a statement that "Summer business in the Poconos should be from 15 to 20 per cent ahead of last year in guest volume and seven to 15 per cent ahead in net profits for the 201 members of vacation bureau."

U. S. Department of Labor reported yesterday union scales of Scranton building trades workers rose 1.7 percent during the first quarter of 1951, as compared to an advance of .08 per cent in the country as a whole. These findings are based on a quarterly survey of seven major building trades in 85 cities. . . .

PP & L Co. said yesterday earnings after all charges accruing to common stock for 12 months ended March 31 were $9,124,740, equivalent to $2.41 per share of common stock outstanding at such date.

Operating revenues for the first three months ending March 31 were $21,643,510, an increase of 11.3 per cent over last year's corresponding period.

Local Chiropodists are expected to attend the Atlantic City, N. J. Scientific Program of region three, National Association of Chiropodists, sponsored by the affiliated State Chiropody Societies of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

Dr. J. E. Arnold and Dr. William C. Kopenhaver are members of the Pennsylvania Society and will attend the sessions May 11, 12 and 13. A record display of 80 technical exhibits, largest in the history of chiropody conventions, will be arranged.

Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, covering Monroe County region, said yesterday department store sales for March continued to show a gain over a year ago. After special allowance for an earlier Easter this year, sales for the Third Reserve District were eight per cent above 1950, but below the previous month.

Preliminary sales figures indicate that activity varied among the major departments. Sales of piece goods and household textiles, and housefurnishings were under a year ago while small wares registered no change. Although apparel and accessories lines showed increases, their response to the earlier date of Easter was not as great as might have been expected.

Department stores continued to carry larger inventories in March, the bank said.

Three hundred and forty employes of Philadelphia Sales Division, Philadelphia Refinery, and the Refinery Technology Laboratory, of the Gulf Oil Corporation have been awarded diamond and ruby service award buttons for periods of service ranging from ten to 35 years.

H. A. Gidney, Gulf executive vice president, paying tribute to employees, said the company had attained its highest evaluation in history with total assets of approximately one and a third billion dollars. That figure represents an investment of $25,600 for each employee.

The average U. S. farm had a net income of about $350 in 1900 and this grew to $2,225 in 1950.

Experts Devise 'Oldish' Effect

Paint authorities have now devised a way to obtain an old and weatherbeaten effect on new knotty pine woodwork.

To secure the effect, paint experts advise, first sponge the surface with a fairly strong solution of ammonia or soda. If a dark finish is preferred, make a stain of raw umber thinned with turpentine and add enough varnish to bind it. Prepared varnish stains are also available for this purpose. A thin coat of reduced shellac or dull varnish may then be applied, followed by a coating of wax.

Lions Book King Circus

The local Lions club has announced the booking for this territory under Lions sponsorship of the King Brothers three ring circus, which will perform afternoon and night on Thursday, June 14. The show will be given at the old Stroud baseball park, East Stroudsburg.

King Brothers show is ranked about third in size among the great circuses of the world at present. A super attraction to be presented here is found in the herd of 15 elephants which will be shown in the animal tent and parade through the streets of the twin boroughs on circus day.

The size of the elephant herd is regarded as a good test of the size of the show. "Old John," one of the largest elephants in captivity, and the star of the King Brothers' herd of pachyderms is said to be 105 years old. The famous equestrians, the Christiani family, now part owners in the King Brothers show, will perform here.

Advance man Paul Forrester of the circus was here last week and conferred with officials of the Lions club, including the board of directors and the extra-curricular activities committee at the office of Jack Kitchen, Stroudsburg tax-collector on Sixth St.

Part of the contract with the local club provides against any gambling game or so-called gaming attraction anywhere on the show grounds.

Adoption Bill Hearings

Monroe County's Children's Aid Society, through Mrs. Frank L. Patterson and its affiliation with the State Society, has taken a stand on bills in the Senate which, if enacted, would revise the child adoption program of the Commonwealth.

Mrs. Patterson, a local society board member, is also a member of the board of directors of the State Society.

Crux of the position adopted welcomes action on the measures, but strongly suggests they be amended to extend and strengthen local agencies in all counties of the Commonwealth not only in connection with adoption, but in the entire Child Welfare field.

Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania directors last Friday voted unanimously to endorse the adoption bills with the following amendments:

That the state shall help localities build up their own adoption programs rather than set up an adoption service on a state-wide basis.

That the provision requiring an agency to place a child in the home designated by the own parent be taken out. In suggesting that this provision be removed, "we in no way wish to detract from parents' rights, but rather to reaffirm our belief in parents' basic rights and responsibilities in caring for and planning for their children," director maintained.

The need for sound legislation on adoption procedures has been widely recognized and acclaimed. Children's Aid Society proposal to localize the adoption service program is sound.

As a result of various pressures, for and against the measure, a sub-committee composed of Senators A. Evans Kephart, Dent and McPherson, was set up to find a common base of agreement and report its findings to the full committee headed by Mr. Kephart.

We maintain this sub-committee must call in groups and individuals interested in and informed about adoptions, so that a more complete backdrop of experience, opinion and knowledge would be available.

It would be a serious mistake to avoid a public hearing. The bills need an airing—to have them bottled up and quietly put to permanent rest without an opportunity for the concerned public to state its views and convictions on them, would not be in the public interest.

Senator A. Evans Kephart may be helped in arriving at such a conclusion if enough of the public informs him of its concern.

It Wouldn't Be Fair, Either

Two members of the House of Representatives at Harrisburg have just introduced a bill to outlaw the sale of artificially-colored butter.

Butter, at some seasons of the year, requires artificial coloring to make it yellow.

The new bill was introduced by two legislators from Delaware County, James N. Robertson and Robert J. Clendening.

This bill will be looked on as ridiculous, inane, asinine, discriminatory and silly by most people. Prohibit the coloring of butter, indeed!

And none will scoff more than people in the butter industry.

Mr. Robertson and Mr. Clendening say frankly they have no hope of getting their bill out of the House Agriculture Committee.

But this is the same committee which has bottled up bills to repeal a law—now actually on the books—which prohibits the artificial coloring of margarine.

Mr. Robertson and Mr. Clendening doubtless had their tongues in their cheeks when they introduced their bill.

Yet this bill is no more ridiculous, inane, asinine, discriminatory and silly than the no-color-margarine law which the House Agriculture Committee refuses to repeal.

Worry About Words

William I. Nichols, editor of "This Week" Magazine wants a new word for "Capitalism". The assumption is that words really matter. Call "Capitalism" or "Communism" or "Socialism" by any other name and nothing has been changed. It is like switching from "new deal" to "fair deal." What real change occurred?

Nichols says in his article that propagandists are able to make a good case against Communism, but, when it comes to capitalism, he quotes a top offial of "Our Overseas Information Program" as saying:

"But it's nowhere near as easy to make the good side of our society plain by using the word capitalism. That's important. We need a word to make people realize that the real source of hope, progress and prosperity rests with us."

According to Nichols, American business leaders say:

"We only muddle our own thinking when we use old words to describe new ideals."

I wonder whether it is true that we are dealing with new ideas or old words. The word "Capitalism" is comparatively new—just a century old, but the idea has been eternal in the human race, namely, that an individual is entitled to the use of his earnings from whatever source, to spend, to invest, to create new wealth, or to give away.

Capitalism functions best when the surplus over the cost of living is invested in the creation of additional wealth. Thus, the savings of millions of human beings have gone into the development of privately owned farms, factories, mills, mines, stores, and into the invention of new devices, commodities, and services.

This is the general nature of Capitalism, the most usual process of economics throughout history. Capitalism, however, must be associated with human freedom. Limitations of human freedom can only be sanctioned and implemented by government, When government abolishes freedom, despotism, autocracy, slavery, serfdom comes into existence. Also the private ownership of wealth disappears.

When the means of production, distribution, and exchange are owned by the government, the freedoms of the individual are limited. If they cease to exist altogether, a socialized state arises in which slavery may be normal.

Socialists dislike the statement that their advocacy of government ownership by democratic processes can only lead to government ownership by tyranny. But this has proved to be true in many countries of Europe. No matter how a so-called people's government starts, it becomes in time a Communist government.

Human freedom is a delicate system which requires the most careful balance between rights and responsibilities, between authority and obligation. Once this balance is upset, freedom diminishes and even disappears and in its place appears increasing state control, management and sometimes ownership of the economic process. The reaction to that may be revolution.

Therefore, the problem which Mr. Nichols poses has nothing to do with what word is used to describe capitalism, but what vigilance is employed to protect freedom. For capitalism is only a manifestation of freedom, one of many manifestations of freedom.

The problem then is freedom, that is, the right of the individual to live his own life in liberty as a characteristic of humanity... A characteristic produced by no philosopher or tyrant or ruler, nor even by a constitution or parliament or congress, but by "Nature's God and Nature's law." In a word, freedom derives from natural law, that is, from God's revelation to man.

In the effort that is being made by our State Deparement and the Voice of America and similar activities to "capture" the minds of men, it is not so much that new words need to be used as that old ideas have to be reiterated. Mr. Nichols says:

"...We know what our 'new capitalism' is producing for us and what it can produce anywhere if given a fair chance...."

But there is no new capitalism or old capitalism. There is only a life in which the individual is free to choose his way and form his pattern and there is a life in which the government masters the human being and holds him as a creature who exists for the state alone.

Either that is our story or we have none to tell, for if by the new capitalism is meant such an item as "unemployment has been reduced and controlled and is now a diminishing problem," it actually means nothing, because in Soviet Russia there is no unemployment but there is slavery. We have to deal with fundamentals if we are to make our problems understandable.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

To The Editors and Publishers!

Twelve hundred newspaper editors and publishers from all over the country are winding up a convention in New York. No group of men do more for less. A publisher is a magnet for complaints, a setup for kibitzers and an all-year target for inappreciation. He takes one of the most complicated jobs in the field of public service with nothing guaranteed him except high blood pressure, an early nervous breakdown and a nonstop supply of sleepless nights.

A newspaper publisher is a living refutation of the theory that head helmets, nose guards and shin guards are required only in football. His life journey is a trip through a concrete mixer billed as a pleasure cruise.

There are a thousand businesses and professions offering greater profit for less effort, fewer worries, better hours and a lower proportion of nightmares.

He is a producer, a stage director, a script writer and a backer of the only show on earth produced once every twenty-four hours with no two productions alike. If he hears any applause he is lucky. If he gets an Oscar he is a beneficiary of a rare break. He is a fellow congenitally indifferent to rough going and never so happy as when up against a fresh crisis.

He could get the same bruises playing pro hockey but prefers to get his abrasions on a harder schedule.

An editor is a public benefactor who does it the hard way.

He is a combined crusader, educator, entertainment genius, recorder of events, referee, judge, sleuth, interpreter, showman, guide and information bureau wizard. He is the only death-defying aerial acrobat outside the circus who insists upon working without a net. He is a lifeguard who works under water and likes to prove he can breathe without coming up for air.

An editor is a teacher to whom nobody brings red apples, an information booth director who doesn't take the usual time off for lunch, a bus driver who not only takes fares, issues transfers, drives the vehicle and answers foolish questions, but furnishes laughs and tears, and is always accurate with the weather forecasts.

His job is to provide a threering circus, a public forum, a health service and a super educational program, still giving the ball scores and keeping the births, marriages and deaths up to the minute.

He seldom gets a cheer for conducting a great battle in the public interest, but always can count on being denounced if he has the age wrong in an obituary.

Whatever he does today is gone with the wind; what he does tomorrow keeps him tossing all night tonight.

He is a man who thinks he is having a respite if the barrel in which he goes over the falls is halted for 20 seconds by hitting a protruding rock.

An editor is a guy who has to amuse and fascinate pop and mom without boring junior or the hired gal.

He is a man who thinks he is slipping unless he needs sleeping pills every night, and is sure something is wrong with him if he stops feeling tense.

We salute both the publishers and the editors in solemn conclave. We hope they enjoy themselves, look both ways before crossing Manhattan traffic and get good seats to the hit musicals. And we shall always think they are in the only profession where bumpers front and rear should be compulsory equipment. Selah!

Norman Rockwell, backing up his assertion that Vermonters have not lost their skill at horse-trading, tells about the Arlington feed merchant who thought he practically was stealing a roan mare from Squire Busby. Busby pocketed the money with the comment, "Reason I'm selling her is she just dont' look so good." "Looks fine to me," chuckled the feed merchant—but the next morning he was back hollering bloody murder.

"That mare you sold me is practically blind," he charged. "Sure is," agreed the squire. "I TOLD you she didn't look so good."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — Alan Ladd is a tough postal inspector in "Appointment with Danger." The crooks are planning a big mail robbery and, to catch 'em, he pretends to be a robber himself and muscles in on their scheme.

What got him into this mess was the strangulation murder of a fellow mail sleuth. On their trail, he becomes acquainted with a Catholic nun, the only person who can identify the killers. For suspense-heightening effect she's present and in deadly peril at the big climatic battle with fists and bullets.

All these are fairly standard Ladd heroics, more suspenseful than average, perhaps, in scenes showing the planning and execution of the stickup. Events promise a time or two to work up into the jewel-burglary in "The Asphalt Jungle" but never quite make it.

Ladd supposedly undergoes a slight spiritual awakening through his acquaintance with the nun, pleasantly played by Britain's Phyllis Calvert. "I have my guardian angel," she tells him confidently when danger looms. "So have I," he replies, patting the automatic under his belt. His admiration of her spiritual armor doesn't seem sufficient to send him to church next Sunday morning.

Exposing the beautiful Ladd body, usually in a swimming scene, is an apparent must for his pictures. This time it's accomplished on a handball court.

The assorted baddies are played competently by Paul Stewart, Jack Webb, and Henry Morgan, among others. Jan Sterling plays Stewart's moll with indolent airs remindful of "Born Yesterday's" Billie Dawn. After all, she portrayed that blonde keptee on the Chicago stage and followed Judy Holliday into the role on Broadway.

The company spent two weeks on location in Gary, Ind., and around Chicago.

"The Fat Man" introduces that radio detective (J. Scott Smart) to the screen in a rambling murder mystery. Emmett Kelly, long a clown star for Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey, also makes a film debut—as a clown. Slack-mouther Clinton Sundberg plays the sleuth's stooge-assistant. Some of the dialogue is dreary, and the Fat Man has an annoying habit of addressing women he has just met as "Sweetheart."

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — Administration leaders in the House of Representatives recently backed away from handing 2,000,000 tons of wheat to India as a gift. They've never been smarter.

House members were ready to toss the request for free wheat for India right back in the teeth of President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson. That was why Messrs. Truman and Acheson finally decided it might be better to "loan" India the money to buy the wheat. That was what the Indians had asked for originally, but the T-A team, in a typical display of open-handedness with the American taxpayers' money, decided it would be a nicer gesture just to give it to them.

Democratic congressional leaders are hopeful that we'll now forget all the fuss there has been about the proposition heretofore, and also forget just what kind of guys Indian Prime Minister Nehru and his playmates really are.

Secretary Acheson, of course, gave House leaders their marching orders about Nehru in recent testimony before a House committee. He wept on congressional shoulders about the starving Indians and the need for keeping Nehru's friendship.

I don't know about all the starvation, but nobody needs be in doubt about where Nehru stands. He keeps on rubbing the back of a character in China known as Mao Tse-Tung, boss man of the Communists there.

Anyway the issue of free or "loan" wheat for India is academic. India can and is buying huge quantities of American wheat and other grains. I took the trouble to survey west coast shipping ports to find out just how much is being shipped on American and foreign bottoms. It's quite a heap.

The Commodity Credit Corporation is coordinating wheat shipments to India. For March, April, and May the CCC has scheduled ships to carry 900,000 tons of grains to India. Nehru is handing over cash at the rate of $2.37 cents a bushel, including shipping charges And he hasn't made a beef as yet about the quality, quantity or price.

The Indian government has a lot of fat and wealthy princes cluttering up the area who could be tapped for a load of cash to feed the starving home folks if such is the case.

Actually it was only a short time ago that Nehru was in the U. S. tossing his weight around. He said then:

"We are too proud and confident of our convictions to accept favors from others. We shall make good in spite of everybody."

Those are nice sentiments and I'm for them. But 2,000,000 tons of wheat, free or "loaned," is quite a favor for a man who doesn't want to accept any favors. Maybe he meant to say, "or at least not many."

Naturally we all want India to make good, whatever that means. There is one thing the Orient is in need of, and that is a husky, energetic nation with a capitalistic outlook. If that's how Nehru wants to make good, we can all admire him. But does he?

Over in Communist China, across the border, Nehru has a busy Indian ambassador, named Kavaiam Panikka. This character can't keep quiet. During the big hassle when Nehru was trying to sell us on the theory of peace and patience toward the Communists who were killing our troops, (naturally with state department blessing), Panikka was palling around with Mao Tse-Tung. He staged a huge cocktail party in Peiping in honor of the first anniversary of the Republic of India. Mao was his chief guest. When things got convivial, Panikka, according to intelligence reports in U. S. hands, got up and unloaded. Here is what he said about Mao, boss man in the war against us:

Walter Winchell on Broadway

Winchell

Never A Dull Moment Dep't

The following letter is from a big newspaper publisher, who marked it personal, so his identity is omitted: "Dear W. W.: I have just read with interest your INS interview with Frank Costello and his argument in favor of legalized gambling. Having been raised in a Deep South city, I lived with the gambling problem for a long time, and just for the fun of it I want to get my nickel's worth to you.

"I think the best approach to the subject is by way of the analogy of houses of prostitution. It used to be very fashionable for 'advanced thinkers' to argue that prostitution could never be legislated away, that it was hypocritical to argue that it could, and that the 'progressive' course was to openly legalize the houses. Along came a wonderful doctor and public servant named Tom Parran, whom FDR picked to head the Public Health Service. Instead of looking into theoretical arguments, Parran started looking into the facts. He found a small percentage of men are going to find sources of prostitution despite any difficulties.

"I think 'wide open' gambling —whether legalized or just tacitly approved by the community—has almost the same effect. That is, it greatly expands the number of people who will gamble, and thus it greatly increases the two major social harms: (1) gambling losses by people who cannot afford them leading to increased embezzlement, etc., and general family tragedies; (2) increased profits to people in control of gambling and thus providing larger and larger funds for the corruption of Government.

"Finally, to use another analogy, it all seems to be about the same as the problem of running a kitchen. There is no magical single thing that will keep out the cockroaches forever. If you have a well-run kitchen, you keep them down to an endurable minority, and when you get slack in your kitchen work the cockroaches increase. I never heard anyone contend that we ought to legalize cockroaches just because there will always be some, and so with gambling I think we have to realize that there will always be occasions that require cleaning up the joint. Sincerely."

It seems to me the major problem is not gambling but the corruption of public officials. My view is that legalized gambling means regulating it; hence there needn't be a licensed gambling place on every block. A few legalized places would make it even more difficult to place a bet than now. Further, under legal regulation, the use of the telephone would be forbidden.

Actually, however, the placing of an occasional $2 bet is the source of genuine enjoyment for many citizens. I seem to recall, for example, that General Omar Bradley was quoted recently as saying a small bet on a horse gave him far more enjoyment than going to the theatre. I agree. I think this comes under the head of legitimate entertainment.

For a book I'll Prob'ly Never Get Around to Doing for Simon & Schuster, who contracted for it in 1927: From the Cincy Enquirer: "Winchell was irked and probably still is by an editorial in this paper on Jan. 24th, 1948, which we quote in part: "The radio shoutings of Walter Winchell have had us at the verge of war with Russia almost every Sunday night for the last two years. And if war should come, it would be quite possible that his constant poisoning at the well of public opinion would have at least some small part in the precipitation of the conflict" . . . Our editorial questioned his competence in matters of foreign policy."

Don't look now, boss, but in 1951 your incompetence is showing.

From the Press section in the current Time: "W. W. last week needled the Cincinnati Enquirer for disagreeing with him three years ago and warned it against cutting his columns. Snapped managing editor Boyd: 'We'll cut him or drop him any time we want to. We're still running the Enquirer. We've cut Pegler, too, and he got mad at us. But he got over his mad. Winchell didn't'."

Ah ain't mad at nobody, boss. Ah just enjoys last laffs.

From the Miami Herald April 25: "About 10 days ago Mr. W. called The Herald to say he had a copy of a letter from a Mr. Slaughter, such as the one he quoted in his column. He said he had not seen it in The Herald and hoped the paper wouldn't use it because he intended to blast The Herald for printing only letters agreeing with The Herald's editorial views. The mail was watched carefully, but no such letter could be found. He was invited to let The Herald have a copy and told it would be printed.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

While I am not a drinking man and thoroughly disapprove of drunkenness, I do take an occasional cocktail, a glass of wine or a bit of beer.

I do so on my doctor's orders. He quoted a famous physician whose name I forgot, "Anybody who drinks before he is forty is a fool, and anybody who does not drink in moderation after he is forty is a fool."

However, I can take it or leave it, and some times go for a week or more without a drop of liquor.

(I know that all this is going to make me many enemies, among the dries, but if I can have friends only by being insincere, I don't want them.)

The only time I really crave a drink is when I am in a dry state, such as this where I am writing this piece right now.

It is a beautiful State—unquestionably one of the most beautiful ones in the country—North Carolina.

Right before my eyes are the Blue Ridge Mountains. I can almost touch them.

Last evening I saw a sunset that I shall never forget.

But I was tired last evening, dead tired. Winding around these mountains and their hair-pin turns for a couple of hours, after dodging trucks that come down those curves at fifty miles an hour, you do feel all in.

If I had been in New York State or Connecticut or California, I might have had a couple of glasses of cold water and a shower and felt refreshed.

But North Carolina is a DRY state—and who wants water in a dry state when he is tired?

Oh, I could have had a glass of beer or a glass of wine—but that isn't what you want when you are tired. That isn't what my doctor meant.

One of the things I couldn't quite understand was why I had seen so many drunken people in this dry state—so many more than you see in a wet one.

Another thing that seemed strange was that so many folks carried big brown bags that apparently held bottles.

Still something else that puzzled me was all the broken glass on the roads and all the empty bottles littering the streets and the parks.

So I did a little investigating.

I found that they have an awful lot of traffic accidents in North Carolina.

In this northernmost part of the state alone the State Police reported 342 accidents in which six persons were killed and 184 injured.

They arrested 191 persons on drunken driving charges, and who knows how many drunken drivers were not discovered and arrested?

In Asheville Police Court yesterday fourteen persons were tried and fined or sent to jail for drunken driving and more than a half dozen others for other misdemeanors connected with violation of the liquor laws.

Prohibition was a horrible example of what happens when unenforceable laws are being enacted.

It seems to me that we should have learned our lesson.

I doubt that Eve would have eaten that apple if there had not been a law against apple-eating.

Construction Of Last Link Of Route 90 Project Begins Soon

Detour Will Be In Force During Work

Paradise Valley — A 250-foot section of concrete stretching under the Lackawanna Railroad here, the last link in the 2.83- miles two-lane 22-foot road extending south from Mount Pocono, will come under construction early next week. During the time work is in process, a detour will again be in force.

Section where the work will be prosecuted is part of an underpass extending under the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company's tracks on the south side of the old Smith's Crossing on the old Paradise Valley road to Mount Pocono.

A power shovel assigned to the project was scheduled to be on the project yesterday, but was delayed. It may be here by noon today. Once this equipment arrives, work will be pushed on preparation of the 250-foot section. No traffic will be permitted to negotiate the underpass during period of construction on the twin-strip highway north and south of the underpass.

A "high-early" cement will be used when concrete is poured on the strip. Curing time will be cut from the usual ten days to three or four days, permitting traffic to move over the section from six to seven days sooner than normal.

F. D. Kessler, Northampton, Pa. contractor, has completed all but this short section of the 2.83-mile road. The 22-foot road has ten-foot shoulders along sections where "fills" have been made and eight-foot sections where "cuts" were made to create a right-of-way.

Extensive re-location and the underpass have eleminited a grade crossing across Lackawanna Railroad tracks, eased grades and curves.

One of the interesting features of treatment of curves has been construction of the first spiral curves on a highway in Monroe county.

Actually, the spiral curve is a compound curve. There is a small curve leading into the major curve and a small curve leading out of the major curve. All curves are super-elevated, or "banked" to permit negotiation at higher speeds with higher safety factors.

Guard rails have been installed along practically the entire route. The short sections to be placed are expected to be placed by Monday. Crews installing guard rails are working seven days a week.

Schools Of Two Boroughs Share Top Prizes In Junior, Senior Divisions Of Science Fair

An East Stroudsburg Junior High school student for the second year in succession captured the junior division's grand prize in the Northeastern Pennsylvania Science fair, now under way at the East Stroudsburg American Legion home.

In the senior division, a Stroudsburg High school student won grand prize.

Respective winners in the two divisions, both of whom received a $30 grand prize, were Sylvia Younkin, East Stroudsburg Junior High school, and Paul Dornbos, Stroudsburg High school.

During last year's fair Charles Gress took grand prize honors in the junior division. At that time he was a ninth grade student at the junior High school. His winning exhibit was a working example of the human circulatory system which he had constructed from plastic.

In the departmental competition Miss Younkin also won first place in the junior division of physics with her exhibit called "Tin Can Planetarium."

Paul Dornbos captured first place in the senior chemistry division with his display of how sulphuric acid is manufactured for commercial use.

In the senior division, Stroudsburg High school took two first place honors, three seconds, three thirds and a grand prize for a total of $74 in prize money.

Liberty High school, Bethlehem, took two firsts in the senior division for a total of $20 in prize money.

Pocono Township High school entrants won one second place and one third, for a total of $8 in prize money.

Escapee Tells Of Red Aims

Bangor — Members of Bangor Kiwanis club last night learned some "Facts From Behind the Iron Curtain."

Guest speaker at their meeting was Joseph Raynoha, a man who six months ago escaped from a Russian concentration camp in the Ukraine Valley.

His talk last night was the first speech he has made since gaining the sanctuary of America. He is now employed by the General Aniline Co., Easton.

Raynoha, who is a graduate of the University of Gretz, claimed the people who work in the Ukraine Valley—"the breadbasket of Europe"—are subject to months of imprisonment for such minute infractions as being five minutes late for work.

He declared Russia is preparing for World War Three and the radio propaganda constantly tells the people the move is only to "protect" Russia from capitalist countries.

Raynoha asserted that in the event of a third world war, the Ukraine would be sympathetic towards the U. S.

He was introduced by Dr. James Brusie, a division head at General Aniline Co. Dr. Brusie acted as program chairman.

Eight club members were honored for perfect attendance during 1950. They are Rev. S. H. Hamm, Joe Reagle, Kenneth Masters, Abe Obertoltzer, William Scott, Harry Deshler, Ernest Turtzo and David Stoddard.

A total of 33 members attended the meeting. Rev. Hamm delivered the invocation, Kenneth Masters served as song leader, accompanied by James Drury at the piano.

Clerk Of State Senate Expires

Blossburg (AP)—William J. Ridge, 59, chief clerk of the Pennsylvania Senate, died last night at the Blossburg State hospital.

The Senate officer was admitted to the hospital two weeks ago. His brother, Ray Ridge, of Detroit, Mich., said the illness was believed to be high blood pressure.

Ridge held his capital position for the past 12 years.

A life-long resident of Tioga county, Ridge was an important Republican leader in northern Pennsylvania for many years. He was a close business associate of G. Mason Owlett, Pennsylvania GOP national committeeman and president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers association. He lived at Covington, Tioga county.

Tannersville

Mrs. William Clugston
Telephone 2004-R-3

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meyer, of Brooklyn, spent the weekeend at their summer home on the Cranberry Road, visiting friends and neighbors while in the section.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Shook, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Besecker, Marjorie Besecker and John Allegar, visited Mary Hendricks at St. Luke's hospital, presenting her with a quilted lounging robe from friends at St. Paul's Church, Bethlehem, Pa., on a recent Sunday, as well as a cash gift. While recuperating from her attack of polio, Mary has been fashioning costume jewelry, braiding belts, and making other articles for sale to friends, which are most attractive and help her while away the tedious hours of recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Grace Hallet and Mrs. William Clugston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller on Saturday evening, the 21st, the occasion being a belated birthday observance of Mrs. Clugston.

Verdon Frailey, of Bartonsville, called on A. H. Raish on Friday evening of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Linford Rickerts, of Perkasie, spent the week end with Mrs. Rickert's parents, the Harry DeHavens, at Scotrun.

Wm. Raish, Ft. Dix, N. J., was home over the weekend, when he renewed acquaintances, visited friends and was in his regular place in the Methodist Sunday School on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Horace Werkheiser, of Elmhurst, and Mrs. B. H. Granacher called on A. H. Raish on Sunday morning, at the home of his daughter Mrs. John Smith. Mr. Raish is convalescing slowly after an illness of a few weeks.

The Grange Card party held Friday evening, April 20th, proved to be quite a success and turned into an old-fashioned Coffee Klatch after the games were over. The financial return from same was very gratifying and almost everyone was rewarded with beautiful merchandise.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeYoung, Staten Island, N. Y., are visiting for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Monroe Granacher.

Creek Road Construction Under Way

Canadensis—Five miles of "the Creek Road," Route 290, extending southward from this community, is now under construction. Livengood, Inc., Walnutport, Pa., contractor, is prosecuting the project.

The five-mile section is the last portion of Route 290 between Stites Bridge, north of Analomink, and this community to be constructed. One section was rebuilt several years ago by maintenance forces of the highway department and another stretch by contract.

Authorities said yesterday that "necessity" traffic, residents and business vehicles serving residents and cottagers along the five-mile strip will be given access passage during the construction period.

New highway will be a bituminous surfaced thoroughfare. It will have an eight-inch aggregate base with two and a half inches of bituminous penetration covering for travel surface.

Grading work will be started over a major portion of the route next week. Existing curves will be eased by widening their swing.

Concrete gutter work necessary along some sections of the highway will be installed early in the construction work.

Three bridges or good sized culvert crossings will be installed along the route.

Sarah St. Man Placed In Jail

Ronnie Gallagher, 31, of 504 Sarah St., Stroudsburg, was committed to Monroe county jail in default of $1,000 bail last night, after a hearing before Barrett township Justice of the Peace Nelson B. Eckert at Cresco.

Gallagher pleaded guilty to an assault and battery charge before Justice Eckert. The charge was preferred by Marguerite Gallagher.

A census taken by William the Conqueror in 1086 was recorded in the "Doomsday Book" and was so unpopular that censuses were not again taken until comparatively recent times.

Roy Lesoine Reports For Naval Duty

Roy E. Lesoine, 29, Stroudsburg RD 2 left yesterday to report for duty with the Navy at Philadelphia. A veteran of six years' service, Lesoine will receive an assignment when he reports for duty.

He is the husband of Mrs. Anita Lesoine and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lesoine.

Roy enlisted in the Navy about 1941. He served as a fire controlman, first class. Most of his service was in the Pacific.

He is a graduate of Stroudsburg High schol. Prior to being recalled to duty he worked for Art Metal Works of Pa., Inc.

New Motor Inspection Rules Aired

One hundred representatives of State inspection stations in Monroe county last night studied new motor vehicle inspection regulations which will be in force for the new inspection period opening May 1.

The group met at Mikels' garage, Lackawanna Trail in Arlington Heights with Jess Haynes, president of Monroe County Automobile Dealers association, presiding.

Meeting was sponsored by auto dealers' group.

Pfc. J. L. Young, Harrisburg, inspection expert of Pennsylvania State police, discussed the new inspection regulations and outlined many old procedures and practices.

KEEP RIVER AWAY FROM THEIR DOOR—The rampaging Mississippi river is fought by high school boys (top), who fill sand bags on the drainage levee near Rock Island, Ill., opposite Muscatine, Iowa, which is likewise in a threatened area. At bottom, Campbell's Island (across bridge) is reduced in size by the rising Mississippi, whose waters have inundated part of East Moline, Ill. The flood level is the highest in more than 70 years and approximately 6,000 persons already are left homeless.

ON THEIR ARRIVAL in Washington from Detroit, Sen. Blair Moody and his wife pose for the news cameramen. Moody, a Democrat, was named by Michigan's Governor Mennen Williams to the seat left vacant by the death of Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican.

DeAngelis Trial Adjourns Briefly

Rome (AP)— The De Angelis embezzlement trial adjourned early yesterday when defense attorneys appealed for time in which to examine the full record of the U. S. Army's investigation of the case. It will resume today.

The defendant, Air Force Capt. John De Angelis, 31, of Nesquehoning, Pa., has pleaded innocent to a charge that he embezzled $80,000 while employed as disbursing agent for the Rome office of the American Battle Monuments commission.

Bethlehem Steel Net Income Dips On Record Output

New York (AP)—Net income of Bethlehem Steel Corp. for the first 1951 quarter was $25,066,205, equal to $2.45 a common share, the Corporation reported yesterday. This compares with $32,171,657 or $3.19 a share in the preceding three months and with $25,572,930 or $2.50 a share in the like period last year.

Directors declared a dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, payable June 1 to holders of record May 7. This was the same amount ordered three months ago. Total dividends paid on the stock last year amounted to $4.10 a share, including a $2 disbursement in December.

The regular dividend of $1.75 a share on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock was declared payable July 2 to holders of record June 1.

Bethlehem's Steel production in the first three months of 1951 totaled a record 4,110,656 net tons of ingots and castings. The former record was set in the preceding quarter at 3,979,000 tons. Output in the first 1950 quarter was 3,380,116 tons.

Stock Prices Advance Up To $3 Per Share

New York (AP)— The stock market stepped ahead smartly yesterday with prices advancing from fractions to around $3 a share.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed 80 cents to $95.40 and the industrial average rose $1.30 to $130.20, a new 1951 high.

The 80-cent boost in the 60-stocks average wasn't the best of the year—there were 90-cent increases on January 16 and 26 and 80-cent rises on February 2 and April 4. But it was a departure from the market's recent indecisiveness.

The volume was 1,790,000 shares, again nothing phenomenal but the best of this week or last.

Your Horoscope Today

FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Some restraint in matters requiring keen analysis, study, also in extensive changes in business, etc., but day is favorable on whole for your occupation and other sound interests.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Teaching, study, research may take extra patience, deeper concentration as will artistic matters now, but day should be advantageous for trades, industry in general and your job.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Hold enthusiasm, expansive ideas, confidential affairs under strict control. Not all creative stunts are favored but you are encouraged to advance in known or duly advised matters.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Neither overstimulating for big success nor restraining. How much you accomplish now really up to you. In matters with which you are familiar you can do better. Avoid extremes.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Try to improve quality of work or output rather than just seek to have big changes or gains. Finish things already started; plan next week's program. Day best favors familiar routine.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Authors, journalists, bookkeepers, researchers in science, medicine may find today's tendencies rather restricting but don't discourage. Ponder well, all. Other aspects most helpful.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—More favorable now for urgent routine and tasks not too new or difficult than for branching out into ventures that may prove unprofitable. Go along serenely, you will attain.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Fine period for mechanics, miners, farmers dealing in lumber, food products, animals, shipbuilding; needed repairs, sound real estate deals. Extra care for legal and written matters.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Your Jupiter in benefic aspect augurs for plentiful returns for your earnest and smart effort whether in trade, profession, religious or other interests. But be sensibly careful.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Your Saturn's configuration holds fresh promise for plans, general interests. Particular benefits now for occupational and domestic duties, all honest hard work; but don't overdo.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Uranus' position stresses need for a more uniform allocation of day's tasks so that you may avoid strain, irritability. Not all favorable for personal gain but good work is always rewarded.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Real achievement depends largely upon day's demands, the importance, urgency of your position, commitments, AND how YOU react. Money matters, mechanics, industry are newly favored.

YOU BORN TODAY: Powerful character, strong assets, all-around capability in Taurus. Active, receptive mentality, practical, dependable, honest, clean-minded. These are your inherent gifts from God, and if living rightly, cultivating, using them daily, there is no telling how far you can go or have gone in honorable achievement. Curb temper, appetite, perhaps overcome tendency to inertia and extravagance at times. Kindly at heart, a wonderful natural nurse; could become exceptional physician. Prayer your great aid.

Birthdate: Ulysses S. Grant, 18th U. S. president; Samuel B. Morse, noted inventor; Herbert Spencer, Eng. philosopher.

Auxiliary Now Boasts 362 Members

Saylorsburg — The Ladies auxiliary of the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co., met Tuesday night at the fire hall with 45 members present. President Mrs. Grant Knowles was in charge of the business meeting. She thanked all those who had helped in any way to make the penny supper a success, as it had been the largest to date.

A reply was read from the Wind Gap firemen president, Thomas Brown, to a letter, Mrs. Knowles had written in an apology for not having served coffee and sandwiches, during a recent fire here. Mr. Brown's reply stated that they did not come to eat, they came to fight fire.

The financial secretary, Mrs. Harry Shoemaker, read the names of new members. Mrs. Ambrose Altemus had turned in 161 and Mrs. George Metzgar 154, making a total of 362 paid members. Both Mrs. Altemus and Mrs. Metzgar asked that their prizes be donated in money to auxiliary.

A donation of $5 was received from Mrs. Fred Reaser, a donation of $4, from Mrs. M. Smith and $2 from a friend. It was announced that $37.03, was cleared at the last pastie sale; $205 at the last penny supper. A bill for $10 for a tank of gas, and one for $255 for five dozen folding chairs, were voted to be paid immediately.

Mrs. George Metzgar Jr., announced that through the Federation of Womans clubs a mobile X-ray unit would be in this section, May 26, at Chestnuthill High school to X-ray for T. B.

The group voted $50 for the firemen to apply on gas and kerosene.

It was decided to have another penny supper, May 26, with Mrs. James Eckley acting as chairman. She appointed the following to help Mrs. Grant Knowles, Mrs. P. W. Meixsell, Mrs. Harry Shoemaker, Mrs. Willard Shoemaker, Mrs. Ralph Bond, Mrs. Ambrose Altemus, Mrs. Oscar Bonser, Mrs. John Gower, Mrs. Joe Deady, Mrs. Eugene Metzgar, Mrs. Leon G. Blake, Mrs. Albert Arnold, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Anna Serfas, Mrs. Rose Gower, Mrs. C. W. Rubow, Mrs. Bessie Alexander.

The president appointed Mrs. Oscar Bonser, Mrs. Leon G. Blake, and Mrs. Willard Shoemaker to meet with the firemen, and help make plans for a carnival, to be held during the summer.

The meeting adjourned to a social hour when games were enjoyed. Winners were: Mrs. Clayton Snyder, Mrs. George Metzgar Jr., Mrs. Andrew Schaffer, Mrs. Russel Kresge, Miss Nancy Metzgar and Mrs. Joe Deady.

Miss Olive Buskirk, and her committee served refreshmens. Hostesses for May will be Mrs. Albert Arnold, Mrs. Andrew Schaffer, Mrs. Levina Hoffner, Mrs. Myron Snyder, Mrs. Eli Serfas, Mrs. Ralph Bond, Mrs. Myrtle Haney, Mrs. Laura Brewer, Mrs. Clair Halstead, and Mrs. Wilson Riddle.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Seem to be running to family news today. There's the one about Mrs. Millard Arndt and all her boys down through the next generation and still no girls. Though, as I pointed out to Elwood, it's a good thing for all of them that their mother was a girl.

And then there are the two brothers marrying the two sisters at different churches at different times. Seems as if Mr. and Mrs. James Albert are going to be sort of out-of-breath trying to make it from the first wedding to the second wedding —and uphill all the way, too.

Well, who knows better than I how complicated families can get. But fascinating. And some times inconvenient — especially at this time of year when luncheon piles upon luncheon every noon, leaving you with very little appetite for fixing dinner for a family unfortunate enough not to get in on this luncheon business.

And whoever decided that spring house cleaning and the busiest time in the social year had to coincide? As, I asked Eleanor Wunder and she's already got her housecleaning done, except two bedrooms, so shame on us.

Birthday Dinner For Mrs. Oyer

Portland — Mrs. Edward L. Oyer was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday dinner on Sunday at the Water Front Inn near Buttsville, N. J., given her by her daughter.

Mrs. Oyer celebrated her birthday anniversary on Tuesday, April 24.

Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Frank VanKirk and daughter Patsy of Phillipsburg, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dahlman and sons Bruce and Richard of Columbia, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rice, the guest of honor, Mrs. Oyer and husband, Edward L. Oyer of town.

Grange Friday

Tannersville — An important meeting of Pocono Grange 1415 will be held Friday, April 27 at 8 p. m., at which time all plans will be made for the program to represented by this grange at the Hamilton Grange on May 1. It is very imporant that all members attend.

Seventh Grandson Joins Family Of Arndt Boys

If there is magic in the seventh son, some of it should tranfer to a seventh grandson welcomed Wednesday by Mrs. Millard Arndt.

The seven-pound booy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Arndt at the General hospital, and is as yet unnamed, since they're running out of names for the Arndt boys.

Mrs. Millard Arndt is used to boys, having had four of her own, and their five cousins, all of whom were boy Arndts. Then when the grandchildren and grand nephews started arriving they upheld the tradition of a line of boys. Three of Mrs. Arndt's sons have two boys each—and no girls. The nephews also have boys—and no girls.

However, Mrs. Elwood Arndt did have her share in the new arrival. She is the former Emma C Gantzhorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gantzhorn, of Tannersville.

Fidelia Class Meeting At Hamlen Home

The Fidelia class of St. John's Lutheran church met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Harold Hamlen at the airport. Mrs. Margaret Stabanow led the devotions and discussion on the Book of Numbers.

A social hour followed with games and prizes won by Mildred Renninger, Margaret Stabenow and Dorothy Rupert. Refreshments of chicken salad, cake, coffee and relishes were served from a table decorated with a spring bouquet of jonquils and forsythia. Mrs. Mary Hamlen, Mrs. Gertrude Arnold and Mrs. Sarah Price were hostesses.

In addition to those listed above members present included Mrs. La Dora Bolcar, Mrs. Natalie Stackhouse, Mrs. Goldie Marsh, Mrs. Mildred Miller, Mrs. Sadie Lyons, Mrs. Ethel Meyer and the teacher, Mrs. Miles Green.

Portland—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy and her mother, Mrs. Charles Dunbar, of Bellaire, L. I., N. Y. are spending several days at the Dunbar home State St.

Hamilton PTA Elects Officers

The Hamilton Township Parent Teachers association met Tuesday night at the Bull Run school when the program starred the pupils of the school in songs and recitations.

Verdon Frailey was elected president for the coming school year; with Mrs. Lucy Warner, vice president; Mrs. Elise Shafer, secretary and Thomas Rogers, treasurer.

The annual play day for all the schools of the township will be held May 8 or 9 at Kellersville, it was announced, when Miss Kathryn Pontius and student teachers will help entertain the children.

District Forester Clyde Pyle was introduced by Mrs. Andrew Keiser, and spoke of three types of conservation: water, soil and forests.

The final meeting of the school year will be held at the Saylorsburg school when the newly-elected officers will be installed.

Cootiettes Plan Initiation Black Horse Party

The Pocono Cootiettes made plans for a Black Horse party at their next meeting which will be held on Wednesday, May 23. Members will be asked to bring a 25 cent gift for the party which will be followed by refreshments.

Plans were made at the regular meeting of Cootiettes, No. 318, held Wednesday at the VFW home with Mrs. Helen Hissam presiding. There was a large attendance and two new members were obligated. All new members will be initiated at the May meeting.

At that time members will also be asked to bring old silk stockings and underwear to be used for the physical therapy work at Veterans hospitals.

At their meeting, the members heard letters from the housemothers of the Pennsylvania Cottages at the national orphan's home, Grand Rapids, Mich. The local Cootiettes provide birthday parties and gifts for each of the inmates of the cottages through the year, and the letters from the housemothers described the joy which those gifts brought.

Mothers Day Awards To Be Presented

Bartonsville — The annual Mother's Day service sponsored by the Crusader class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school will be held in the church May 13, at 8 p .m. Prizes will be awarded the oldest and youngest mothers, the mother of the largest family, the mother having the most children present at the service, the mother coming the longest distance to attend and the youngest grandmother. Herbert Bellairs, president of the Monroe County Sunday School association, will be guest speaker and special music will be presented by the Appenzell Lutheran Church choir.

Girl Found Murdered On Carnival Lot

Chester—A blonde eight-year-old Chester girl was found murdered yesterday in the cab of a carnival truck on grounds occupied by Penn Premier Shows, a traveling show operated by Lloyd (Dutch) Serfass, of Stroudsburg.

Delaware county authorities and Pennsylvania State police last night were seeking James R. Reeves Jr., 35-year-old handyman who entered the employ of the Serfass show only last Monday.

Reeves disappeared Wednesday and Delaware county detective chief Fred Jack said he is charging the missing handyman with homicide "so that I can be sure that he will be picked up for questioning."

Serfass, the show operator, told Jack that Reeves failed to report for work at 6 p. m. Wednesday.

The body of the little girl, Jane Altohoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Altohoff, of Chester, was found huddled in the cab of the stake body truck between midnight and 1 a. m. yesterday, approximately four hours after the girl's brothers reported her missing.

A preliminary examination indicated she had ben smothered.

She had gone to the carnival at 7 p. m. Wednesday, accompanied by the two brothers, Lamar, 16, and Paul, aged six. They missed her after an hour's tour of the carnival lot.

Police said the girl was slain while 2,000 persons were milling about the midway, only 200 yards from the parked truck.

Jack, the chief county detective, disclosed that there was no indication that the girl had been abused. "We believe she was enticed into the truck and killed when she screamed or started to scream for help," the detective chief stated.

According to Serfass, the missing Reeves had been hired to keep children and others away from motor vehicles parked on a back corner of the carnival lot.

Household Goods Movers Hike Rate

Harrisburg, (AP) — Household goods truckers in Pennsylvania will increase their rates some 12 and a half per cent next Tuesday on hauls for distances over 40 miles.

The rate increase was approved yesterday by the Public Utility commission following similar approval by the Interstate Commerce commission last March 5.

The rate schedule was filed by the Tristate Household Goods Tariff Conference, Inc., Philadelphia, representing some 600 households goods movers in the State.

Temperature Reaches 77, Then Cools

A cool front of air moved suddenly over this region around noon yesterday and halted the upward climb of the mercury at a maximum of 77 degrees.

From then on during the day the sun lost out to the clouds, the temperature dropped steadily and rain fell at intervals throughout the county.

Today will be cloudy and cooler, according to Weatherman Michael F. Hannon, with a maximum temperature in the low 60s. The minimum tonight will be in the low 40s.

Another low pressure area is coming this way from the west and will probably arrive here Saturday, Hannon said. With it will be cooler temperatures and rain.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from a high of 77 to a low of 59. Mean was 68 (warmer than normal for this date). Humidity was approximately 50 per cent.

Wind from the north and northeast maintained an average velocity of 8 mph.

New Drapes Are In Use

New window draperies of nonwoven rayon are handsome, easily draped. Regulation fabric draperies come in standard two-and-a-half yard length, 74 inches wide, sell for a price that is slightly more than the cost of dry cleaning, making it possible to buy a new set of draperies for the price of dry cleaning the old.

Quirk Of Fate

Crawfordsville, Ind. (AP)—Robert F. Wernle, state veterans service officer for Montgomery County, no longer is available to answer questions of service men and ex-GIs. The reserve second lieutenant knew all the answers except how to keep from being recalled to active duty. Wernle is back in the Army at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

Preparation Of Simple Meals Brought Down To Fourth-Grade Level -- With Good Results

Canadensis—Nine and 10-year-old boys and girls in the fourth grade of the Barrett township schools here are having the time of their lives preparing and cooking simple dishes in the school's home economics department.

And they're not only busily fixing their favorite dishes, they're eating them, too.

It all started several weeks ago while the fourth graders were studying nutrition in their health classes. Some pertinent questions right off the nine-year-old shoulders brought answers and then considerable thought on the part of Miss Mary O. Bush, the fourth grade instructor and Supervising Principal Andrew W. Lewis.

They decided that a little actual food preparation would be beneficial to the pupils as well as an improvement to the course.

So, Miss Edna Mae Miller, the home economics instructor in charge of the spic and span homemaking department, was called into the conference.

Not result was that arrangements were made for the fourth graders to spend an hour and a half session each week for four weeks in the homemaking section.

There they are decked out in aprons and taught how to prepare their hot cereals, cocoa, brownies, date muffins, butterscotch squares and simple vanilla, chocolate and cornstarch puddings.

Each boy and girl is given an opportunity to cook, and later every last crumb of the various class products is devoured as all form family groups for the sample meal.

In this respect, the innovation is paying off with interest, for as Principal Lewis points out, the children are not only learning to prepare their own lunches, but they are also getting a kick out of serving as host and hostess and as waiters and waitresses.

Miss Bush realizes there is a practical aspect to the kitchen-dining room instruction which Barrett mothers heartily approve, but she finds that she's now using the cooking experience as a basis for lessons in arithmetic, language and art.

It's reversing the old apple-to-the teacher routine, and it's proving worthwhile.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

In addition to Schoonover, the group, from left to right, includes John Drews, Walt "Hank" Polinski and Dewey Martling. Pocono A.C. plays host to Riegel Ridge at Gordon Giffels field on Sunday.

Pocono A. C. Tilt At Riegel Ridge Off

Fred Hershey, general manager of Pocono A.C., announced late last night that Saturday's exhibition with Riegel Ridge, of the Tri-County league, on the latter's home field, was cancelled, due to the fact that the Riegel Ridge field is undergoing repairs and wouldn't be ready for action.

However, Hershey pointed out that Sunday's contest listed for Gordon Giffels field would definately be played. This game, the first of the season for the newly formed local club, will begin at 2:30, with no admission to be charged.

Business Meeting

The board of directors of the club will hold a business meeting tonight at Hershey's home, it was also announced last night. The place of the meeting will be 278 Smith St., East Stroudsburg, and will begin at 8.

It was also announced last night that Dr. Evan C. Reese would serve as the club physician and that Elmer D. Christine was the club's legal advisor. Jim Riley, sports editor of The Daily Record, will serve as official scorer.

Tournament Nears Finish

Bangor — Bert Horvath and Jim Rowlands fought their way into the final round of the fifth annual table tennis tournament here at the Bee Hive Youth center last night. The girls' division found Beverly Nerino and Mary Jo Turtzo reaching the championship round.

The first round matches played among the girls last night found Nerino defeating Matzie Duvo, 21-11 and 21-17, Joyce Caponigro, taking the measure of Alecia Wills, 21-13 and 21-15, while Tutrzo defeated Dian Snoddy, 21-15 and 21-10, and Phyllis Capone tripped Joan Shook, 21-16, 17-21 and 21-18.

Nerino defeated Caponigro in the semi-final round, 21-14 and 21-6, while Turtzo took the measure of Capone, 21-13 and 21-18, in the same round.

Last night's matches among the boys found Duane Miller beating Gerald Tucker, 21-9 and 21-14; Jim Pritchard downing Bob Reed, 21-13 and 21-18; Frank Nicoletti upsetting Asa Pysher, 21-15 and 21-16; Rowlands edging Miller, 21-18 and 21-10 and Horvath tripping Donald Williams, 21-14 and 21-15.

The semi-final round found Horvath beating Pritchard, 21-18 and 21-19, while Rowlands took the measure of Nicoletti, 21-19 and 21-13.

Final round action will take place on Monday.

Portland Club To Practice

Portland — Portland's entry in the Blue Mountain Baseball league will practice at the Portland field on Sunday, at 1:30 p. m., and again on Monday, at 6 p. m. Although Manager LeRoy "Cheesy" Egbert is virtually certain of his starting lineup, the colorful second baseman wants his forces in top shape on opening day.

Meeting

The Portland club held a meeting here at the Delaware House on Wednesday night, at which time last minute business was taken care of, including ads for the score card.

Top Prices Set For Pair Of Championship Bouts At Garden

Lightweight Champion Ike Williams defends his crown against Jimmy Carter, of New York, May 11. NBA Welterweight King Johnny Bratton meets Kid Gavilan of Cuba May 18. New York will give title recognition to the winner.

Reserved seat tickets, ranging in price from $2.50 to the $10 ringside seats, go on sale this morning.

Senators Peddle Bearden To Tigers For Undisclosed Price

Detroit, (AP)—Handsome Gene Bearden, whose story-book exploits won a pennant for the Cleveland Indians, will now try his hand at helping the Detroit Tigers.

The big left-handed knuckleball pitcher, who was bought yesterday by Detroit from the Washington Senators for an undisclosed price, will join the Tigers immediately.

Bearden, 30, unimpressive this spring in exhibition and league games, will become the Tigers' fourth left-hander.

"I plan to use him as a relief pitcher and a starter at certain spots," said Manager Red Rolfe. Rolfe's left-handed corps already includes starters Hal Newhouser and Ted Gray and reliefer Earl Johnson.

"I don't know exactly what Bearden's trouble has been," said Rolfe. "But I think he'll be able to help us."

If Bearden ever attained his 1948 form he definitely would help the Tigers, who won only two of their first six games this season. Last year they finished second in the American league.

Mile Event Center Of Relay Stage

By Orlo Robertson

Philadelphia, (AP)—Some 3,000 athletes from 500 colleges and schools will romp over Franklin Field today and tomorrow in the Penn relays' 89 events but the focal race will be an International assault on the Carnival's mile mark.

The race for the Benjamin Franklin Challenge Cup will bring together Oxford medical student Roger Bannister, heralded as Britain's best miler since Jack Lovelock; National AAU indoor champion Fred Wilt; four-time National Collegiate AA Champion Don Gehrmann and the fast starting Lt. Stew Ray.

The quartet of speedsters will be out to better Glenn Cunningham's relay mark of 4:11.8 made in 1934.

Best Clocking

Bannister's best clocking was 4:09 in New Zealand last December. But before leaving England last week he lowered the British mark for three-quarters of a mile to 2:56.8.

Wilt, the FBI man, has traveled a mile on Atlantic City's Board Walk in 4:05.5 and 4:08.4 indoors. Gehrmann's has been clocked 4:07.5 indoors and 4:09.6 on the cinder paths.

Senators Trip A's On One Hitter

Washington (AP) — Washington moved into a first place tie with Cleveland last night by defeating Philadelphia 2-1, on the one-hit pitching of Connie Marrero, and home runs by Mickey Vernon and Gil Coan.

The only hit off Marrero was Barney McCosky's fourth inning homer after Marrero had retired the first ten A's in order. It was McCosky's first home run since 1947.

Deadlock

Vernon blasted Joe Coleman for a homer in the second inning, but McCosky tied it up and that situation existed until Coan smashed his homer with two out in the seventh.

Hellertown, Catasauqua Appear Locally

East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg High schools parade their baseball talents before the home fans today, when they play host to Hellertown and Catasauqua in Lehigh-Northampton and Lehigh Valley league games respectively. Both contests will begin promptly at 4 p.m.

The Cavaliers of East Stroudsburg will clash with Hellertown High at the East Stroudsburg Playground and will be searching for their initial win of the season, after playing Wilson Borough to a 1-1 deadlock on the latter's home field last Tuesday. The game was halted by darkness.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that Harold "Sonny" Eaton, a right hander, would toe the rubber for the home team. The infield will find Gerard Rogers at first base, while the second base choice lies between John Hanson, Jack Sommers and Marlyn Miller. Paul "Candy" Miller will be at the shortstop berth, while Leo Dailey holds down his regular third base position.

Stroudsburg will be attempting to even its season record at two wins and the same number of setbacks, when the Mountaineers send Dick Schuster, a freshman from Portland, against Catasauqua at Gordon Giffels field. Stroudsburg's single win has been over Pen Argyl while the both setbacks were league affairs at the hands of Lehighton and Emmaus.

County League

Two games are also on tap for the Monroe County League today, as that circuit launches the 1951 campaign. Both games are expected to begin at 3 p. m.

The northern division will send Tobyhanna township against Coolbaugh, at Coolbaugh, while Polk stacks up against Chestnuthill, at Brodheadsville, in the southern section.

Monroe County league activity this year has been limited to four regular season games and a play-off contest to cut down on expenses.

Picture Still Cloudy

Lexington, Ky. (AP)— Name Luke and Ruhe captured the split divisions of the Bluegrass Stakes yesterday at Keeneland, the latter being moved in to the winners circle after Sonic was disqualified for interference.

However, the net result of the mile and one eighth races did little to clear up the picture for the Kentucky Derby a week from tomorrow.

Seek Expense Increase

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates intend to ask club officials for a boost in road trip expenses.

Second baseman Danny Murtaugh, newly elected player representative of the club, said the players want the allowance upped from $6 per day to $7.50.

ESSTC Stars In Penn Relays

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College colors will be flying at the Penn Relays today and tomorrow, with seven Warriors selected to be on hand for the annual track and field games at Philadelphia's Franklin field.

Teachers

Coach Howard DeNike announced last night that Bill Prater, outstanding distance man at the local college, will be the first Warrior in action, when he takes his place at the starting line in a special two-mile invitation run, at 3:30. This event will feature some of the best college talent in the United States.

At 4:50, the ESSTC mile relay team will take part in the annual State Teachers College Mile Relay, featuring ten state teachers colleges from various spots in the east. DeNike announced that Mark Nejako, Barry Fisher, Don Lewis and Bob Williams would comprise the ESSTC team, with Bob Brown serving as an alternate.

On Saturday, at 10:30, Bill Hillman, outstanding ESSTC dash man, will take part in a special 100 yard dash event, against top flight competition. Hillman will run in the first heat with the final event to be held in the afternoon.

Red Sox Rally To Win First Game Of Campaign From Yanks

Boston, (AP)—The Boston Red Sox outlasted the New York Yankees yesterday, winning a 13-7 contest which required three hours and 30 minutes. The 19,120 shivering spectators saw a total of 20 bases on balls and 22 hits splashed around Fenway Park.

The victory was Boston's first over New York in three games and cracked a Yankee winning string of four.

Billy Goodman, league batting champion in 1950, led the Sox slugging with four hits and three runs batted in. The slim first baseman fanned in his first time at bat and then ripped off four successive safeties, the last of these a double. The big day lifted his average to 393.

The game, though ragged, was very close until the home half of the eighth when the Sox, who led by an 8-7 count to that point, broke loose for five additional runs.

Ellis Kinder, veteran reliever, received due credit for the victory. He was the only hurler who pitched well. The right hander entered the action in the fifth inning and shut off a Yankee rally.

Four Fail

Casey Stengel, leading the champions again after a day in the hospital with a kidney ailment, called on four pitchers and none delivered for him. Tommy Bryne, the starter, was his usual wild self and left after the second inning, by which time he had walked four men. Allie Reynolds came on and lasted until the sixth, when the home side scored four runs through two walks and three hits and took the 8-7 edge.

Harry Taylor, Boston starter, was nailed for a three-run homer by Byrne in the second and was knocked out in the following inning when New York gained three more runs.

The key blow of the game was Bobby Doerr's sixth inning double, the only ball to hit the nearby left field fence all day. A strong wind was blowing towards right field. The veteran second baseman drove the ball against the barrier in left with two out and the bases full, all three runners crossing.

Stengel explained that Mantle, whose batting average had slipped to .242 following a brisk start, was benched because "he needs a rest. This is a big right field area here and the kid isn't too good in the field yet."

Giants Drop Eighth Straight

New York (AP)—The New York Giants lost their eighth straight game last night as the Boston Braves chalked up a 3-0 shutout. Home runs by Roy Hartsfield and Sam Jethroe in the eighth inning shattered a 0-0 tie and accounted for all the Braves' runs.

Johnny Sain won his hundredth major league game by scattering six Giant hits, ruining Sal Maglie's thirty-fourth birthday party.

Into Stands

Hartsifeld's homer sailed over the head of center fielder Bobby Thomson who apparently misjudged the long drive that landed on the cinder path in deep center. Sain, awarded first on interference by catcher Wes Westrum, scored ahead of Hartsfield on the inside-the-park homer.

Jethroe followed with a line drive homer into the lower right field stands, his fifth of the season.

Phillies Blank Dodgers, 2-0

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies made only three hits last night, one off Cris Van Cuyk in seven innings and two off Clem Labine in one, but they whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers 2-0 behind the fine eight-hit pitching of Robin Roberts.

Eddie Sawyer's men used one of their three hits to score their first run in the third and the other two for the second tally in the eighth.

The first run came when Dick Sisler was hit by a pitched ball, went to third on Andy Seminick's single and crossed the plate after Mike Goliat flied to Carl Furillo.

Final Run

They picked up the other run with Labine on the slab, Seminick again singled but was forced at second by Goliat. Roberts laid down a sacrifice and Eddie Waitkus singled Goliat home.

The Dodgers missed a great chance in the first when they made three singles but could not score.

Gene Hermanski singled to left but was out trying to steal second. "Duke" Snider and Jackie Robinson followed with singles after Carl Furillo flied out but Gil Hodges fouled to Seminick for the third out.

Pep Clashes With Tough Foe On Coast

San Francisco (AP)—Hustling Willie Pep, former world's featherweight champion and one of the great little fighters that division has produced, tackles tough young Eddie Chavez in a ten-round bout at the Cow Palace tonight.

Pep hasn't much to gain, except a goodly chunk of money. He'll lose some prestige if he takes a licking. It's an overweight match and he will be spotting a younger, heavier rival something like eight pounds.

Lost twice

Chavez is the 20-year-old San Jose Mexican who has battled to recognition in the lightweight ranks in less than a year and a half. He's had 33 professional matches, won 31 and lost two questionable decisions. He beat the two who won from him, in return meetings.

For Pep, it will be his one hundred and sixteenth pro encounter in eleven years of taking on all comers, both in and out of his division. He once fought lightweight champ Sammy Angott, lost the nod in ten frames and still thinks he could have whipped the latter if it had been a 15-rounder.

Line Material In Softball League

Ed Tweedle, president of the Monroe County Softball League, announced last night that Line Material had replaced Marshalls Creek in the eight club circuit this season. The action was taken during a meeting at the Monroe County YMCA on Wednesday night.

Opening Date

The circuit will open hostilities for the season on Monday, with all games to be played at Stroudsburg Playground and East Stroudsburg Junior High school field.

Walker Cup Team Departs For England

New York (AP)— America's Walker Cup golfers, minus Frank Stranahan and Dick Chapman, got in a final practice round yesterday before sailing for Liverpool and their match against Britain's top amateurs May 11 and 12 at the Birkdale Golf club.

Stranahan and Chapman received permission to travel apart from the main group, which embarks on the Parthia this afternoon and reaches England on May 5. Stranahan, the present British amateur champion, expects to fly across within a few days. Chapman has indicated he will follow his teammates on a faster boat.

"Both have promised they will be there to meet us when we reach Birkdale," said Joe E. Dey Jr., executive secretary of the USGA, who will chaperone the group on the Parthia. "Both said they had some things to attend to before leaving."

Coincidental

It may be only coincidental that Stranahan and Chapman are among the game's most diligent practicers and count the day lost that they are not on a golf course. There was reported to be some grumbling among other cup players that they are being ferried across on a slow boat instead of flying. But they made no protests as a group.

"We tried to arrange for a net on the ship so we could hit some balls on the way over," said Willie Turnesa, the team captain, "but the best we could get was a mat. We'll be able to practice our swing on that, but not to hit any balls."

Besides Turnesa, the group included Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, Jimmie McHale, of Philadelphia, Harold Paddock Jr., of Cleveland, Bob Knowles Jr., of Boston, Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., and Sam Urzetta of Rochester, the current U. S. amateur champion.

Pole Vault Top Attraction

By L. E. Skelley

Des Moines, (AP)—The Drake relays open today for a two-day run and definitely there won't be a snowstorm such as plagued the 1950 games.

The weather, in fact, is expected to be good.

Top attraction of the forty-second annual games is the pole vault in which record-smashing Don Laz of Illinois and Don Cooper of Nebraska are matched.

Leaders

They are the only collegiate vaulters who have gone above 15 feet. Both did it last Saturday a few hours apart. Cooper soared 15 feet, ⅛ inch at the Kansas Relays for a new inter-collegiate outdoor record. It didn't last long. Laz boosted the record to 15 feet, 1⅜ inches in a triangular meet at Los Angeles.

Cooper is the defending champion and record-holder here. He whipped Laz last year with a mark of 14-1, accomplished in miserable weather.

The two-day program has attracted entries from 25 universities.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Art Cenci's presence on the roster of the Riegel Ridge baseball club that will play at Gordon Giffels field on Sunday, rolls back the calendar to 1947, when Cenci's presence at the local ball yard was expected to assure the Stroudsburg Poconos of at least a fourth place finish and a spot in the post-season playoffs. However, as all followers of the club now know, the Poconos finished fifth and missed the playoff grind, during which time the clubs of the circuit get a shot at some extra cash.

Cenci opened the 1947 campaign with Nazareth, also of the North Atlantic League, and pitched some good ball in the early going, although the Barons had a weak outfit that year. The late Jack Farmer was managing the Poconos in 1947, and although the deceased right handed hurler was loyal to the parent New York Yankees to the end, he realized that the Poconos needed more help than being offered by the Bronx Bombers at the time, if the club was to finish in the first division.

Everyone concerned agreed that Cenci was the answer to Stroudsburg's trouble, if they could purchase the likeable right-hander from Nazareth. Art was bought and joined the Poconos immediately. However, Cenci never quite lived up to expectations with the Stroudsburg team and found it virtually impossible to win in his new uniform. As a matter of fact, Cenci was released before the 1947 campaign was completed and Stroudsburg fans were forced to watch the playoffs in foreign parks or read about them in the newspapers.

The Riegel Ridge team is sponsored by the paper mill in that area, as is an entire athletic plant for that matter. Pocono A. C. is expected to carry five high school students on its roster this summer, following the completion of the high school baseball season in this area. There may be a little difficulty when the present high school diamond campaign does end. Right now there are several teams planning on the services of the same two or three players, a stunt that will become impossible once the regular campaigns are underway in both the Blue Mountain and Pocono Mountain Leagues.

Parties of Monroe County fans are already being formed to take in games of the Wilkes-Barre entry in the Eastern League, in which Dale Melms is listed as the starting pitcher. Melms became a favorite with all the fans of this area when he pitched with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1949. However, reports from Wilkes-Barre indicate that Melms is still being troubled with the miseries in his right arm, which was injured at Gordon Giffels field late in the 1950 campaign. Dale is headed for a bright future in the game, if he can ever overcome the arm trouble that has plagued him in recent years.

Gerry Uht, who played at Giffels field a couple of years back with Batavia, N. Y., of the class "D" Pony league, is now holding down first base for Harrisburg, of the class "B" Inter-State league. Batavia and the Poconos clashed in a preseason exhibition game one spring, with the Poconos finishing on the long end of the score as I remember. Vern Fegley, basketball coach at Easton High school, was among those present at the All-Sports Night, sponsored by the Alumni Varsity "E" club, in Easton recently. Vern is a brother of Gail "Doc" Fegley, Stroudsburg optometrist, who is a local softball and bowling enthusiast.

Road games of the DeLand, Fla. entry in the Florida State league, are being broadcast over radio station WJBS. All home gamse for DeLand begin at 8 p. m., with the exception of Sunday, when they start one-half hour later. DeLand is being managed this year by Frank Radler, who piloted the Poconos for the past three campaigns. Marty Baldwin, outstanding local sportsman, was toastmaster last night at the annual basketball banquet for Hazleton High school, at the Hotel Altamont, in Hazleton.

There are two things mainly responsible for the inability of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools to get together on a suitable baseball date. First, the East Stroudsburg policy refuses to allow an athlete team from that school to take part in more than two events each week. The other fly in the ointment is the fact that Stroudsburg doesn't want to play after Wednesday, May 23, due to final examinations. Both are trying to fill the date, but the rules of each institution are making it a difficult task.

East Stroudsburg High will meet Morrisville, Pa. High in a home and home football series in 1952 and 1953, it was learned last night. Bangor played Morrisville last fall. No dates, or the place of the respective games was known at a late hour last night.

Pocono Trips Barrett In Exhibition Contest

Twenty-Eight Players In Wild Battle

Canadensis — Pocono High school took the measure of Barrett in an exhibition contest here yesterday, by a 17-15 score, on the losing team's home field. The contest between the two Monroe County league rivals has nothing to do with the circuit standings.

Each team threw 14 players into the wild scoring contest, with at least one run being scored by one of the teams in the seven innings played.

Barrett opened with a four run splurge in the first frame, but Pocono came back to even the count with the same number in the second. From this point on it was a knock-down-drag-out affair, with Pocono closing strong to walk off with the decision.

Hit Hard

Tom Jones and Bob Dougherty, the starting hurlers, weren't on the scene very long, as the two clubs unloaded the lumber early and sprayed hits to all fields.

A total of 23 errors were committed in the contest, 13 by the winning Pocono team and ten by the losing Barrett contingent.

The victory was the first of the year for Pocono, as the charges of Coach Harry Werkheiser were making their initial trip into action. Barrett is now sporting a mark of one victory and the same number of setbacks. Barrett's win was over Greene-Dreher, at Newfoundland, on Tuesday.

Baseball Executive Council Yields To Demand By Chandler To Clear Path For Resignation

New York (AP) — Baseball's executive council yesterday cleared the path for the immediate resignation of Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler by yielding to his demand that the secretary-treasurer of baseball, Walter Mulbry, go out at the same time.

The decision was reached following a lengthy meeting between Chandler and John Galbreath, president of the Pittsburgh club and an emissary of the council, it was learned from a highly authoritative source. The two talked for more than five hours last Saturday in Cincinnati.

Galbreath, whose mission was to "get Chandler to resign immediately," returned with the following Chandler ultimatum:

"I'll go only if Mulbry goes."

Neither Chandler nor any member of the four-man executive council would talk.

"No comment," were the terse words of Chandler when asked for a statement. Those words were echoed by President Will Harridge of the American league, owner Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox and General Manager Warren Giles of the Cincinnati Reds. President Ford Frick of the National league, the other council member, could not be reached.

Bitter Enemies

Once close friends, Chandler and Mulbry became bitter enemies in the course of the uproar during the winter in which the 16 major league club owners voted not to renew Chandler's contract. Since then, the owners have been trying, without success, to buy up "Happy's" $65,000-year-pact which does not expire until April 30, 1952.

Chandler, who accused Mulbry of being instrumental in his ouster last December and again the following March, had laid a charge of "disloyalty" on his former side-kick. After learning of his fate following the Miami Beach meeting of the owners on March 12, the former Kentucky governor and senator made this plea:

"Give me the satisfaction of firing Mulbry before I leave office."

Under the Major league agreement, the commissioner appoints the $30,000-a-year secretary, who continues in office at the pleasure of the executive council. This means that Chandler, who got Mulbry the job soon after he was named commissioner in April, 1945, could not fire him.

When informed of Chandler's request, Mulbry immediately offered his resignation to the executive council. It was refused.

Bangor Idle Today

Bangor — Bangor High school's baseball team, currently sporting a Lehigh-Northampton league record of one win and no defeats, enjoys an open date on the league schedule today.

Jersey Entry Scores Second Straight Upset

Pinehurst, N. C. (AP)—For the second successive day Charlotte DeCozen of Parsippany, U. J., disrupted the march of favorites in the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament. The 25-year-old Jersey miss took a tense one up match yesterday from Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Chapel Hill, N. C., on the nineteenth hole.

Moves Along

The upset of the former National Champion and Curtis Cup star sent Mis DeCozen into an 18-hole semi-final match today against Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt., and neighboring Southern Pines. Another former Curtis Cupper, Dorothy Kielty of Los Angeles, was a one up victim of Miss DeCozen Wednesday.

Miss Murray, 1950 National runnerup to Beverly Hanson, moved along yesterday with a three and two conquest of Mrs. Catherine Fox Park of Bloomfield, N. J.

The upper bracket semi-finalists will be Pat O'Sullivan of Range, Conn., and Souther Pines, the defending champion, and Marjorie Lindsay, long-hitting Decatur, Ill., girl, who plays in most of the major tournaments.

Smithfield Downs Middle Smithfield

Smithfield — Smithfield's Ramblers took the measure of Middle Smithfield in a Monroe County Elimentary Softball League contest early this week, by a 6-2 margin, on the winning team's home grounds.

Coach Mike Gretkowski's crew was sparked by Kenny Roth, who worked the distance on the mound for Smithfield.

Zippel Signs With Local Camp

Marshalls Creek—Marty Zippel, former basketball great and high scorer for the Lafayette College quintets of 1947, '48 and '49, has signed to become counselor of baseball and basketball at Pocono Highland camps this summer, according to an announcement last night by Earle U. Weinberg, of the Pocono Highland organization.

Since his interest has always been with children, Zippel has felt the need of emphasizing this activity as a mode of body building and development of good sportsmanship, Weinberg said.

Captain

Prior to his two years of pro basketball with the Wilkes-Barre Barons, Zippel was the sparkplug and captain of the Leopards who reached the heights in college competition against some of the strongest opposition in the country.

With Zippel directing the Leopards, they won 20 out of 29 games.

Whether it's a leaky faucet or a faulty furnace, Ed Brooks is always ready—and so is his Ford Pickup. He says, "I make good time in hills or sandy country. I get there faster, so I get more jobs done!"

Edward V. Brooks,* plumbing and heating contractor, says: "My Ford's gas-saving Power Pilot helps me keep down running costs."
*Address furnished on request.

"2½¢ runs my truck a mile"

"You can't beat my thrifty Ford Pickup," says Ed Brooks, "when it comes to saving money every mile!"

"During the nationwide Ford Truck Economy Run, I drove my Power-Pilot-equipped 1950 Ford F-1 Pickup a total of 4,970 miles, and made 2,772 stops. In spite of this 'stop-and-go' mileage, my running costs for gas, oil, maintenance and repairs amounted to just $104.06—that's only 2.09 cents a mile!"

With thrifty Ford Trucks—and the Ford Truck Power Pilot plus regular Ford Dealer service—you can hold down running costs on your job too. The Power Pilot gives you the most power from the least gas! Only Ford in the low-price field has it.

TWO new cabs for '51 make Fords more than ever the drivers' favorites! Choose the 5-STAR or the 5-STAR EXTRA (slight added cost) for greater efficiency, less fatigue. F-1 Pickup shown has extra wide rear window, new fingertip shift, BIG load capacity. Ford offers over 180 truck models, powered by V-8 or 6-cylinder engines, to fit your job.

Kiwanis Club Fashion Show Proves Hit

Fashion Frolics, the men's fashion show, produced by members of the Kiwanis club of Stroudsburg at the auditorium of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College last night before an audience of nearly 600 people proved an enjoyable and unique performance.

Based on preparations for and participation in a convention of Kiwanis International, the various phases provided the means of modeling the different kinds of clothing, accessories, luggage and sports acoutrements a well equipped man would carry.

John E. Watt, who directed the show, was the narrator in which much naive humor was included. The comedy part taken by George T Robinson, known as the "Little Man," who appeared at the most unexpected times in various costumes, made a big hit.

Numa Snyder's orchestra furnished the music for the show in which a large percentage of the Kiwanis club members appeared as models. Eric Schuchard was the brightly attired bell hop.

The performance opened with the epilogue, in which the railroad station was portrayed with the convention train ready to leave. The throng of delegates sang "The Hunting Song," written by Numa Snyder just as the train was leaving. The "Little Man" stumbles about this time with his equipment pouring out his luggage.

The first scene was a late afternoon at the lobby of the convention hotel, where the delegates register and business clothes were modeled, the "Little Man" dragging himself in as the curtain closes.

Scene two represented a hotel bedroom with delegates lounging about enjoying games when pajamas, bathrobes, lounging robes, etc., were modeled, the "Little Man" dropping in and going to bed. George Savidge in his deep pink pajamas and bright blue socks provided a lot of comedy in this scene.

Early morning showed delegates coming in the hotel lobby after having participated in varied sports when golf, tennis, bathing, fishing and other outfits were displayed. The scene closed with Henry Kresge in an ultra fishing outfit getting his line tangled up with the "Little Man" as he ambled on.

A private dining room in the hotel was pictured in scene four with Arlington W. Williams pouring, the models of a wide display of casual clothes all piling their cups and saucers on the "Little Man" to his discomfiture.

The final scene was that of a banquet hall with Frank S. LaBar toastmaster when formal clothes were shown. Mr. LaBar briefly explained the use of the education fund of the club to which proceeds of the show will be devoted, thanked all who had cooperated and presented the speaker of the evening, State Senator Monty Crowe, attired in the costume of a Roman Senator, whose humor made a big hit.

The show closed with the epilogue, scene at the hotel desk where the guests were settling their bills, when the clerk grabs off the shirt of the "Little Man" who was unable to meet his bill. In the final scene, the entire company is gathered on the stage singing "Oh, You Beautiful Doll," (meaning the males in this instance) written by Mr. Watt.

Local dealers furnished the clothing, etc., modeled in the show.

Volunteers Battle Brush Fire For Hour At Shawnee

Shawnee-on-Delaware—Fifteen members of the Shawnee fire department battled a brush fire on the hillside opposite the end of the lower golf island on the Shawnee inn property for an hour late yesterday before bringing it under control.

Sterling Walter, school bus driver, noticed the burning brush as he was completing the afternoon route from the Smithfield township school He reported it at the local store, and the subsequent alarm hurried firemen to the scene.

Using Indian pumps and grass rakes, the firemen worked under direction of Col. Gordon P. Savage, the assistant chief, until Chief Arthur Smith arrived.

Damage was negligible, but it was said the flames were traveling toward the Riverside House, although that place was not threatened. Sparks from fires at a nearby dump were thought to have started the blaze in the brush.

Neuweiler Reviews CAP Unit

Col. Phillip Neuweiler, Allentown, wing commander of the Pennsylvania Civil Air patrol who was in charge of the recent two-day Pike county lost hunter search, reviewed the Stroudsburgs' CAP unit here last night at the East Stroudsburg armory.

The cadets were drilled by their instructor, Sgt. Carl Hull, who turned them over to Colonel Neuweiler for additional drill work and review.

It was announced that two of the Stroudsburgs' unit cadets may be selected to represent the local outfit in a national competition conducted by the International Cadet exchange. Final winners will tour foreign countries as a guest platoon, according to announcement by CAP leaders.

With Colone' Neuweiler's party last night were Lt. Col. Charles Rich Bethlehem; Lt. Col. John Mills, Scranton; Maj. C. Walters, Sgt R. Schwartz and other personnel from wing headquarters.

All were guests at a dinner served by Sgt. John Smith, of the Stroudsburg unit.

Lt Raymond Alleger, commanding officer of the unit here, announced that the unit cadets will receive orientation plane rides this Sunday at the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg airport, weather permitting. Lieutenant Alleger and W/O Abner Hinkle will be the pilots.

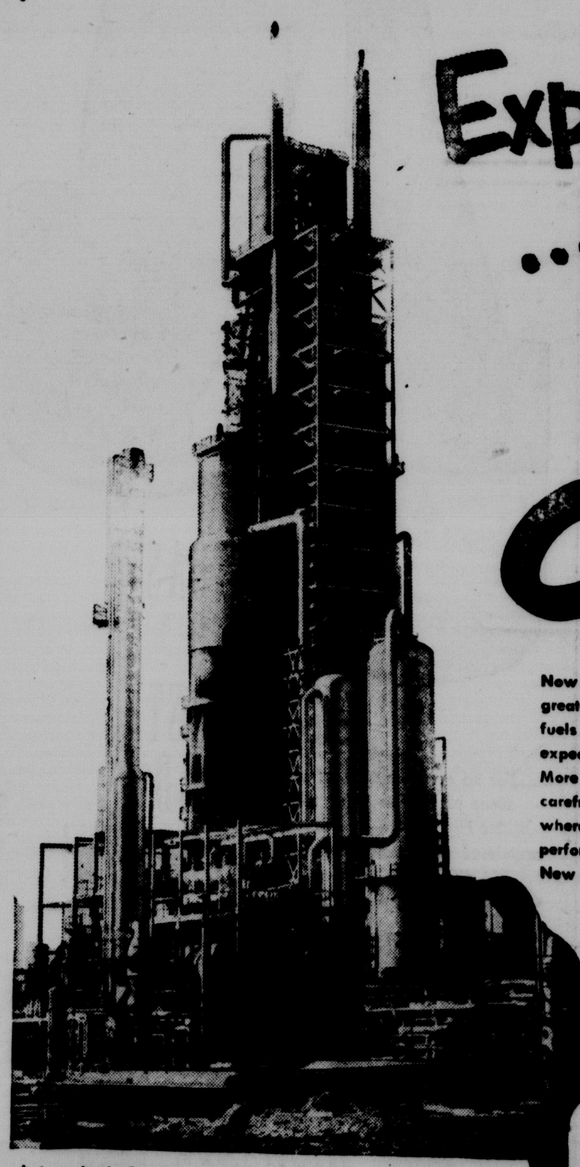
Expect more ...get more with NEW CALSO!



Now from the world's newest, most modern refinery comes an even greater gasoline—the NEW CALSO. It's as superior to yesterday's motor fuels as the new high-compression auto engines are to the old ones. So expect more—get more—when you drive with the NEW CALSO Gasoline. More ease of starting. More speedy pick-up. More steady power. More carefree mileage. Today, stop in for a tankful at any CALSO station—wherever you see the familiar big red sign. Enjoy the thrill of getting top performance from your car—old or new! Discover why CALSO is the New Big Name in gasoline!

Just completed at Barber, N. J., this new 25-story high catalytic cracking unit is the "heart" of the giant new CALSO refinery. Nothing was spared to make the refinery completely modern, completely integrated. Designed by the nation's best engineering brains, it brings the investment for plant, tankers, ocean terminals and equipment to over $100,000,000. Crude oil from CALSO-affiliate oil-producing operations is brought in on CALSO super-tankers, and unloaded at the rate of 20,000 barrels an hour. In a single day, this new refinery can produce enough gasoline to fuel the average car 1600 years!

C. H. Buckius Will Attend Club Meeting

C. H. Buckius, assistant chief engineer of the Pennsylvania State Highway department, will represent Ray H. Smock, the secretary, at the annual meeting of the Monroe County Automobile club at the Penn-Stroud hotel ballroom Monday night at 8.

Mr. Smock, in a phone call yesterday to R. LeRoy Dengler, club president, stated that the great bereavement suffered by Gov. John S. Fine in the death of Mrs. Fine, made it necessary for him to remain at his post.

Mr. Buckius is well known to people in Monroe county and had much to do with the original highway development plans resulting in the great improvement of the system. He has proved cooperative in many of the county plans.

One of the important matters which will be brought to the attention of the State Highway representative will be the "bottleneck" in the Delaware Water Gap gorge, also the much complained of one-way traffic on Route 611 in the Slateford area.

Traffic safety, travel and other topics will be discussed by highly recommended speakers. The Pocono Male chorus will entertain and a buffet lunch will be served.

Not only members of the club, but all interested in highways and motoring are urged to attend. Reservations may be called to the club office, phone 803, by noon Monday.

Fingerprinting's 50th Anniversary Finds Half Of American Citizens In FBI Files

By John F. Sembower
Central Press Correspondent

Washington — The 50th anniversary of the use of fingerprints in organized police work is being noted by criminologists, and there is at least an even chance that the individual trademark on the fingertips of any given American now may be found in the fabulous files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation here.

The anniversary really has to do with the founding of famous Scotland Yard's fingerprint bureau in London, but it is an event being marked by all specialists in human identification around the world. The "Yard" is the jealous guardian of the master file for all Europe.

In the United States, the most notable date in the modern history of fingerprinting is little more than a quarter of a century ago, when in 1924 the extensive files of the National Bureau of Criminal Investigation and the Leavenworth, Kan., penitentiary were consolidated in the headquarters of the FBI.

The FBI now has more than 108,000,000 fingerprint cards stored in its six-story building devoted exclusively to the elaborate system. Two thousand aides work in the identification section, and 1,100 in the file section, constituting a team which can sort out positive identification in a matter of minutes.

Some 7,500,000 of these cards are in the criminal file; the rest are in the civilian file used principally for identification purposes only.

J. Edgar Hoover, the FBI chief, is particularly proud of the latter, because he thinks that everyone should make it a point to provide his fingerprints until the records of the Bureau are complete for the entire country.

As it is, the Bureau may have obtained its non-criminal prints from a small boy's writing in about how to become a G-man, or from an Army induction, a civil service examination, or employment in a war plant.

A few weeks ago a clerk in Chicago's missing persons bureau risked catching spinal meningitis to take the prints of an unconscious hospital patient. It was then possible to identify him for the first time and to notify relatives. This is described as a common experience in the FBI civilian department.

However, the criminal files also are a source of a never-ending series of dramatic identifications as about 450 fugitives are spotted each month. Recently the prints of a tramp arrested in a hobo jungle at Somerville, N.J., were sent routinely to the FBI, and it was discovered that 34 years ago he fled the Oregon state prison.

A bank guard in Chicago was arrested recently when his fingerprints taken during his hiring-in, revealed that in 1927 he escaped prison.

Identifications are accomplished because of the simple fact that the patterns of any fingerprint in the world can be classified into one of eight types: plain, arch, tented arch, right loop, whorl, central pocket loop, double loop, or accidental.

AN EXPERT in the FBI identification Division in Washington checks set of fingerprints against Bureau's files.

Once the gross classification is made, the FBI laboratory usually has narrowed the possibilities to a pack of from 100 to 400 cards. Experts then quickly complete the visual comparison.

The modern era of fingerprinting dates back to studies made in 1823 by J. E. Purkinje, a physiologist at the University of Breslau. He demonstrated the two basic things that make the system possible: that fingerprints do not vary from birth to death, and no two persons are identical.

If either of these ever were proved false, the whole system would fail. In fact, it tottered two years ago when a 52-year-old postman in Houston had fingers which were so badly worn from handling letters for 32 years that prints could not be obtained by ordinary methods. However, experts used chemicals to bring them out clearly and all was safe.

A celebrated Scotland Yard case indicates that fingerprints can persist even after death. Thumbprints are used on pension claims in England, and an investigation of benefits going to a man who would have been 120 years old revealed that his family had cut off his thumb when he died, mummified it, and used it regularly to collect his checks.

Criminal suspects have tried almost everything in an effort to obliterate their prints, including scaring, sandpapering and burning, but all their pains have been for naught.

Although the idea of elaborate classifications is strictly modern, the Romans used a palm print in a trial in the First Century, the Chinese used fingerprint signatures in the T'ang dynasty, A.D. 618 and a Persian historian wrote in 1303 that no two prints ever are alike.

The world-wide system is growing rapidly. FBI records are linked with those of Scotland Yard and 70 other countries. Several different systems are used, the English recording only a single print while the FBI takes all 10 nicely.

New uses of fingerprints are continually being discovered. In some hospitals newly-born babies and their mothers are printed jointly in the delivery room to guard against the bogey of mix-ups in maternity wards. A national check protection organization is using an invisible thumbprint, and 45 forgery convictions have been obtained from them.

Many popular beliefs about fingerprints are myths, say the experts. For instance, picking up a murder weapon with a handkerchief does not protect the prints; it almost certainly destroys them.

Fingerprints are very fragile, until they are carefully preserved and reduced to a permanent record at the FBI. Then they become almost immortal.

Mount Pocono

Mrs. L. T. Powers

Mrs. Blanche Cramer, Pocono, was hostess on Thursday afternoon, April 19, to members of the New Home Economics Extension Group, which has been convening in the locality during the winter months under the direction of Miss Margaret MacLauren. Those attending the final meeting of the group at the Cramer home included: Mrs. B. B. Walker, Jr., and Tommy, Mrs. Louis Hopke, Mrs. Alvah Merwin III, Mrs. E. O. Headrick, Mrs. Henry Cruse, Mrs. Mildred Schutt and Miss MacLaren. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Mildred Johnson substituted as teacher in the Primary grades at the borough school on Monday and Tuesday during the absence of Mrs. S. F. Brodell, who was confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Mildred Schutt and Mrs. Adele Calkins spent Sunday night and Monday in Carlisle, Pa. Hiram Calkins, who had spent the weekend with his mother, returned with them to Carlisle where he is employed.

The American Legion Auxiliary of Poconos' Memorial Post 903 will sponsor a card party at Pocono Haven on Friday night, April 27 at 8 P. M., to which the public is invited to attend. The proceeds will be used to further the work of the Auxiliary.

PMA Offers Comparison Of Farms

To determine the worth of the Monroe County Production and Marketing program and its agricultural conservation aspects, compare cooperating farms today with these same farms as they existed 10 or 15 years ago, David H. Griffith, chairman of the county PMA board, declared yesterday.

Griffith pointed out that strip-cropping alone has made a tremendous change in Monroe county farming since 1936. In that year, very little strip-cropping was practiced here in comparison with the 345 acres in strip cultivation during the last growing season.

In addition, 163 acres of Monroe farmland were seeded into ladino pasture during 1950, another 1,035 acres were seeded in rye grass, and 282 acres of special winter cover crops were laid out.

The 411 farms participating in last year's program here also cleared a total of 82 acres of wasted acreage for new pasture and, in the woodlot preservation campaign, a total of 36,000 trees were planted.

Under the PMA program, farmers receive assistance on the share-the-cost basis in carrying out the various practices. This assistance averages about half of the out-of-pocket costs of the practices.

Griffith explained that, to be eligible for assistance under the program, practices must be carried out in accordance with specifications. This, he said, is to assure full value in results for tax payers' funds used.

Reeder Resigns As Commissioner

Easton (AP)—United States Commissioner Frank Reeder, Jr., announced yesterday he has resigned. The resignation, submitted to U. S. district court, is to be effective May 1 when he completes 25 years in the post, Reeder said. He is a former secretary of the Northampton County Bar Association.

Truck Hits Wall; Driver Killed

Wilkes-Barre (AP)—Howard Hines 45, of Hunlock Creek, was killed yesterday when his coal truck struck a stone wall and overturned near Plymouth.

Hines was trapped in the cab as the heavily loaded truck left the highway, hit the soft shoulder, rammed into a stone wall and then overturned. It required nearly an hour to free his body from the cab.

Survivors include his widow and three children, two of them twin sons.

Winner of top beauty honors: Hollywood's Society of Motion Picture Art Directors selects the 1951 Packard as "the car which embodies the most advanced concepts of automobile styling."

Car details as shown are subject to change without notice

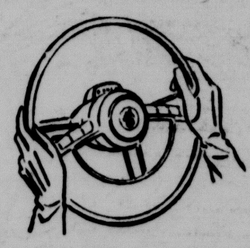
To every woman under 5-feet-5!

Packard, as you already know, has provided generously for today's giants . . .

(Examples: Seats as wide as the car is high. Enough headroom for a 6-footer wearing a cowboy hat. Largest trunk of any sedan on the road.)

Now, let's see a few typical examples of what Packard has done for the not-so-tall folks, in America's newest new car . . .

Wonderful new outlook: Packard's new kind of low-level hood gives you real "close-up safety vision" . . . lets you see both front fenders, for safer passing, dent-free parking. New one-piece windshield (nearly five feet wide) and narrower corner pillars give you a clear panoramic view.



Tops in handling ease, too—because Packard (and Packard alone) gives you Ultramatic Drive . . . with a combination of smoothness, quietness, flexibility, and positive control no other drive can match. And steering ease? Here's a car that actually handles, in traffic, with as little effort as it takes to turn a door knob in your home! Come drive it!

It's more than a car--it's a PACKARD ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

Scholarship Exam Slated For May 4

Annual State scholarship examination for Monroe county secondary school students and graduates will be conducted Friday, May 4, in Stroudsburg High school auditorium.

The three-hour examination will begin at 8:45 a. m.

According to Superintendent of Schools John C. Litts, the contest is arranged only for those who are contestants for the Pennsylvania State scholarships, 80 of which are awarded each year.

He stressed the contest is not intended as a basis for the awarding of any other scholarships, and is not to be construed as an all-senior contest.

He added that other agencies, however, are encouraged to use the results of the contest as a basis for their awards.

Students 21 or over are not eligible for the examination. Students who graduated at mid-year or who will graduate this spring are eligible for the examination.

Pupils to whom scholarships are available must attend a college or university in Pennsylvania which is approved by the State Council of Education.

Scholarship winners will receive $100 for each of the four years of college work.

Snydersville

Mrs. John McConnell
Stbg. 2021-R-1

The seventh and eighth grade pupils of the Snydersville school spent some time on Friday afternoon beautifying their school grounds by planting trees and shrubbery in front of their building. The children were divided into teams. The girls doing the one side, and the boys the other. Each team felt that its side did the better job. The rest of the afternoon was spent in singing songs, reciting poems, and giving readings in keeping with the occasion. Several vocal numbers, solos, duets and trios were also rendered.

Pfc. Glenn Shook, who has been visiting his parents and his sister, Sonia, has left by plane for Camp Atterbury, Ind., where he is stationed with the 28th Division.

Mrs. Florence Dennis and children, Shirley and Susan, and Mrs. Jennie Smith visited Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shaffer and children on Sunday.

Ernest Neyhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verdon Neyhart, spent several days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strunk, of Poplar Valley.

Edward Shaffer and daughter, Lois, visited Newton Dennis and daughter, Susan, and also Mrs. Jennie Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neyhart and children, Jimmie, Bonnie, Douglas and Diane, and Mr. and Mrs. Verdon Neyhart and children, Bobby and Ernest, called on Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strunk, of Poplar Valley, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hawley and daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bond on Monday night.

Hugh McConnell, father of John McConnell, of Snydersville, is reported resting well and his condition is listed as good at the General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller and son, Barry, called on Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neyhart and family on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shellenberger and children, Jane and Billy, visited Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kresge on Friday.

Miss Dorothy Shellhamer spent Saturday with her school companion, Miss Jean Neyhart, of Snydersville.

Foremen's Club To Entertain At Ladies Night Dinner Dance

The Monroe County Foremen's and Industrial club's ladies night dinner dance will be held Tuesday, May 1, beginning at 6:30 p. m., in Bartonsville hotel.

Samuel Zaccaro is chairman of the ladies night committee. A large attendance is expected for the affair. Yesterday nearly 100 persons had signed up for reservations.

Boutonnieres will be presented all ladies and door prizes will be awarded to both club members and guests.

Several cake walks are planned and the proceeds of these will be used to send six boys to Camp Hugh Beaver for two weeks this summer.

Music for square and ballroom dancing will be provided by Ernie Bittenbender and his orchestra.

300 County Seniors Indicate Job Preferences With Nursing, Clerical, Armed Forces Tops

Educators from Stroudsburg school district and other schools under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent yesterday continued work on a series of guidance programs which will be broadcast over WVPO.

Taking part in the job of sorting approximately 500 questions from 300 county seniors were John C. Litts, county superintendent; Walter H. Sebring, assistant superintendent; Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of East Stroudsburg public schools; Lawrence L. Wile, supervising principal of Pocono Township school, and Samuel O. Wells III, vice principal of Stroudsburg High school.

A survey of vocational preferences was made in senior classes throughout the county. The results were compiled yesterday and will be discussed by a five-member panel during the four broadcasts.

The survey revealed that first occupation choice of seniors polled was nursing. Commercial secretarial work was second.

In the third place slot was armed forces. Students indicated a desire to know about the armed forces, since the possibility of service is a very real possibility for youths in the 18-year-old bracket.

Other occupational choices in order of their preference, which students signified a desire to have more knowledge of, were airline hostess, teaching profession, medicine, agriculture, law, engineering, art and interior decorating.

Also art and interior decorating, auto mechanic, funeral director, salesman, telephone operator, television and electronics, beauty culture, veterinarian, radio, homemaking and music education.

Representative panel members will be chosen for these various vocations. Occupation will be discussed from the standpoint of advantages, disadvantages, educational requirements and opportunity.

The guidance programs, which will be transcribed and broadcast on Sundays, are being arranged by county educators as a means of aiding parents to assist their children in the choice of a successful career or vocation.

Man Gored To Death By Bull

Wilkes-Barre (AP)—An 89-year-old Roaring Brook farmer was gored to death by a Guernsey bull in a barn yesterday.

Darious Crage was the victim. The body was found by Crage's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Claude Crage.

Alloy Reduces Plane Weights

Pittsburgh (AP)—A new super-strength aluminum alloy developed by Aluminum Company of America may make it possible for future warplanes to fly faster and farther with increased bomb loads, the company claimed yesterday.

The new alloy, reported 10 per cent stronger than any aluminum alloy now in use, is available now only for experimental and controlled production. Plane weights may be reduced since less metal will be needed to meet structural strength requirements. In turn this means additional bombs, more fuel for longer range, more guns and increased speeds.

He's grown—fast!

Pearl Harbor—1941, Korea—1951. Only ten years. But in that time the Bell System's capacity to serve the Nation has literally doubled!

And the Long Distance telephone network which ties America together has grown even more. In 1941, there was very little coaxial cable in use. Radio relay was still in an experimental stage. Yet today there are 8,000 miles of coaxial cable in service—plus thousands of miles of radio relay. And Long Distance telephone circuits have increased in ten years from about 4,800,000 miles to 20,800,000.

In times like these, telephone lines are defense lines. For they are helping America rush its big production program. It's fortunate this nationwide network has grown so big, so fast.

Customers' Corner

Courtesy doesn't add anything to the high quality or superior value of the food you buy at A&P.

But it is the ingredient that makes your shopping trip a pleasant experience rather than a tiresome task.

That is why the men and women who operate your A&P work hard not only to give you prompt and efficient service, but to be courteous and friendly, as well.

They know that even the pressures of rush-hour shopping are no excuse for rudeness.

If they ever fail to make your trip to A&P a pleasant one, they want to know about it. Please write:

Britain Asks Help

London, (AP)—The British Labor government, shaken by left-wing thunderings, called for American help has to check a raw materials crisis threatening the nation's economy. U. S. Secretary of State Acheson pledged at a Washington news conference that the United States will take "full account of essential needs" of friendly nations in allocating scarce raw materials.
